Little Big Of Life:

Little Me Can Live a Big Life Peter Allman, 2009-04-30 One of the authors favorite New Yorker cartoons depicts Charles Dickens discussing his manuscript with an editor The editor is saying I wish you would make up your mind Mr Dickens Was it the best of times or the worst of times It could scarcely have been both This humorous message captures the concrete either or thinking that can cause a person to get stuck while on his or her journey towards living a bigger life Peter Allman has written a unique compelling yet simple collection of paradoxes that invite the reader to unlock the mystery of living a bigger life that includes the both and thinking of paradoxes This book helps the reader to integrate paradoxical truths Each chapter is drawn from the authors personal experiences as a psychotherapist adjunct professor of undergraduate and graduate psychology classes sought after public speaker co founder and president of a non profit after school center for disadvantaged adolescents husband and father The Western mind and the left brain have ignored much of the depth of true spirituality by ignoring its invariably paradoxical character Peter Allman does an immense service by holding and yet revealing great paradoxes in a very creative tension This book could change the way you hear spiritual texts and teachers and the way you will grow from now on Richard Rohr O F M author of Everything Belongs The Gift of Contemplative Prayer

The Cultural Life of Images Brian Leigh Molyneaux,2013-10-18 Pictures are often admired for their aesthetic merits but they are rarely treated as if they had as much to offer as the written word They are often overlooked as objects of analysis themselves and tend to be seen simply as adjuncts to the text Images however are not passive and have a direct impact that engages attention in ways independent of any specific text Advertising entertainment and propaganda have realised the extent of this power to shape ideas but the scientific community has hitherto neglected the ways in which visual material conditions the ways in which we think With subjects including prehistoric artworks excavation illustrations artists impressions of ancient sites and peoples and contemporary landscapes photographs and drawings this study explores how pictures shape our perceptions and our expectations of the past This volume is not concerned with the accuracy of pictures from the past or directly about the past itself but is interested instead in why certain subjects are selected why they are depicted the way they are and what effects such images have on our idea of the past This collection constitutes a ground breaking study in historiography which radically reassesses the ways that history can be written
