Enter Dark Stranger Poems:

Enter Dark Stranger William Trowbridge, 1989-01-01 A stunning first poetry collection These poems are howlingly nasty and perfectly executed Trowbridge's weapons are a deep puzzlement of feeling and a wonderful ear he knows how to divert with jokes while he's about to attack BLAM BLAM BLAM San Francisco Chronicle Enter Dark Stranger: Poems by William Trowbridge (p) William Trowbridge, 1989 William Trowbridge reminds us of the terrible series uses to which comedy can be put and of the near limitless possibilities of the dramatic creation of character This is a thoroughly captivating collection of poems

Kill the Documentary Jill Godmilow, 2022-03-22 Can the documentary be useful Can a film change how its viewers think about the world and their potential role in it In Kill the Documentary the award winning director Jill Godmilow issues an urgent call for a new kind of nonfiction filmmaking She critiques documentary films from Nanook of the North to the recent Ken Burns Lynn Novick series The Vietnam War Tethered to what Godmilow calls the pedigree of the real and the pornography of the real they fail to activate their viewers engagement with historical or present day problems Whether depicting the hardships of poverty or the horrors of war conventional documentaries produce an us watching them mode that ultimately reinforces self satisfaction and self absorption In place of the conventional documentary Godmilow advocates for a postrealist cinema Instead of offering the faux empathy and sentimental spectacle of mainstream documentaries postrealist nonfiction films are acts of resistance They are experimental interventionist performative and transformative Godmilow demonstrates how a film can produce meaningful useful experience by forcefully challenging ways of knowing and how viewers come to understand the world She considers her own career as a filmmaker as well as the formal and political strategies of artists such as Luis Buñuel Georges Franju Harun Farocki Trinh T Minh-ha Rithy Panh and other directors Both manifesto and guidebook Kill the Documentary proposes provocative new ways of making and watching films

The Old Formalism Jonathan Holden, 1999-01-01 Our appreciation of American poetry is as influenced by the personas presented in the poems as by public perception of the poets themselves Emily Dickinson peeking from behind a doorway with large dark eyes is an indelible image superimposed over her spare enigmatic poems The grand gestures of Walt Whitman's voice have much to do with our reading of Song of Myself And we cannot hear Mending Wall or Mowing without thinking of the image of the rustic sly farmer poet that Robert Frost so carefully cultivated The moral authority of the poet reveals itself through the poems as well and it is crucial to the meaning of the poem Holden argues if art is to elevate life Part 1 of The Old Formalism The Practice is a close study of some of the conventions and developments in contemporary American poetry with such topics as sex and poetry rhetoricity and sensibility Holden shows lucidly how character or lack of it is revealed in poetry In Personae the second part he gives a studied reading of a group of several admired poets such as Richard Hugo Mary Kinzie Ted Kooser and William Stafford Holden uses biographical references and personal contacts with the poets to strengthen the notion of character revealed in poetry This book takes a decided stand in the ongoing debate of the past two decades about the relationship of American poetry to American culture In an age when image dominates word and the business of poetry is nearly as celebrity laden as Hollywood Holden takes us past the media glitz backstage where the poems are waiting to be read Quite simply in a clear incisive manner he teaches us how to read well again Prairie Schooner ,1928 The Laurel Review ,2000 Arkansas Documents Arkansas State Library. Documents Services,1989 The Seven First Cantos of the Messiah: a Poem ... Translated Into English Verse [by Miss Head]. Friedrich Gottlieb Klopstock,1826 *Pharaoh: a dramatic poem. Barron,Bruce Meyer,2003 Presents a representative catalog of the New Formalism including a broad spectrum and wide and diverse range of poets and poetries associated with the New Formalism an eclectic movement with a commitment to meter fixed rhyme schemes and poetic forms Blood to Remember Charles M.
