French Aircraft:

France 1940 James S. Corum, 2025-04-24 A renowned airpower expert assesses the air campaign fought in France in 1940 explaining why the Luftwaffe was so effective against the French and British The battle for France and Belgium was one of the most significant moments in modern warfare the first great clash of modern major powers where both sides possessed large and capable air forces and modern combined arms doctrine It was in the air that the Germans had a notable advantage in both numbers and quality But this does not fully explain the victory of the Luftwaffe over the RAF and the French Air Force in 1940 In this book renowned airpower scholar James S Corum offers an operational level history of the air campaign and explains comprehensively and concisely how the campaign was fought and why the Luftwaffe made such superior use of their airpower He explains the importance of the air forces leadership and fighting doctrine and aspects of the campaign often overlooked such as the dysfunctional organization that kept hundreds of French aircraft out of the battle and Germany's pioneering use of radio equipped air liaison officers that provided the world's first system of on call close air support Researched from French British and German primary sources and illustrated throughout with artwork 3D diagrams maps and photos this book distills the author's decades of scholarship into an essential guide to airpower in the fall of France
