Muir's Last Journey John Muir, 2013-04-10 I am now writing up some notes but when they will be ready for publication I do not know It will be a long time before anything is arranged in book form These words of John Muir written in June 1912 to a friend proved prophetic The journals and notes to which the great naturalist and environmental figure was referring have languished unpublished and virtually untouched for nearly a century Until now Here edited and published for the first time John Muir s travel journals from 1911 12 along with his associated correspondence finally allow us to read in his own words the remarkable story of John Muir s last great journey Leaving from Brooklyn New York in August 1911 John Muir at the age of seventy three and traveling alone embarked on an eight month 40 000 mile voyage to South America and Africa The 1911 12 journals and correspondence reproduced in this volume allow us to travel with him up the great Amazon into the jungles of southern Brazil to snowline in the Andes through southern and central Africa to the headwaters of the Nile and across six oceans and seas in order to reach the rare forests he had so long wished to study Although this epic journey has received almost no attention from the many commentators on Muir s work Muir himself considered it among the most important of his life and the fulfillment of a decades long dream John Muir s Last Journey provides a rare glimpse of a Muir whose interests as a naturalist traveler and conservationist extended well beyond the mountains of California It also helps us to see John Muir as a different kind of hero one whose endurance and intellectual curiosity carried him into far fields of adventure even as he aged and as a private person and family man with genuine affections ambitions and fears not just an iconic representative of American wilderness With an introduction that sets Muir s trip in the context of his life and work along with chapter introductions and a wealth of explanatory notes the book adds important dimensions to our appreciation of one of America s greatest environmentalists John Muir s Last Journey is a must reading for students and scholars of environmental history American literature natural history and related fields as well as for naturalists and armchair travelers everywhere John

John Muir and the Ice That Started a Fire Kim Heacox, 2014-04-01. A dual biography of two of the most compelling elements in the narrative of wild America: John Muir and Alaska. John Muir was a fascinating man who was many things: inventor, scientist, revolutionary, druid, a modern-day Celtic priest, husband, son, father, and friend, and a shining son of the Scottish Enlightenment both in temperament and intellect. Kim Heacox, author of The Only Kayak, brings us a story that evolves as Muir's life did, from one of outdoor adventure into one of ecological guardianship. Muir went from impassioned author to leading activist. The book is not just an engaging and dramatic profile of Muir but an expose on glaciers and their importance in the world today. Muir shows us how one person changed America, helped it embrace its wilderness, and in turn gave us a better world. December 2014 will mark the 100th anniversary of Muir's death. Muir died of a broken heart, some say, when Congress voted to approve the building of Hetch Hetchy Dam in Yosemite National Park. Perhaps in the greatest piece of environmental symbolism in the U.S. in a long time, on the California ballot this November is a measure to dismantle the Hetch Hetchy Dam. Muir's legacy is that he reordered our priorities and contributed to a new scientific revolution that was picked up a generation later by Aldo Leopold and Rachel Carson and is championed today by influential writers like E.O. Wilson and Jared Diamond. Heacox will take us into how Muir changed our world, advanced the science of glaciology and popularized geology, how he got people out there, how he gave America a new vision of Alaska and of itself.

Ecological Restoration and the U.S. Nature and Environmental Writing Tradition Laura Smith, 2022-01-12. This book presents a critical history of the intersections between American environmental literature and ecological restoration policy and practice. Through a storying, restorying, restoring framework, this book explores how entanglements between writers and places have produced literary interventions in restoration politics. The book considers the ways literary landscapes are politicized by writers themselves and by conservationists, activists, policymakers, and others in defense of U.S. public lands and the idea of wilderness. The book profiles five environmental writers and examines how their writings on nature, wilderness, conservation, preservation, and restoration have variously inspired and been translated into ecological restoration programs and campaigns by environmental organizations. The featured authors are Henry David Thoreau (1817-1862) at Walden Pond; John Muir (1838-1914) in Yosemite National Park; Aldo Leopold (1887-1948) at his family's Wisconsin sand farm; Marjory Stoneman Douglas (1890-1998) in the Everglades; and Edward Abbey (1927-1989) in Glen Canyon. This book combines environmental history, literature, biography, philosophy, and politics in a commentary on considering and developing environmental literature's place in conversations on restoration, ecology, ecological restoration, andrewilding.
