Feminist Ethics and Social and Political Philosophy: Theorizing the Non-Ideal Lisa Tessman, 2009-07-30 Feminist Ethics and Social and Political Philosophy Theorizing the Non Ideal is a collection of feminist essays that self consciously develop non idealizing approaches to either ethics or social and political philosophy or both Characterizing feminist ethics and social and political philosophy as marked by a tendency to be non idealizing serves to thematize the volume while still allowing the essays to be diverse enough to constitute a representation of current work in the fields of feminist ethics and social and political philosophy Each of the essays either serves as an instance of work that is rooted in actual non ideal conditions and that as such is able to consider any of the many questions relevant to subordinated people or reflects theoretically on the significance of non idealizing as an approach to feminist ethics or social and political philosophy The volume will be of interest to feminist scholars from all disciplines to academics who are ethicists and political philosophers as well as to graduate students

Ethical and Political Thinking Lionel Danforth Edie, 1947      The Political Philosophy of Poststructuralist Anarchism Todd May, 1994 The political writings of the French poststructuralists have eluded articulation in the broader framework of general political philosophy primarily because of the pervasive tendency to define politics along a single parameter the balance between state power and individual rights in liberalism and the focus on economic justice as a goal in Marxism What poststructuralists like Michel Foucault Gilles Deleuze and Jean Fran ois Lyotard offer instead is a political philosophy that can be called tactical it emphasizes that power emerges from many different sources and operates along many different registers This approach has roots in traditional anarchist thought which sees the social and political field as a network of intertwined practices with overlapping political effects The poststructuralist approach however eschews two questionable assumptions of anarchism that human beings have an essentially benign essence and that power is always repressive never productive After positioning poststructuralist political thought against the background of Marxism and the traditional anarchism of Bakunin Kropotkin and Proudhon Todd May shows what a tactical political philosophy like anarchism looks like shorn of its humanist commitments namely a poststructuralist anarchism The book concludes with a defense contra Habermas and Critical Theory of poststructuralist political thought as having a metaethical structure allowing for positive ethical commitments

Rethinking Ethical-Political Education Torill Strand, 2020-07-29 This book offers a variety of outlooks and perspectives on the constitutive values and formative norms of a society reflected by discourses on ethical political education It also discusses conceptual and critical philosophical works combined with empirical studies The book is divided into three parts the first part describes contemporary youth s tangible experience of and reflections on ethical political issues while the second part explores the potential powers and pitfalls of educational philosophies old and new The third part highlights cutting edge issues within the humanities and social sciences and examines the prospects of a fruitful rethinking of ethical political education in response to today's pressing issues By addressing current dilemmas with diligence and insight the authors offer solid arguments for new theoretical and practical directions to promote philosophical clarification and advance research Intended for students teachers and researchers the book provides fresh perspectives on the many facets of ethical political education and as such is a valuable contribution to educational research and debate
