Labor Movement Harald Bauder,2006-02-23 Discusses the international mobility of workers Labor Movement Harald Bauder,2006-02-23 Aiming to unravel the web of regulatory labor market processes related to international migration this book illustrates how social distinction cultural judgement and citizenship subordinate international and foreign workers It presents case studies in Europe and North America Handbook on Migration and Development Rael Delgado Wise,Branka Likic-Brboric,Ronaldo Munck,Carl-Ulrik Schierup,2024-08-06 This Handbook presents a comprehensive overview of the interaction between migration and development from a range of critical and counter hegemonic perspectives Exploring the strengths and weaknesses of existing practices connected with the migration and development nexus contributing authors provide a clear understanding of their complex dynamics Handbook on the Governance and Politics of Migration Emma Carmel,Katharina Lenner,Regine Paul,2021-04-30 This innovative Handbook sets out a conceptual and analytical framework for the critical appraisal of migration governance Global and interdisciplinary in scope the chapters are organised across six key themes conceptual debates categorisations of migration governance regimes processes spaces of migration governance and mobilisations around it Disrupting Adult and Community Education Robert C. Mizzi,Tonette S. Rocco,Sue Shore,2016-05-12 Reconceptualizes local national and transnational adult education practices in light of neoliberalism and globalization This groundbreaking book critiques the boundaries of where adult education takes place through a candid examination of teaching learning and working practices in the social periphery Lives in this context are diverse and made through complex practices that take place in the shadows of formal systems on streetscapes and farms in vehicles and homes and through underground networks Educators may be family members friends or colleagues and the curriculum may be based on needs interests histories and cultural practices The case studies presented here analyze adult education in the lives of sex workers LGBTQ activists undocumented migrants disabled workers homeless youth immigrants inmates and others Focusing on learning at the social margins this book challenges readers to reconceptualize local national and transnational adult education practices in light of neoliberalism and globalization Social Transformation in Bangladesh Shahidur Rahman,Md. Masud-All-Kamal,2024-08-26 Social Transformation in Bangladesh explores the social political and cultural implications of the unprecedented economic development that has occurred in Bangladesh since its independence in 1971 In the 1970s Bangladesh was labelled an international basket case because of food insecurity and low levels of per capita income with high population growth and various social problems Defying overwhelming odds however a societal transformation is underway in Bangladesh with diverse opportunities and challenges This edited book analyses issues of inclusivity extractivism sustainability and equitability as it takes a look at the interconnected metamorphosis of the economy society culture and the environment of Bangladesh Discussing topics from the products of post industrial society such as YouTube sensations and digital labour platforms to groups that have suffered marginalisation for decades such as the urban poor and Indigenous peoples a wide array of scholarship and case studies are used to analyse the challenges and opportunities offered by the process of societal transformation With insights from multidisciplinary scholars this collection will be of great interest to those specialising in the fields of sociology political science anthropology development refugee and migrant studies media studies labour studies health and indigeneity Tomorrow We're All Going to the Harvest Leigh Binford, 2013-01-02 From its inception in 1966 the Canadian Seasonal Agricultural Worker Program SAWP has grown to employ approximately 20 000 workers annually the majority from Mexico The program has been hailed as a model that alleviates human rights concerns because under contract SAWP workers travel legally receive health benefits contribute to pensions are represented by Canadian consular officials and rate the program favorably Tomorrow We re All Going to the Harvest takes us behind the ideology and examines the daily lives of SAWP workers from Tlaxcala Mexico one of the leading sending states observing the great personal and family price paid in order to experience a temporary rise in a standard of living The book also observes the disparities of a gutted Mexican countryside versus the flourishing agriculture in Canada where farm labor demand remains high Drawn from extensive surveys and nearly two hundred interviews ethnographic work in Ontario destination of over 77 percent of migrants in the author s sample and quantitative data this is much more than a case study it situates the Tlaxcala Canada exchange within the broader issues of migration economics and cultural currents Bringing to light the historical genesis of complementary labor markets and the contradictory positioning of Mexican government representatives Leigh Binford also explores the language barriers and nonexistent worker networks in Canada as well as the physical realities of the work itself making this book a complete portrait of a provocative segment of migrant labor Transforming Public Administration in Canada Jill Anne Chouinard, Susanne Thiessen, 2025-06-20 This book explores the intersection of social equity related issues with concerns within the field of public administration in Canada It challenges scholars from schools of public administration to use a social equity lens to reimagine and rethink the ways in which public administration is currently practiced Between professions and countries. Highly skilled Latin American migrants and the negotiation of cultural capital Ilana Nussbaum Bitran, 2020-11-10 The migration of highly skilled individuals brings together two important and well developed institutional systems on the one hand the organization of professions and on the other hand the state and its migration and integration regime Therefore professional migrants move between two levels of regulation The first one applies to their specific professional group and regulates the acquisition of knowledge as well as the participation in the labor market The second one controls the access to and settlement in a given country Taking the examples of medicine and the information technologies IT in Germany and Chile the present research asks how different institutional settings shape the cultural capital negotiation strategies of highly skilled Latin American migrants Using Bourdieu s relational theory and especially his concepts of field and capital this book seeks to understand professions as fields and to follow the trajectories of highly skilled Latin American migrants within two transnational professional fields Using a reconstructive praxeological approach this book presents three typologies showing how the interaction between transnational professional fields and national regulations creates different possibilities for highly skilled migrants to negotiate their capital and the strategies they develop to reach a good position in their host country's labor market

Global Migration Elizabeth Mavroudi, Caroline Nagel, 2016-06-03 This new fully updated edition of Global Migration provides students with a thorough and grounded understanding of multiple dimensions of migration including labour markets citizenship border control integration and identity Written by two geographers the book incorporates insights from across the social sciences and is accessible to students in many disciplines Providing a useful and timely introduction to migration the textbook addresses migration in a holistic way and equips students with the tools they need to participate in contemporary debates about migration in sending and destination contexts It conveys to students that the causes and effects of migration are geographically specific and contingent upon class race gender and other markers of social difference Rather than identifying simple solutions to migration problems the book encourages students to think about unauthorized migration asylum refugee resettlement labour migration and other forms of mobility and immobility from different vantage points Global Migration serves as the go to book for teaching advanced undergraduate and Master's level students about the complexities of migration across nation state borders

Negotiating Solidarity Nedžad Mešić, 2017-01-25 Precarious migrant workers are today an everyday part of the Swedish labour market They often work under conditions of vulnerability on temporary contracts and with few rights This dissertation examines collective actions aiming to improve the precarious conditions of three categories of workers discriminated seasonal and undocumented The collective actors examined in the dissertation are composed of formal organisations such as non governmental organisations organisations founded on ethnic grounds and trade unions but also more temporary groups and networks The analysis foregrounds contemporary societal economical and legal transfigurations that create the conditions for collaboration among the actors and the negotiations which they conduct The dissertation contains four articles The first article addressing the situation of discriminated migrant workers scrutinises the conditions for the engagement of anti discrimination agencies The result of the study illustrates how the actors as a consequence of state subsidies alter their original course of conduct by becoming market orientated which contributes to tensions in relations with other collaborators The second and third articles focus on the situation of Bulgarian Roma berry pickers in the 2012 harvesting season These articles illuminate on the one hand the driving forces to their labour migration and the challenges faced in Sweden and on the other the emergence of different collective actions and their significance for the workers The fourth article centres on two trade union initiatives for the inclusion of undocumented migrant workers The article analyses the challenges faced by the unions as they seek to extend solidarity to workers who are relegated to informal work The article also elucidates that this endeavour nonetheless may have the potential to transform the political identity of trade unions and by extension through collaborations with other collective actors open the doors of solidarity for precarious EU migrants. In sum, the four articles show that there is a broad range of collective actors who are prepared to assist precarious migrant workers and to negotiate and at best improve their labour market conditions. These actors face many and difficult challenges. However, as the dissertation demonstrates, their engagement has made the reality of precarious migrant work visible to the public, legitimised the workers' needs and enabled them to claim their rights.

Production Politics and Migrant Labour Regimes Charanpal Singh Bal, 2016-09-23. This book emphasizes the importance of production politics or struggles in the workplace between workers and their employers for understanding migrant labour regimes in Asia and the Gulf. Drawing from a study of Bangladeshi construction workers in Singapore as well as on comparative material in the region, Bal shows that migrant labour politics are significantly influenced by the specific form of production politics as well as their variable outcomes. In contrast to contentious politics approaches, this book sheds light on the extent to which migrant labour regimes can be contested by workers and civil society groups and explains the recent rise in migrant labour unrest in the region.

Migrants at Work Cathryn Costello, Mark Robert Freedland, 2014. There is a highly significant and under-considered intersection and interaction between migration law and labor law. Labor lawyers have tended to regard migration law as generally speaking outside their purview, and migration lawyers have somewhat similarly tended to neglect labor law. The culmination of a collaborative project on Migrants at Work, funded by the John Fell Fund, the Society of Legal Scholars, and the Research Centre at St John's College, Oxford, this volume brings together distinguished legal and migration scholars to examine the impact of migration law on labor rights and how the regulation of migration increasingly impacts upon employment and labor relations. Examining and clarifying the interactions between migration law and labor law, contributors to the volume identify the many ways that migration law as currently designed divides the objectives of labor law, privileging concerns about the labor supply and demand over worker protective concerns. In addition, migration law creates particular forms of status which affect employment relations, thereby dividing the subjects of labor law. Chapters cover the labor laws of the UK, Australia, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Germany, Sweden, and the US. References are also made to discrete practices in Brazil, France, Greece, New Zealand, Mexico, Poland, and South Africa. These countries all host migrants and have developed systems of migration law reflecting very different trajectories. Some are traditional countries of immigration and settlement migration, while others have traditionally been countries of emigration but now import many workers. There are nonetheless common features in their immigration law which have a profound impact on labor law, for instance in their shared contemporary shift to using temporary labor migration programs. Further chapters examine EU and international law on migration, labor rights, human rights, and human trafficking and smuggling, developing cross-jurisdictional and multi-level perspectives. Written by leading scholars of labor law, migration law, and migration studies, this book provides a diverse and multidisciplinary approach to this field of legal interaction of interest to academics, policymakers, legal practitioners, trade unions, and migrants groups alike.

Migrants

and Citizens Tisha M. Rajendra, 2017-08-15 In all the noisy rhetoric currently surrounding immigration one important question is rarely asked What ethical responsibilities do immigrants and citizens have to each other In this book Tisha Rajendra reframes the confused and often heated debate over immigration around the world proposes a new definition of justice based on responsibility to relationships and develops a Christian ethic to address this vexing social problem

Tourism and Leisure Mobilities Jillian Rickly, Kevin Hannam, Mary Mostafanezhad, 2016-07-15 This book reframes tourism as well as leisure within mobilities studies to challenge the limitations that dichotomous understandings of home away work leisure and host guest bring A mobilities approach to tourism and leisure encourages us to think beyond the mobilities of tourists to ways in which tourism and leisure experiences bring other mobilities into sync or disorder and as a result re conceptualizes social theory The proposed anthology stretches across academic disciplines and fields of study to illustrate the advantages of multi disciplinary conversation and in so doing it challenges how we approach studies of movement based phenomena and the concept of scale Part One examines the ways in which mobility informs and is informed by leisure from everyday practices to leisure inspired mobile lifestyles Part Two investigates individuals and communities that become entrepreneurial in the face of changing tourism contexts and reflects on the performance of work through multiple mobilities Part Three turns to issues of development with attention to the cultural politics that frame development encounters in the context of tourism The varied ways that people move into and out of development projects is mediated by geopolitical discourses that can both challenge and perpetuate geographic imaginations of tourism destinations REGINE -

Regularisations in Europe Martin Baldwin-Edwards, Albert Kraler, 2009 REGINE is a research project on regularisation practices in the European Union The aim of the project is to provide a thorough mapping of practices relating to the regularisation of third country nationals illegally resident in EU Member States Two additional non EU countries Switzerland and the US will also be covered to gain insights in regularisation practices and the impact of regularisations elsewhere In examining regularisation practices the project also investigates the relationship of regularisation policies to the overall migration policy framework including to protection issues and refugee policies Moreover the project examines the political position of different stakeholders towards regularisation policies on the national level Finally the project examines potential options for policies on regularisation on the European level incorporating Member States as well as other stakeholders views on possible instruments on the European level

Vulnerability, Exploitation and Migrants Gary Craig, Louise Waite, Hannah Lewis, Klara Skrivankova, 2015-09-30 Globalization the economic crisis and related policies of austerity have led to a growth in extreme exploitation at work with migrants particularly vulnerable This book explores the lives of the growing numbers of severely exploited labourers in the world today questioning how we can respond to such globalized patterns of extreme inequality
