Getting to the Core of Literacy for History/Social Studies, Science, and Technical Subjects, Grades 6–12 Vicky Giouroukakis, Maureen Connolly, 2013-05-14 Literacy is not just for English teachers anymore. The new Common Core English Language Arts Standards aren't just for English teachers. Fluent reading and writing are critically important to the study of history, social studies, science, and technical subjects too. What's more, the progress your students make is directly tied to their ability to process information they read and to express their ideas in writing. So how do you make literacy a focus of your teaching without taking time away from essential content? This practical resource, packed with teacher-tested CCSS-based sample lessons, shows you how using the Backward Design approach to set and meet your goals. Each lesson template includes the teaching strategies you'll utilize, ways to incorporate technology and media, variations for differentiation and interdisciplinary connections, links to the work of major educational theorists. Following these models, you'll set the CCSS in your sights and develop lessons that both meet standards and fit your classroom. Before you know it, you'll be infusing reading and writing across your curriculum in purposeful and meaningful ways.

Research Methods: The Basics Nicholas Walliman, 2017-09-13 Research Methods: The Basics is an accessible, user-friendly introduction to the different aspects of research theory, methods, and practice. This second edition provides an expanded resource suitable for students and practitioners in a wide range of disciplines, including the natural sciences, social sciences, and humanities. Structured in two parts, the first covering the nature of knowledge and the reasons for research, the second the specific methods used to carry out effective research and how to propose, plan, carry out, and write up a research project, this book covers: Reasons for doing a research project; Structuring and planning a research project; The ethical issues involved in research; Different types of data and how they are measured; Collecting and analysing qualitative and quantitative data in order to draw sound conclusions; Mixed methods and interdisciplinary research; Devising a research proposal and writing up the research; Motivation and quality of work. Complete with a glossary of key terms and guides to further reading, this book is an essential text for anyone coming to research for the first time.

Writing in Elementary School Social Studies Barry K. Beyer, Robert Gilstrap, 1982 This book is designed to provide elementary school teachers with information, suggestions, and models for using writing in the social studies from early primary to middle grades. There are four major chapters to the book. Chapter I is titled "Research on the Teaching of Writing." The articles in this first section move from a survey of research in writing to a survey of classroom practice in the use of writing in elementary school social studies and finally to a specific classroom study that integrates the two areas and presents specific implications for the study and teaching of writing. Chapter II is titled "Developing Readiness in Writing." The first two articles stress two important aspects of a classroom environment that nurtures and supports student writing. The remaining five articles describe techniques such as interviewing, exploring the past, and brainstorming that teachers can use to initiate writing. The title of Chapter III, which contains seven articles, is "Using Writing to Learn Social Studies Content." The articles describe ways in which writing can be used to help students learn social studies information or develop social studies generalizations. Another describes how writing can be used to conduct simulated field trips in the social studies classroom The title of Chapter IV is Combining Writing with Social Studies Discussed are three essential supports for a successful program a detailed curriculum guide inservice teacher training and cooperative teacher administrator assessment procedures The book also cites related resources in the ERIC system Author RM Resources in Education ,1994-08 The Assessment of L2 Written English across the MENA Region Lee McCallum,Christine Coombe,2020-12-19 This edited book brings together contributions from different educational contexts across the Middle East and North Africa MENA in order to explore how L2 English writing is assessed Across seven MENA countries the book covers aspects of practice including task design and curriculum alignment test re development rubric design the subjective decision making that underpins assessing students writing and feedback provision learner performance and how research methods help shed light on initiatives to improve student writing In such coverage chapter authors provide concrete evidence of how assessment practice is governed by their unique context yet also influenced by international standards trends and resources This book will be of interest to second language teachers assessors and programme developers as well as test designers and evaluators Designing and Managing Your Research Project David Robert Thomas,Ian D Hodges,2010-10-04 This book provides information about the key areas needed for a successful project It includes software skills developing research objectives writing proposals literature reviews getting ethics approval seeking funding managing a project communicating research findings and writing reports There is also a chapter on working as an independent researcher The book includes numerous examples checklists and practical exercises designed to assist the learning of research skills and the completion of crucial project tasks It covers procedures needed for conducting projects electronically and accessing information from the Internet The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2006
