In the Presence of Audience Deborah Martinson, 2003 Martinson examines the diaries of Virginia Woolf Katherine Mansfield Violet Hunt and Doris Lessing's fictional character Anna Wulf She argues that these diaries and others like them are not entirely private writings but that their authors wrote them knowing they would be read She argues that the audience is the author's male lover or husband and describes how knowledge of this audience affects the language and content in each diary She argues that this audience enforces a certain male censorship which changes the shape of the revelations and of the In the Presence of Audience Deborah Martinson,2003 Modernism and Autobiography Maria DiBattista, Emily O. Wittman, 2014-09-15 This volume offers sixteen original essays that attest to the extraordinary inventiveness and range of modernist autobiography It examines the ways modernist writers chose to tell their life stories with particular attention to forms venues modes of address and degrees of truthfulness. The essays are grouped around a set of rubrics that isolate the distinctive character and shared preoccupations of modernist life writings questions of ancestry and tradition that foreground the modernists troubled relation to their immediate familial as well as cultural past their emergence as writers whose experiences found expression in untraditional and singular forms their sense of themselves as survivors of personal and historical traumas and their burdens as self chroniclers of loss especially of self loss It will appeal especially to scholars and students of literary modernism and English literature more generally Modernism and Physical Illness Peter Fifield, 2020-07-08 T S Eliot memorably said that separation of the man who suffers from the mind that creates is the root of good poetry This book argues that this is wrong Beginning from Virginia Woolf's On Being Ill it demonstrates that modernism is on the contrary invested in physical illness as a subject method and stylizing force Experience of physical ailments from the fleeting to the fatal the familiar to the unusual structures the writing of the modernists both as sufferers and onlookers Illness reorients the relation to and appearance of the world making it appear newly strange it determines the character of human interactions and models of behaviour As a topic illness requires new ways of writing and thinking altered ideas of the subject and a re examination of the roles of invalids and carers This book reads the work five authors who are also known for their illness hypochondria or medical work D H Lawrence Virginia Woolf T S Eliot Dorothy Richardson and Winifred Holtby It overturns the assumption that illness is a simple obstacle to creativity and instead argues that it is a subject of careful thought and cultural significance The Bloomsbury Handbook to Katherine Mansfield Todd Martin, 2020-12-10 Through her formally innovative and psychologically insightful short stories Katherine Mansfield is increasingly recognised as one of the central figures in early 20th century modernism Bringing together leading and emerging scholars and covering her complete body of work this is the most comprehensive volume to Mansfield scholarship available today The Bloomsbury Handbook to Katherine Mansfield covers the full range of contemporary scholarly themes and approaches to the author's work including New biographical insights including into the early New Zealand years

Responses to the historical crises the Great War empire and orientalism Mansfield's fiction poetry criticism and private writing Mansfield and modernist culture from Bloomsbury to the little magazines Mansfield and her contemporaries Woolf Lawrence and von Arnim Mansfield and the arts visual culture cinema and music The book also includes a substantial annotated bibliography of key works of Mansfield scholarship from the last 30 years Mapping British Women Writers' Urban Imaginaries Arina Cirstea, 2016-01-13 This study provides an alternative to the postmodern tradition of writing about the city by exploring spatialized constructions of gender and spiritual identity through an integrative framework based on insights from Bachelard's topoanalysis psychogeography feminist cultural theory and comparative literature and religion

Women and Literature Jolanda Cornish, 2008-05 Essays exploring women's worlds using literary works diaries or travel The Victorian Diary Anne-Marie Millim, 2016-02-17 In her examination of neglected diaristic texts Anne Marie narratives Millim expands the field of Victorian diary criticism by complicating the conventional notion of diaries as mainly private sources of biographical information She argues that for Elizabeth Rigby Eastlake Henry Crabb Robinson George Eliot George Gissing John Ruskin Edith Simcox and Gerard Manley Hopkins the exposure or publication of their diaries was a real possibility that they either coveted or feared Millim locates the diary at the intersection of the public and private spheres to show that well known writers and public figures of both sexes exploited the diary's self reflexive diurnal structure in order to enhance their creativity and establish themselves as authors Their object was to manage rather than to indulge or repress their emotions for the purposes of perfecting their observational and critical skills Reading these diaries as literary works in their own right Millim analyses their crucial role in the construction of authorship By relating these Victorian writers diaries to their publications and to contemporary works of cultural criticism Millim shows the multifarious ways in which diaristic practices emotional management and professional output corresponded to experiences of the literary marketplace and to nineteenth century codes of propriety Virginia Woolf Jeanne Dubino, 2014-11-30 No detailed description available for Katherine Mansfield and Literary Modernism Janet Wilson, Gerri Kimber, Susan Reid, 2011-05-05 Katherine Virginia Woolf Mansfield's arrival in London in 1908 marked the start of her professional career as a writer and this study marks a revival of her reputation as one of the foremost practitioners of the short story. The international line up of contributors attests to Mansfield's global appeal By discussing her fiction in relation to her life the contributors to this critical work present reinterpretations and readings Enhanced by new transcriptions of manuscripts and access to her diaries and letters these readings combine biographical approaches with critical theoretical ones and focus not only on philosophy and fiction but class and gender biography autobiography The historical and aesthetic studies of Mansfield's work all take place within a framework of modernist literature criticism and theory thereby expanding our understanding of what it means to be a Modernist while allocating Mansfield a firm place in any current study of Modernism Women, Sex, and Madness Breanne Fahs, 2019-07-22 Covering a wide variety of subjects and points of inquiry on women's sexuality from genital anxieties about pubic hair to constructions of the body in the therapy room this book offers a ground breaking examination of women sex and madness drawing from psychology gender and sexuality studies and cultural studies Breanne Fahs argues that women s sexuality embodies a permanent state of tension between cultural impulses of destruction and selfishness contrasted with the fundamental possibilities of subversiveness and joy Emphasizing cultural social and personal narratives about sexuality Fahs asks readers to imagine sex bodies and madness as intertwined and to see these narratives as fluid contested and changing With topics as diverse as anarchist visions of sexual freedom sexualized emotion work lesbian haunted houses and the insidious workings of capitalism Fahs conceptualizes sexuality as a force of regressive moral panics and profound inequalities deployed in both blatant and more subtle ways onto the body while also finding hope and resistance in the possibilities of sexuality By integrating clinical case studies cultural studies qualitative interviews and original essays Fahs offers a provocative new vision for sexuality that fuses together social anxieties and cultural madness through a critical feminist psychological approach Fahs provides an original and accessible volume for students and academics in psychology gender and sexuality studies and cultural studies Routledge Handbook of Art, Science, and Technology Studies Hannah Rogers, Megan Halpern, Dehlia Hannah, Kathryn de Ridder-Vignone, 2021-12-22 Art and science work is experiencing a dramatic rise coincident with burgeoning Science and Technology Studies STS interest in this area Science has played the role of muse for the arts inspiring imaginative reconfigurations of scientific themes and exploring their cultural resonance Conversely the arts are often deployed in the service of science communication illustration and popularization STS scholars have sought to resist the instrumentalization of the arts by the sciences emphasizing studies of theories and practices across disciplines and the distinctive and complementary contributions of each The manifestation of this commonality of creative and epistemic practices is the emergence of Art Science and Technology Studies ASTS as the interdisciplinary exploration of art science This handbook defines the modes practices crucial literature and research interests of this emerging field It explores the questions methodologies and theoretical implications of scholarship and practice that arise at the intersection of art and STS Further ASTS demonstrates how the arts are intervening in STS Drawing on methods and concepts derived from STS and allied fields including visual studies performance studies design studies science communication and aesthetics and the knowledge of practicing artists and curators ASTS is predicated on the capacity to see both art and science as constructions of human knowledge making Accordingly it posits a new analytical vernacular enabling new ways of seeing understanding and thinking critically about the world This handbook provides scholars and practitioners already familiar with the themes and tensions of art science with a means of connecting across disciplines It proposes organizing principles for thinking about art science across the sciences social sciences humanities and arts Encounters with art and science become meaningful in relation to practices and materials manifest as perceptual habits background knowledge and cultural norms As the chapters in this handbook demonstrate a variety of STS tools can be
