Guinea Woman New And Selected Poems:

Guinea Woman Lorna Goodison, 2000 Lorna Goodison is endowed with the resources of her traditions the Afro Caribbean and the European Her poems are politically illuminating because of the ways in which she celebrates this dual inheritance how each subject and theme can choose an appropriate idiom Rooted though the poems are in certain elected landscapes the poet finds her inflections in the interplay between languages and occasions Guinea Woman Lorna Goodison, 2000 Lorna Goodison is endowed with the resources of her traditions the Afro Caribbean and the European Her poems are politically illuminating because of the ways in which she celebrates this dual inheritance how each subject and theme can choose an appropriate idiom Rooted though the poems are in certain elected landscapes the poet finds her inflections in the interplay between languages and occasions Writing Across Worlds Susheila Nasta, 2004 From Chinua Achebe to Marina Warner Writing Across Worlds brings together new interviews and interviews with major international writers previously featured in the pages of Wasafiri magazine founded in 1984 and now celebrating its twentieth anniversary Encyclopedia of British Poetry, 1900 to the Present James Persoon, 2015-04-22 Presents a comprehensive A to Z reference with approximately 450 entries providing facts about contemporary British poets including their major works of poetry concepts and movements The Cambridge Companion to Postcolonial Poetry Jahan Ramazani, 2017-02-27 The Cambridge Companion to Postcolonial Poetry is the first collection of essays to explore postcolonial poetry through regional historical political formal textual gender and comparative approaches The essays encompass a broad range of English speakers from the Caribbean Africa South Asia and the Pacific Islands the former settler colonies such as Canada Australia and New Zealand especially non Europeans Ireland Britain s oldest colony and postcolonial Britain itself particularly black and Asian immigrants and their descendants The comparative essays analyze poetry from across the postcolonial anglophone world in relation to postcolonialism and modernism fixed and free forms experimentation oral performance and creole languages protest poetry the poetic mapping of urban and rural spaces poetic embodiments of sexuality and gender poetry and publishing history and poetry s response to and reimagining of globalization Strengthening the place of poetry in postcolonial studies this Companion also contributes to the globalization of poetry studies Black and Blur Fred Moten, 2017-11-16 Taken as a trilogy consent not to be a single being is a monumental accomplishment a brilliant theoretical intervention that might be best described as a powerful case for blackness as a category of analysis Brent Hayes Edwards author of Epistrophies Jazz and the Literary Imagination In Black and Blur the first volume in his sublime and compelling trilogy consent not to be a single being Fred Moten engages in a capacious consideration of the place and force of blackness in African diaspora arts politics and life In these interrelated essays Moten attends to entanglement the blurring of borders and other practices that trouble notions of self determination and sovereignty within political and aesthetic realms Black and Blur is marked by unlikely juxtapositions Althusser informs analyses of rappers Pras and Ol Dirty Bastard Shakespeare encounters Stokely Carmichael thinkers like Kant Adorno and José Esteban Muñoz and artists and musicians including Thornton Dial and Cecil Taylor play off each other Moten holds that blackness encompasses a range of social aesthetic and theoretical insurgencies that respond to a shared modernity founded upon the sociological catastrophe of the transatlantic slave trade and settler colonialism In so doing he unsettles normative ways of reading hearing and seeing thereby reordering the senses to create new means of knowing

Afroeuropa@ns Marta Sofía López, 2009-03-26 The essays in this groundbreaking collection constitute a pioneering attempt at establishing a comparative agenda for the study of black literatures and identities in the context of the European Union Drawing from a wide variety of critical perspectives and methodologies from Post colonial or Diaspora Studies to Sociology or Ethnography contributors to the volume analyze black diasporic communities and their cultural productions in Spain Portugal France Italy Germany and the United Kingdom paying particular attention to women afrosporic writers

The Routledge Companion to Anglophone Caribbean Literature Michael A. Bucknor, Alison Donnell, 2011-06-14 This Companion is divided into six sections that provide an introduction to and critical history of the field discussions of key texts and a critical debate on major topics such as the nation race gender and migration In the final section contributors examine the material dissemination of Caribbean literature and point towards the new directions that Caribbean literature and criticism are taking

Selected Poems Lorna Goodison, 1992 Collection of poetry by the author about life in the Caribbean

Decolonizing the English Literary Curriculum Ato Quayson, Ankhi Mukherjee, 2023-11-09 George Floyd's death on May 25th 2020 marked a watershed in reactions to anti Black racism in the United States and elsewhere Intense demonstrations around the world followed Within literary studies the demonstrations accelerated the scrutiny of the literary curriculum the need to diversify the curriculum and the need to incorporate more Black writers Decolonizing the English Literary Curriculum is a major collection that aims to address these issues from a global perspective An international team of leading scholars illustrate the necessity and advantages of reform from specific decolonial perspectives with evidence based arguments from classroom contexts as well as establishing new critical agendas The significance of Decolonizing the English Literary Curriculum lies in the complete overhaul it proposes for the study of English literature It reconnects English studies the humanities and the modern international university to issues of racial and social justice This book is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

The Black Atlantic Reconsidered Winfried Siemerling, 2015-05-01 Readers are often surprised to learn that black writing in Canada is over two centuries old Ranging from letters editorials sermons and slave narratives to contemporary novels plays poetry and non fiction black Canadian writing represents a rich body of literary and cultural achievement The Black Atlantic Reconsidered is the first comprehensive work to explore black Canadian literature from its beginnings to the present in the broader context of the black Atlantic world Winfried Siemerling traces the evolution of black Canadian witnessing and writing from slave testimony in New France and the 1783 Book of Negroes through the work of contemporary black Canadian writers including George

Elliott Clarke Austin Clarke Dionne Brand David Chariandy Wayde Compton Esi Edugyan Marlene NourbeSe Philip and Lawrence Hill Arguing that black writing in Canada is deeply imbricated in a historic transnational network Siemerling explores the powerful presence of black Canadian history slavery and the Underground Railroad and the black diaspora in the work of these authors Individual chapters examine the literature that has emerged from Quebec Nova Scotia the Prairies and British Columbia with attention to writing in both English and French A major survey of black writing and cultural production The Black Atlantic Reconsidered brings into focus important works that shed light not only on Canada s literature and history but on the transatlantic black diaspora and modernity Guinea Woman Lorna Goodison,2004 Collected

Poems Lorna Goodison,2017-04-15 Lorna Goodison is a poet alive to places from the loved and lived in world of Jamaica where she began and started a family to the United States and Canada where she has made her teaching career but always re connecting with her Caribbean roots She travels with an ear alert to histories and voices How differently English sounds in the tropi and in colder lands at seaside in sunlight and on prairies mountains and in cities The same words say quite different things depending on who speaks them and who s listening obeying or resisting She covers a wide range of subjects and themes too Her instinct is to celebrate being alive in a world that is rich but in peril And what is the rare quality that has gone out of poetry that these marvellous poems restore asks Derek Walcott Joy The mango of poetry eaten straight from the tree Goodison somehow finds growing in Wordsworth country and in Sligo in Russia and Norway in Spain and Portugal which spilled their empires into the Caribbean in Hungary and Far Rockaway The publication of Lorna Goodison s Collected Poems with their extraordinary music sensuous texture and powerful historical imagination is a major event These are poems stunningly alive to the nuances of language beautifully pitched and tuned rich with feeling and insight Jahan Ramazani Lorna Goodison brings herself into the presence of every poem and so into the presence of her readers Like the ideal teacher she enables us to hear history sing its joy and shout its rage in her own personal tones of voice and to feel the folds and textures of her various homelands like a display of rich cloths She excels in both the emblematic and descriptive powers of popular poetry and introduces us to an array of characters sharply but generously perceived and often as deliciously audible after death as in life This is an inspiring collection for a time when hopes for transnational unity are profoundly challenged Goodison s poems frequently acknowledge the complex unhealed scars of imperial greed and violence but the impulse is towards hope and our imaginations are enchanted by a potential global spring of warmth nourishment camaraderie and sheer fun In the poet s own words of gratitude to Miss Mirry African bush healing woman we should turn thanks now to Lorna Goodison for addressing us across so many years on her unique world service of human truth and stay tuned Carol Rumens Theory into Poetry ,2022-05-20 At the beginning of the 21st century there is still no generally accepted comprehensive definition of the lyric or differentiated modern toolkit for its analysis The reception of poetry is largely characterised either by an empathetic identification of critics with the lyric persona or by exclusive interest in formal patterning The present volume seeks to remedy this deficit All the contributors theorise the lyric to overcome the impasse of an impressionistic and narrowly formalistic critical debate on the genre Their papers focus on a variety of different questions the problem of establishing a framework for definition and classification the search for dynamic and potent critical approaches investigations of poetry's cultural performance and its fundamental relevance for the construction of group cohesion The essays collected in this volume offer a consciously polyphonic range of theories and interpretations suggesting to the reader a variety of theoretical frameworks and practical illustrations of how a discussion of poetry may be firmly grounded in modern literary theory

Poems at the Edge of Differences Renate Papke, 2008 This study consists of two parts The first part offers an overview of feminism's theory of differences The second part deals with the textual analysis of poems about mothering by women from India the Caribbean and Africa Literary criticism has dealt with the representation of mothering in prose texts The exploration of lyrical texts has not yet come Since the late 1970s the acknowledgement of and the commitment to difference has been foundational for feminist theory and activism This investigation promotes a differentiated locational feminism Friedman The comprehensive theoretical discussion of feminism's different concepts of gender race ethnicity and mothering builds the foundation for the main part the presentation and analysis of the poems The issue of mothering foregrounds the communicative aspect of women's experience and wants to bridge the gap between theory and practice This study however does not intend to specify mothering as a universal and unique feminine characteristic It underlines a metaphorical use and discusses the concepts of nurturing maternal practice and social parenthood Regarding the extensive material this study understands itself as an explorative not concluding investigation placed at the intersections of gender studies postcolonial and classical literary studies Most of all it aims at initiating a dialogue and interchange between scholars and students in the Western and the Third World

Sufism as Lorna Goodison's Alternative Poetic Path to Hope and Healing Brenda Domínguez-Rosado, 2018-10-15 Jamaican Poet Laureate Lorna Goodison searches for answers for herself and other Caribbean based descendants of enslaved Africans by examining and presenting different spiritualities in her poetry in the hope of providing alternatives to the psyche in need of healing after the traumatic events of the infamous transatlantic Middle Passage The inclusion of Sufism in her poetry seems to have a dual purpose in that it offers a new creative angle and a sincere belief in its power to provide relief from personal anguish The fact that Sufism is similar to Jamaican based religions works in its favor Can Jamaicans who are Goodison's primary subject really relate to its message She does not underestimate her audience's capacity for change or their willingness to accept the ideas of Sufism Her role as facilitator is not a secret she is openly promoting her ideas and her belief that healing is possible This book is divided into three chapters In Chapter One a brief history of slavery in the Caribbean region with a focus on Jamaica is presented The second chapter explicitly focuses on Lorna Goodison and her use of the written word to reveal her feelings about her ancestors and her own traumatic past It also defines Sufism includes some examples of Sufi poems and shows what aspects of Sufism resonate with Jamaican Revivalism and Rastafarianism The final chapter first makes reference to how Sufi elements have been used by other writers such as Alfred Lord Tennyson Walt Whitman Thomas Merton and Doris Lessing and then illustrates how contrary to these others Goodison is the only one to apply Sufi ideals to a Caribbean context thus falling into her own creative category that of a new Caribbean literary canon

Difficult Diasporas Samantha Pinto, 2013-09-06 In this comparative study of contemporary Black Atlantic women writers Samantha Pinto demonstrates the crucial role of aesthetics in defining the relationship between race gender and location Thinking beyond national identity to include African American Afro Caribbean and Black British literature Difficult Diasporas brings together an innovative archive of twentieth century texts marked by their break with conventional literary structures These understudied resources mix genres as in the memoir ethnography travel narrative Tell My Horse by Zora Neale Hurston and eschew linear narratives as illustrated in the book length non narrative poem by M Nourbese Philip She Tries Her Tongue Her Silence Softly Breaks Such an aesthetics which protests against stable categories and fixed divisions both reveals and obscures that which it seeks to represent the experiences of Black women writers in the African Diaspora Drawing on postcolonial and feminist scholarship in her study of authors such as Jackie Kay Elizabeth Alexander Erna Brodber Ama Ata Aidoo among others Pinto argues for the critical importance of cultural form and demands that we resist the impulse to prioritize traditional notions of geographic boundaries Locating correspondences between seemingly disparate times and places and across genres Pinto fully engages the unique possibilities of literature and culture to redefine race and gender studies Samantha Pinto is Assistant Professor of Feminist Literary and Cultural Studies in the English Department at Georgetown University In the American Literatures Initiative

Student Encyclopedia of African Literature Douglas Killam, Alicia L. Kerfoot, 2007-12-30 African literature is a vast subject of growing output and interest Written especially for students this book selectively surveys the topic in a clear and accessible way Included are roughly 600 alphabetically arranged entries on writers genres and major works Many entries cite works for further reading and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography Africa is a land of contrasts and of diverse cultures and traditions It is also a land of conflict and creativity The literature of the continent draws upon a fascinating body of oral traditions and lore and also reflects the political turmoil of the modern world With the increased interest in cultural diversity and the growing centrality of Africa in world politics African literature is figuring more and more prominently in the curriculum This book helps students learn about the African literary achievement Written expressly for students this book is far more accessible than other reference works on the subject Included are nearly 600 alphabetically arranged entries on authors such as Chinua Achebe Athol Fugard Buchi Emecheta Nadine Gordimer and Wole Soyinka major works such as Things Fall Apart and Petals of Blood and individual genres such as the novel drama and poetry Many entries cite works for further reading and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography

study asserting the dialogic relation between Irish and Caribbean narrative form The book focuses on the demise of empire and the role of geography in creating an island imaginary for writers from James Joyce to Jamaica Kincaid Spirituality as Ideology in Black Women's Film and Literature Judylyn S. Ryan, 2005 Given the ways in which spirituality functions in the work of such Black women writers and filmmakers as Toni Morrison Ntozake Shange Maya Angelou Julie Dash and Euzhan Palcy Judylyn Ryan proposes in this challenging new study that what these women embrace in their narrative construction and characterization is the role and responsibility of the priestess bearing and distributing life force to sustain the community of people who read and view their work Central to these women's vision of transformation is what Ryan calls a paradigm of growth and an ethos of interconnectedness which provide interpretive models for examining and teaching a broad range of artistic cultural and social texts The focus on theology provides a new way of viewing the connections among New World African diaspora religious traditions challenging the widespread and reductive assumption that Afro Christianity shares no philosophical commonalities with Santeria Candomble Voodoo and other traditions that are not christological In addition to exploring spirituality as epistemology the book also provides an intertextual reading of Black women's literary and film texts that examines the ways in which these works expose mediate and interpret the cultural social and historical conditions surrounding their production While most discussions of Black women's engagement with and contribution to the discursive space of the culture assume an oppositional or reactive stance Ryan argues that the disposition reflected in the texts she examines tends to be relational and proactive conferring an autonomy that the gravitational pull between opposites lacks This intertextual reading constitutes a multimedia auteur criticism of a collective artistic vision
