reflection with historical analysis and cultural and literary criticism these essays are a sharp illuminating response to the nation's continuing racial conflicts Ron Charles The Washington Post In We Can't Breathe Jabari Asim disrupts what Toni Morrison has exposed as the Master Narrative and replaces it with a story of black survival and persistence through art and community in the face of centuries of racism In eight wide ranging and penetrating essays he explores such topics as the twisted legacy of jokes and falsehoods in black life the importance of black fathers and community the significance of black writers and stories and the beauty and pain of the black body What emerges is a rich portrait of a community and culture that has resisted survived and flourished despite centuries of racism violence and trauma These thought provoking essays present a different side of American history one that doesn't depend on a narrative steeped in oppression but rather reveals black voices telling their own stories
