Teaching respect for all: implementation guide UNESCO, 2014-07-14 Tell it Like it is Brian Richardson, 2007

South Asian Communities Sofia Chanda-Gool, 2006 This book draws on the strengths that characterize communities and shows how these strengths can be put to use in improving education Inspired by the South Asian communities with whom she worked the author considers also Black African and dual heritage communities Her ethnographic approach used a methodology specifically addressing the imbalance of power so that the suggestions and initiatives are led by the communities themselves Members of a community have the greatest knowledge of their own culture and of cross cultural challenges This makes the book uniquely valuable The book combines findings from the study analysis and theory with practical approaches Each chapter concludes with creative applications in the classroom what the children can do The suggestions for lesson plans and activities are based on the children s own knowledge and socio cognitive development South Asian Communities will be invaluable for all those who work or intend to work with South Asian communities With its extensive references to sociological and psychological research it will be of interest to students of sociology cultural studies and social psychology and its attention to issues of globalization and western society will attract an international audience

Enseigner le respect pour tous UNESCO, 2015-02-02 MultiCultural Review ,2005 Joyce in the Belly of the Big Truck; Workbook Joyce A. Cascio, 2005-05 Deep Equality in an Era of Religious Diversity Lori G.

Beaman,2017-06-02 While religious conflict receives plenty of attention the everyday negotiation of religious diversity does not Questions of how to accommodate religious minorities and of the limits of tolerance resonate in a variety of contexts and have become central preoccupations for many Western democracies What might we see if we turned our attention to the positive narratives and success stories of the everyday working out of religious difference Rather than tolerance and accommodation and through the stories of ordinary people this book traces deep equality which is found in the respect humour and friendship of seemingly mundane interactions Deep Equality in an Era of Religious Diversity shows that the telling of such stories can create an alternative narrative to that of diversity as a problem to be solved It explores the non event or micro processes of interaction that constitute the foundation for deep equality and the conditions under which deep equality emerges exists and sometimes flourishes Through a systematic search for and examination of such narratives Lori G Beaman demonstrates the possibility of uncovering revealing and recovering deep equality a recovery that is vital to living in an increasingly diverse society In achieving deep equality identities are fluid shifting in importance and structure as social interaction unfolds Rigid identity imaginings especially religious identities block our vision to the complexities of social life and press us into corners that trap us in identities that we often ourselves do not recognize want or know how to escape Although the focus of this study is deep equality and its existence and persistence in relation to religious difference deep equality is located beyond the realm of religion Beaman draws from the work of those whose primary focus is not in fact religion and who are doing their own deep equality work in other domains illustrating especially why equality matters By retelling and exploring stories of negotiation it is possible to reshape our social imaginary to better facilitate what works which varies from place to place and time to time

Contesting Indonesia Kirsten E. Schulze,2024-10-15 Contesting Indonesia explains Islamist separatist and communal violence across Indonesian history since 1945 In a sweeping argument that connects endemic violence to a national narrative Kirsten E Schulze finds that the outbreak of violence is related to competing local notions of the national imaginary as well as contentious belonging Through detailed examination of six case studies the Darul Islam rebellions Jemaah Islamiyah s jihad and the conflicts in East Timor Aceh Poso and Ambon Schulze argues that violence was more likely to occur in places that are on the geographic ideological ethnic and religious periphery of the Indonesian state that violence by non state actors was most protracted in locations where there was a well established alternative national imaginary supported by an alternative historical narrative and that violence by the state was most likely in places where the state had a significant territorial interest Drawing on a vast collection of interviews and archival and published sources Contesting Indonesia provides a new understanding of the history of violence across the Indonesian archipelago
