Frequency-Curves and Correlation William Palin Elderton, 2015-06-02 Excerpt from Frequency Curves and Correlation
The main object of the present Volume may be regarded as being to give a detailed description of the basis and practical application of those modern statistical methods that are associated with the name of Professor Karl Pearson The history of the work is briefly as follows In January 1903 Mr W Palin Elderton read before the Institute of Actuaries an interesting paper dealing with the application of the Pearsonian frequency curves to the graduation of a mortality experience and it was then felt that the discussion of that paper suffered considerably from the fact that Professor Pearson's methods which had attracted so much attention in purely statistical circles were comparatively unfamiliar to the actuarial profession It was therefore suggested by more than one member of the Council that it would be exceedingly useful to the profession if Mr Elderton would contribute to the Journal of the Institute an explanatory paper dealing with frequency curves and giving illustrations of their use based upon actuarial data To this invitation Mr Elderton replied in the most public spirited manner by preparing a lengthy paper which forms the nucleus of the present volume About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Frequency Curves and Correlation Sir William Palin Elderton, 1938 Frequency curves and correlation W.
