Freedom And Creation In Three Traditions:

Freedom and Creation in Three Traditions David B. Burrell,1993 This work of philosophical theology brings together Jewish Christian and Muslim perspectives on the complex questions surrounding divine and human freedom The author emphasises the common ground among the three traditions

Freedom and Creation in Three Traditions David B. Burrell,1993 A proposal designed to illustrate the worth of explicitly tradition directed inquiry as well as the fruitfulness of comparative inquiries in philosophical theology

Faith and Freedom David B. Burrell,2008-04-15 In this book David Burrell one of the foremost philosophical theologians in the English speaking world presents the best of his work on creation and human freedom A collection of writings by one of the foremost philosophers of religion in the English speaking world Brings together in one volume the best of David Burrell s work on creation and human freedom from the last twenty years Dismantles the libertarian approach to freedom underlying Western political and economic systems Engages with Islam Judaism and Christianity and with modern and pre modern systems of thought The author is noted for his rigorous approach his wry humor his intellectual subtlety and his generous spirit

The Tragedy of Human Freedom Martien E. Brinkman,2021-11-15 Human freedom has been the source of both the high points of humanity as well as of its low points thus giving rise to the impression that it is a somewhat ambivalent concept According to Martien Brinkman the major factor in this ambivalence is the rather narrow meaning that the concept has received in the course of history Freedom is for the most part understood as freedom from or freedom to but only rarely as freedom for However it is precisely this latter understanding that is closest to the Christian understanding of freedom which Brinkman defines as internal attachment In his view Christian freedom is at bottom characterized by that to which one commits oneself in trust He sees primarily the Christian theology of baptism with its accent on dying and rising with Christ as the model for the way in which one acquires freedom Brinkman illustrates this in this study by means of a great number of biblical images and images borrowed from the historical debates between Augustine and Pelagius and Luther and Erasmus

Teaching the Tradition John J. Piderit,Melanie M. Morey,2012-02-14 From the origin of universities through their first six hundred years of existence philosophy and theology were the central disciplines That changed dramatically in the nineteenth century As German universities started to establish chairs in mathematics chemistry and philology new academic departments became more distinct and religious issues formerly addressed gradually receded into the background This book focuses on religious issues relating to current academic disciplines Contributors draw upon insights from two theological essays to address religious themes especially Catholic ones pertinent to their discipline as it is taught on the undergraduate level In addition to Catholic anthropology and theology the chapters address Catholic issues in English literature philosophy political theory history mathematics biology physics and astronomy psychology environmental studies art music business and economics education medicine and law

this volume offers a constructive account of the doctrine of providence Mark Elliott shows that contrary to received opinion the Bible has a lot to say about providence as a distinct doctrine within the wider scope of God's acts of salvation This book by a leading scholar of Christian theology and exegesis is a capstone of years of research on the history and theology of the doctrine of providence      God Without Measure: Working Papers in Christian Theology John Webster, 2015-11-19 In this two volume collection of essays which forms a companion to The Domain of the Word John Webster brings together studies of a range of topics in dogmatic and moral theology This first volume God and the Works of God treats the themes of God's inner being and God's outer acts After an overall account of the relation between God in himself and the economy of God's external works there are studies of the divine aseity and of the theology of the eternal Son These are followed by a set of essays on creation out of nothing the relation between God and God's creatures the nature of providence the relation of soteriology and the doctrine of God and the place of teaching about justification in Christian theology Each of the essays explores the relation of theology proper to economy and together they pose an understanding of Christian doctrine in which all theological teaching flows from the doctrine of the immanent Trinity      On Evil, Providence, and Freedom Mark Wiebe, 2017-04-15 This original study is concerned with the reconciliation of divine providence grace and free will Mark Wiebe explores develops and defends Luis de Molina's work in these areas and bridges the main sixteenth century conversations surrounding Molina's writings with relevant sets of arguments in contemporary philosophical theology and philosophy of religion The result fills a gap between theologians and philosophers working in related areas of study and is a unique contribution to the field of analytic theology Wiebe begins by sketching the historical and theological context from which Molina's work emerged in the late sixteenth century He then lays out Thomas Aquinas's understanding of God's nature and activity as well as his understanding of the relationship between God's action and creaturely activity In the face of challenges like the Problem of Evil Wiebe argues Molina's work is a helpful supplement to Aquinas's thought Turning to direct consideration of Molina's work Wiebe responds to several of the most well known objections to Molinism In support of Molina's understanding of creaturely freedom he then develops some twentieth century work in free will philosophy focusing on the work of thinkers like Austin Farrer Timothy O'Connor and Robert Kane He argues that there are good reasons to defend a restrained version of libertarian or noncompatibilist free will and also good reasons to believe this sort of freedom obtains among human agents Wiebe concludes that a Molinistic revision of Eleonore Stump's work on the relationship between providence and free will provides a well rounded coherent theological option for reconciling divine providence grace and free will This thoughtful study will appeal to theologians and philosophers as well as educated readers with a basic knowledge of Christian theology

Kant and the Divine Christopher J. Insole, 2020 The philosopher Kant is a key thinker in shaping our contemporary concept of morality freedom and happiness This book argues that Kant believes in God but that he is not a Christian and that this opens up an important and neglected dimension of Western Philosophy      The God Who Risks John Sanders, 2009-09-20

If God is all knowing and all powerful can he in any way be vulnerable to his creation Can God be in control of anything at all if he is not constantly in control of everything John Sanders says yes to both of these questions In The God Who Risks defends his answer with a careful and challenging argument He first builds his case on an in depth reading of the Old and New Testaments Then Sanders probes philosophical historical and systematic theology for further support And he completes his defense with considerations drawn from practical theology The God Who Risks is a profound and often inspiring presentation of relational theism an understanding of providence in which a personal God enters into genuine give and take relations with his creatures With this book Sanders not only contributes to serious theological discussion but also enlightens pastors and laypersons who struggle with questions about suffering evil and human free will T&T Clark Handbook of Theological Anthropology Mary Ann Hinsdale, Stephen Okey, 2021-01-28 Including classical modern and postmodern approaches to theological anthropology this volume covers the entire spectrum of thought on the doctrines of creation the human person as imago Dei sin and grace The editors have gathered an exceptionally diverse range of voices ensuring ecumenical balance Protestant Roman Catholic and Orthodox and the inclusion of previously neglected perspectives women African American Asian Latinx and LGBTQ The contributors revisit authors from the Great Tradition early church medieval and modern and discuss them alongside critical and liberationist approaches ranging from feminist decolonial and intersectional theory to critical race theory and queer performance theory This is a much needed overview of a rapidly evolving field The Routledge Companion to Free Will Kevin Timpe, Meghan Griffith, Neil Levy, 2016-11-18 Questions concerning free will are intertwined with issues in almost every area of philosophy from metaphysics to philosophy of mind to moral philosophy and are also informed by work in different areas of science principally physics neuroscience and social psychology Free will is also a perennial concern of serious thinkers in theology and in non western traditions Because free will can be approached from so many different perspectives and has implications for so many debates a comprehensive survey needs to encompass an enormous range of approaches This book is the first to draw together leading experts on every aspect of free will from those who are central to the current philosophical debates to non western perspectives to scientific contributions and to those who know the rich history of the subject Chapter 37 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license The Misty Land of Ideas and The Light of Dialogue Ali Paya, 2013-11-12 Comparative philosophy like other types of philosophy is a sort of dialogue among philosophers But whereas dialogue among philosophers in the traditional branches of philosophy is usually in the form of duologue in comparative philosophy three interlocutors are involved Participants in a dialogue of the type which is common in comparative philosophy need not be contemporaneous Nor do they need to speak the same language or belong to the same tradition Of the three interlocutors in a dialogue of the type relevant to comparative philosophy the one who plays the role of the go between among the other two is the true practitioner of comparative philosophy or to coin a term the true comparative philosopher i e the one who is actually engaged in the process of comparing philosophies and reflecting upon the finesse of the art of comparison of views The comparative philosopher is an interpreter a commentator a critic a connoisseur of good philosophical arguments and interesting ideas an educator and a communicator This last characteristic pertains to the role the comparative philosopher plays vis vis contemporary and future audiences

Towards a Jewish-Christian-Muslim Theology David B. Burrell,2014-01-07 Towards a Jewish Christian Muslim Theology delineates the ways that Christianity Islam and the Jewish tradition have moved towards each another over the centuries and points to new pathways for contemporary theological work Explores the development of the three Abrahamic traditions brilliantly showing the way in which they have struggled with similar issues over the centuries Shows how the approach of each tradition can be used comparatively by the other traditions to illuminate and develop their own thinking Written by a renowned writer in philosophical theology widely acclaimed for his comparative thinking on Jewish and Islamic theology A very timely book which moves forward the discussion at a period of intense inter religious dialogue

Divine Scripture in Human Understanding Joseph K. Gordon,2019-03-15 In six closely reasoned chapters Joseph Gordon presents a detailed account of a Christian doctrine of Scripture in the fullest context of systematic theology Divine Scripture in Human Understanding addresses the confusing plurality of contemporary approaches to Christian Scripture both within and outside the academy by articulating a traditionally grounded constructive systematic theology of Christian Scripture Utilizing primarily the methodological resources of Bernard Lonergan and traditional Christian doctrines of Scripture recovered by Henri de Lubac it draws upon achievements in historical critical study of Scripture studies of the material history of Christian Scripture reflection on philosophical hermeneutics and philosophical and theological anthropology and other resources to articulate a unified but open horizon for understanding Christian Scripture today Following an overview of the contemporary situation of Christian Scripture Joseph Gordon identifies intellectual precedents for the work in the writings of Irenaeus Origen and Augustine who all locate Scripture in the economic work of the God to whom it bears witness by interpreting it through the Rule of Faith Subsequent chapters draw on Scripture itself classical sources such as Irenaeus Origen Augustine and Aquinas the fruit of recent studies on the history of Scripture and the work of recent scholars and theologians to provide a contemporary Christian articulation of the divine and human locations of Christian Scripture and the material history and intelligibility and purpose of Scripture in those locations The resulting constructive position can serve as a heuristic for affirming the achievements of traditional historical critical and contextual readings of Scripture and provides a basis for addressing issues relatively underemphasized by those respective approaches

Beyond Secular Order John Milbank,2014-01-28 Beyond Secular Order is the first of a two volume work that expands upon renowned theologian John Milbank s innovative attempt to understand both theology and modern thought begun in his previously published classic text Theology and Social Theory Continues Milbank s innovative attempt to understand both theology and modern thought begun in Theology and Social Theory considered a classic work in the development of systematic theology Authored by one of the world's most influential and highly regarded contemporary theologians Draws on a sweep of ideas and thinkers to argue that modern secularism is a form of Christian heresy that developed from the Middle Ages and can only be overcome by a renewed account of Christendom Shows how this heresy can be transformed into a richer blend of religion modernity and politics Reveals how there is a fundamental homology between modern ideas about ontology and knowledge and modern ideas about political action expressed in both theory and practice

The Providence of God Francesca Aran Murphy, Philip G. Ziegler, 2009-08-13 This text comprises a comprehensive analysis of the doctrine of providence from historical philosophical theological systematic and practical perspectives The essays in this book discuss the doctrine of providence from four central angles First three chapters give an historical introduction to the modern interpretation of the notion of providence examining how it was progressively naturalised and secularized in modern times Second over seven chapters and from different perspectives the book restates the Christian notion of providence in relation to the problem of evil and the theory of evolution Third in two chapters the book exhibits providence as a core theme in systematic theology Finally over three chapters the book shows the ethical and political relevance of the doctrine of providence today

Freedom and Sin Ross McCullough, 2022-07-12 A fresh argument for a venerable but recently neglected solution to the problem of human freedom and divine sovereignty If God is the creator of all that is then God is the creator of everything we do This basic premise of Christian theology raises difficult questions How can we have free will if God is the source of all our actions And how can we explain the existence of evil without ascribing it to God Freedom and Sin resolves this conundrum through a classical position known as compatibilist indeterminism the idea that God can determine our free choices while not determining all our choices This solution which insists that God's agency is both non competitive with ours and is not implicated in our sins has been neglected in recent years but remains the most compelling response to philosophical objections to Christian doctrine In this volume Ross McCullough provides a detailed defense and exposition of compatibilist indeterminism showing how human freedom is not compromised but perfected by being fixed to the will of God With a novel re working of Hans Urs von Balthasar's account of analogy with an attention to everyday Christian concerns about suffering and with a consideration of challenging scriptural passages Jesus's cryptic explanation of parables in Mark 4 and Paul's account of election in Romans 9 McCullough demonstrates a commitment both to formidable theological questions and their concrete applications

Worth Doing Steven G. Smith, 2004-05-11 A comprehensive look at how we rely on ideals of worthy action in the pursuit of moral happiness

The End of the Law? David W. Opderbeck, 2021-08-12 Does neuroscience show that all our ideas about law and ethics are false David Opderbeck answers this question with a broad and deep survey of the relationship between theology science and ethics He proposes that Christian theology which narrates the humanity and divinity of Christ in conversation with the new Aristotelianism in the philosophy of science provides a path through secular and religious fundamentalisms alike
