The Little Flowers of Saint Francis Brother Ugolino, 2012-08-01 These stories of St Francis and his first followers have inspired millions of people over the centuries Since they were first committed to paper they were told to inspire people to become better followers of Jesus not St Francis For that reason they have endured unlike any other early Franciscan literature Many of the stories are known to us from other biographical sources but in some cases here they are expanded or made more florid This edition of The Little Flowers is unique in its physical beauty as well as its editorial arrangement For the first time the stories have been arranged in the most likely chronological ordering of when they happened rather than following the traditional ordering of them handed down for centuries As a result today's reader is now able to read The Little Flowers as a biographical narrative of the life of St Francis and the world transforming movement that he founded occurs three times in the Actus. Written a century and a half after the death of Francis of Assisi, the text is not regarded as an important primary source for the saint's biography. However, it has been the most popular account of his life and relates many colourful anecdotes, miracles and pious examples from the lives of Francis and his followers such as Saint Juniper. These poetic stories shed much light upon the genesis and development of the following of Saint Francis. Indeed, some stories contained in the Fioretti can be found in much earlier works; for example, Saint Francis preaching to the birds was described by Fra Masseo and written of by the Englishman Roger of Wendover in 1236. The text was the inspiration for the Roberto Rossellini's 1950 film Francesco giullare di Dio (Francis God's Jester), which was co-written by Federico Fellini. It was also used as a source for the libretto of Olivier Messiaen's opera Saint François d'Assise.
