In Stanley's Footsteps:

In Stanley's Footsteps ... E. Hughes, 1891 Imperial Footprints James L. Newman, 2004 Dr Livingstone I presume The man who uttered those famous words was compared with Christopher Columbus in his day and became one of the late nineteenth century's most newsworthy figures Yet one hundred years after Henry Morton Stanley's death his accomplishments in Africa have largely receded from public memory or have been discredited as epitomizing the wrongs inflicted by the scourge of European colonialism and its scramble for Africa While numerous writers have attempted to describe the man sometimes through highly speculative means our understanding of the most notable aspect of Stanley's life his relationship to the continent isn't much more advanced than it was one hundred years ago To fill this void James L Newman re-creates Stanley's seven epic African journeys explaining why he made them what transpired en route and what resulted He highlights Stanley's determination to succeed despite incredible odds and his various relationships with the people who enabled him to accomplish his objectives And while he acknowledges Stanley's less admirable traits such as his penchant for stretching the truth his capacity to be ruthless and his tendency to demean others Newman refuses to engage in facile speculation Instead he focuses on the words and deeds of a man who played a major role in shaping today's Africa James L Newman's in-depth research detailed descriptions and vivid prose make Stanley and Africa both a fascinating read and a notable contribution to the study of Africa exploration and the age of empire H. M. Stanley A. J. A. Symons, 2013-05-31 This book was originally published in 1933 as part of the Great Lives Series Henry Morton Stanley was a Welsh American journalist and explorer famous for his exploration of central Africa and his search for Scottish missionary and explorer David Livingstone Here is presented his biography includes his early life and travels and the stories of the major events in Stanley's life Travel Writing and Re-Enactment Lucas Tromly, 2023-09-07 Travel Writing and Re Enactment Echotourism explores the popular subgenre of travel narratives that re-enact historically prominent journeys Drawing on philosopher Walter Benjamin this monograph reads such re-enactments as quests for aura in which travellers seek to capture a sense of distinction and historical profundity Travel Writing and Re Enactment frames the re-enactment of past journeys in a number of contexts including Benjamin's writing on mechanical reproduction Judith Butler's work on gender performance and postmodern parody Echotourist journeys are surprisingly contingent and precarious and force travellers to navigate historical changes involving empire gender and travel practice in densely performative ways Through close readings of contemporary travel narratives this monograph considers the legacies of Lord Byron Charles Darwin Graham Greene Mary Kingsley and Ernest Shackleton among others Travel Writing and Re Enactment examines the way literary re-enactment expresses and sometimes confounds the desire to find meaning through travel in the contemporary world The Dark Continent? Frits Andersen, 2015-12-31 Africa a forgotten continent that evades all attempts at control and transcends reason Or does it This book describes Europe's image of Africa and relates how the conception of the Dark

Continent has been fabricated in European culture with the Congo as an analytical focal point It also demonstrates that the myth was more than a creation of colonial propaganda the Congo reform movement the first international human rights movement spread horror stories that still have repercussions today The book cross examines a number of witness testimonies reports and novels from Stanley s travelogues and Conrad s Heart of Darkness to Herge s Tintin and Burroughs Tarzan as well as recent Danish and international Congo literature The Dark Continent proposes that the West s attitudes to Africa regarding free trade emergency aid and intervention are founded on the literary historical assumptions of stories and narrative forms that have evolved since 1870

Conrad's Secrets R. Hampson,2012-08-13 Conrad s Secrets explores a range of knowledges which would have been familiar to Conrad and his original readers Drawing on research into trade policing sexual and financial scandals changing theories of trauma and contemporary war crimes the book provides contexts for Conrad s fictions and produces original readings of his work

The Last Expedition Daniel Liebowitz,Charles Pearson,2005 Henry Morton Stanley undertook the greatest African expedition of the 19th century to rescue Emin Pasha last lieutenant of the martyred General Gordon and governor of the southern Sudan Instead of ten months the trip took three years and cost the lives of thousands of people as Stanley s column hacked its way across the last great unexplored territory in Africa Stanley s secret agenda was territorial expansion on the model of Leopold s Congo or the British East India Company

Congo Sean Rorison,2008 A guide to visiting the Democratic Republic of Congo and the Republic of Congo that provides an overview of the countries geography climate history government culture politics and economy and offers information on accommodations transportation entertainment shopping nightlife attractions restaurants and sights

In Stanley's footsteps, a voluntary tribute to his work in Africa Eilian Hughes,1891
