Gunning The Chesapeake:

Gunning the Chesapeake Roy E. Walsh, 1960 Chesapeake Reflections J H Hall, 2011-09-15 One man celebrates and laments his family's connection to a disappearing paradise of natural wildlife and beauty on the shores of Chesapeake Bay. Between the Indian and Dividing Creeks near the mouth of the Rappahannock River in Virginia's Chesapeake Bay sits a parcel of land called Bluff Point. Like most bay front villages the bountiful resources and majestic landscape of this area that once sustained watermen and sportsmen alike have been depleted as over harvesting poaching pollution and continued development have taken their toll threatening the very legacy of its people. J H Hall's family first settled on this land shortly after the Civil War where they maintained a tradition of farming fishing and crabbing throughout the twentieth century. Hall's words flow as splendidly as the tides in this collection of personal reminiscences and local and natural history honoring the lives of the watermen before him and the uncertainty surrounding those today The Bottoms Jeff Churan, 2010-12-09

MotorBoating, 1913-09 Chesapeake Bay Duck Hunting Tales C.L. Marshall, 2016-11-07 Join author and hunter C L Marshall as he recounts more than forty years of stories and anecdotes chock full of dogs good friends and fast paced waterfowl action. It takes stubborn dedication and passionate optimism to brave the frosty wet conditions for the chance to shoot ducks and geese. And yet the tradition continues every year as more than one million waterfowl occupy the waters of the Chesapeake. Whether you are setting decoys or watching the sun rise from a blind hunting the bay is as challenging as it is rewarding. No one understands that better than the generations who have experienced it from the goose pits of Rock Hall and Chestertown to the frothing whitewater of the Tangier Sound Waterfowling on the Chesapeake, 1819-1936 C. John Sullivan, 2003-05-02 Part documentary part nostalgic history and part informational catalogue. Waterfowling on the Chesapeake 1819-1936 explores a century of hunting on the Chesapeake Bay and its major tributaries from the heyday of gun clubs and market shooting to the rise of conservation law. Drawing on oral histories and period documents and artifacts C. John Sullivan a longtime collector of decoys and hunting paraphernalia and a frequent guest curator of exhibits looks at the effects of technological change the relationship between hunter and dog the recognition of decoys as folk art and the history of hunting. He also introduces us to famous and lesser known carvers and others who share an enthusiasm for this feature of Chesapeake cultural history and life Wild Fowl Decoys Joel Barber, 2000-03-15 Joel Barber spent 20 years studying and collecting wild fowl decoys from Nova Scotia to North Carolina. Mr Barber's authoritative volume is the only text written for the true collector and contains all there is to be known on the subject how to recognize the locality from which a decoy comes the world of famous decoy makers the scarcity of certain types of decoys and more Conservation News, 1960
