John Betjemans Oxford:

John Betjeman's Oxford John Betjeman, 1990 John Betjeman William S. Peterson, 2006 Sir John Betjeman 1906
1984 Poet Laureate was probably the most widely read English poet of the twentieth century Because of his frequent appearances on radio and television and his fervent devotion to the preservation of England's architectural heritage his face and voice became familiar to millions Few other poets of any century have had such a powerful influence on their contemporaries This bibliography lists and describes all of his known writings including his own books ephemera contributions to periodicals and to books by others lectures and radio and television programmes Other categories such as editorships music settings and dramatic adaptations of his poems recordings and interviews are also included as well as a section devoted to writings about him Manuscripts and drafts of all his works are described in detail This enormous body of material is thoroughly indexed cross referenced and in most cases annotated Now at last the activities of this remarkable man both a poet and a cultural phenomenon can be seen in their full breadth and complexity John Betjeman Greg Morse, 2012 John Betjeman was undoubtedly the most popular Poet Laureate since Tennyson But beneath the thoroughly modern window on Britain that he opened during his lifetime lay the influence of his nineteenth century forbears This book explores his identity through such Victorianism via the verse of that period but also its architecture religious faith and more importantly religious doubt It was nevertheless a process which took time In the 1930s Betjeman's work was tinted with modernism and traditionalism He found Victorian buildings funny and wrote much in praise of the Bauhaus style even though his early poetry was peppered with Victorian references This leaning was incorporated into a greater sense of purpose during World War 2 when he transformed himself from precious humorist into propagandist The resulting sense of cohesion grew when the dangers of post war urban redevelopment heightened the need to critique the present via the poetics of the past a mood which continued up to and beyond his gaining the Laureateship in 1972 This duty proved to be a millstone so the official poems are thus explored by the author more fully than hitherto The conclusion of looks back to Betjeman's 1960 verse autobiography Summoned by Bells which is seen as the apogee of his achievement and a snapshot of his identity Included here is the first critical appreciation of the lyrics embodied within the text which are taken as a map of the young poet's literary growth Larkin's 1959 question What exactly is Betjeman then leads to a final appraisal of his originality as evidenced by his glances towards postmodernism feminism and post colonialism The fact is that Betjeman never quite fits in anywhere He is always a square peg in a round hole or a round peg in a square hole often for the sheer enjoyment of so being In a sense his desire to be as non conformist as a Quaker meeting house makes him a radical rather than the reactionary that his interests imply He was a champion of beauty and the British Isles and clearly did much to make us see the worth of our Victorian forebears Greg Morse's book highlights this important facet of his work An Oxford University Chest John Betjeman, László Moholy-Nagy, Osbert Lancaster, 1938 John Betjeman Collected Poems John Betjeman, 2006-06-29

Collected Poems made publishing history when it first appeared and has now sold more than two million copies to an ever growing readership This newly expanded edition includes Betjeman s verse autobiography Summoned by Bells With a new Introduction by Poet Laureate Andrew Motion Collected Poems is the definitive Betjeman companion John Betjeman's Collected Poems John Betjeman,1972 An Oxford University Chest John Betjeman,1979 First published in 1938 under the title An Oxford University Chest this volume presents a treasure house of amusing sketches of university life lyrical tributes to Oxford s pastoral pleasures and characteristically pungent architectural judgments Betjeman devotes more than a third of the book to an architectural tour of the town and university buildings enlivening the factual information with anecdotes and accounts of relevant historical events Moholy Nagy s remarkable photographs Osbert Lancaster s line drawings and etchings of the town s magnificent buildings complement Betjeman s text Anti-Sport Sentiments in Literature John Bale,2007-11-05 This book draws on literature specifically on the writings of selected novelists and poets to widen an existing anti sport discourse to include hitherto excluded voices from the world of literature The book commences with a review of exiting pro and anti sport discourses and then proceeds to examine in turn the written works of five eminent authors excavating from their writings their anti sports rhetorics These writers are Lewis Carroll Charles Dodgson Charles Hamilton Sorley Jerome K Jerome John Betjeman and Alan Sillitoe In its conclusion the book draws together the broad themes discussed in the preceding chapters Innovative in its approach to sport and literature and remarkable for its not having been previously explored in any depth this book will be of interest to readers from both social sciences and humanities backgrounds Cathedrals of Learning Blaise Cronin,2016-08-09 Cathedrals of Learning Great and Ancient Universities of Western Europe provides a conspectus of the great Western European universities pithily tells their life stories showcases their architectural heritage and describes the art literary and natural history collections they have accumulated over the centuries This book profiles the ancient universities and their distinctive organizational cultures reveals their customs ceremonies and traditions their quirks and quiddities recounts their complicated histories describes their architectural wonders libraries museums anatomy theaters botanical gardens and treasures rare manuscripts antiquities paintings and objects d art of all kinds and introduces their famous alumni distinguished scholars Nobel Prize winning scientists and famously eccentric personalities It is a book for scholars researchers and anyone interested in these ancient institutions that remain centers of learning in the contemporary world Contains a collection of mini biographies pen portraits of some of the world s most venerable universities Offers twelve institutional biographies that can be used to compare universities and their complex histories Written in an easy and rigorous style with accessible coverage Compiled by a leading figure in information science with a wide experience of great universities and the trends with which they are associated John Betjeman John Betjeman,1997 From 1930 until shortly before his death he shared with countless readers listeners and viewers his remarkably catholic passion for books people and places Coming home gathers together a selection from over four decades of his writing about buildings townscape and landscape together with appreciation of writers artists and architects ranging from Evelyn Waugh Pugin and T S Eliot to R S Thomas Fredrick Etchells and Jacob Epstein Candida Lycett Green s prefaces to each section of this book provide invaluable insight into the context in which these pieces were written by one of the century s most eloquent champions of beautiful unusual and often unloved places and buildings

Faith and Doubt of John Betjeman Kevin J. Gardner, 2006-08-30 Sir John Betjeman was one of the twentieth century s great makers of the Christian imagination He was maybe the most significant literary figure of our time to declare his Christian faith and his terror of dying Betjeman used his formidable gifts for poetry to show us how to think about the Anglican faith and about Englishness and Christianity in general Here is an anthology of about 75 poems on religious themes with clarifying footnotes and a critical introduction that offers an overview of his life and poetry as well as a commentary on some of his more difficult poems Here is a new perspective on Betjeman s life and beliefs This new edition of Betjeman s religious poetry will demonstrate that Betjeman is the great poet of the Church in the twentieth century it will also introduce delightful accessible and important poetry to new readers It will suggest to both British and American readers ways of thinking about spiritual cultural and ecclesiastical matters as well as about the intersection of literature and art

John Betjeman's Early Poems John Betjeman, 1986 This collection of poetry includes poems written between 1932 and 1948 comprising selections from Mount Zion Continual Dew Old Lights for New Chancels New Bats for Old Belfries and selected poems

Miscellaneous Verdicts Anthony Powell, 1992-07 Miscellaneous Verdicts represents the best of Anthony Powell s critical writing over a period of four decades Drawn from his regular reviews for the Daily Telegraph from his occasional humorous pieces for Punch and from his more sustained pieces of critical and anecdotal writing on writers this collection is as witty fresh surprising and entertaining as one would expect from the author of Dance to the Music of Time Powell begins with a section on the British exploring his fascination both with genealogy and with figures like John Aubrey and writing in depth about writers like Kipling Conrad and Hardy The second section on America also opens with discussions of family trees in this case presidential ones and includes pieces on Henry James James Thurber American booksellers in Paris Hemingway and Dashiell Hammett Personal encounters and absorbing incidents from the lives of his subjects frequently fill these pages as they do even more in the section on Powell s contemporaries Connolly Orwell Graham Greene and others Finally and aptly the book closes with a section on Proust and matters Proustian including a marvellous essay on what is eaten and drunk and by whom in A la Recherche du Temps Perdu An urbane book quietly erudite very sensible highly civilized remarkably useful

Anthony Burgess Observer An acute intelligence and fastidious sense of humor make Powell the funniest and most profound living writer of the English language Hugh Montgomery Massingberd Sunday Telegraph Anthony Powell was born in London in 1905 He is the author of seven novels a biography of John Aubrey two plays a collection of memoirs and the twelve volume novel sequence Dance to the Music of Time

Twentieth Century Industrial Archaeology Michael Stratton, Barrie

Trinder,2014-04-04 This book examines the industrial monuments of twentieth century Britain Each chapter takes a specific theme and examines it in the context of the buildings and structure of the twentieth century The authors are both leading experts in the field having written widely on various aspects of the subject In this new and comprehensive survey they respond to the growing interest in twentieth century architecture and industrial archaeology The book is well illustrated with superb and unique illustrations drawn from the archives of the Royal Commission on the Historical Monuments of England It will mark and celebrate the end of the century with a tribute to its remarkable built industrial heritage Bringing Art to Life Andrew Horrall,2009-09-14 In 1959 Alan Jarvis the brilliant and charismatic director of the National Gallery of Canada was forced to resign following a disagreement with the government over the purchase of works by European Old Masters He never fully recovered from this dismissal or the public humiliation that followed succumbing to alcoholism in a little over a decade Moholy-Nagy Lloyd C. Engelbrecht,2009 John Betjeman John Press,1974 Photographs and text trace the life of Franklin Delano Roosevelt from his birth in 1882 through his youth early political career and presidency to his death in Warm Springs Georgia in 1945 Sir John Betjeman Margaret L. Stapleton,1974 John Betjeman Derek Stanford,1961

The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson,I. R. Willison,1972-12-07 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 4 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries
