Bergin, Emanuela Orlando, 2017-06-14 Environmental harms exert a significant toll and pose substantial economic costs on societies around the world. Although such harms have been studied from both legal and social science perspectives, these disciplinary specific approaches are not on their own fully able to address the complexity of these environmental challenges. Many legal approaches, for example, are limited by their inattention to the motivations behind environmental offences, whereas many social science approaches are hindered by an insufficient grounding in current legislative frameworks. This edited collection constitutes a pioneering attempt to overcome these limitations by uniting legal and social science perspectives. Together, the book's contributors forge an innovative socio-legal approach to more effectively respond to and prevent environmental harms around the world. Integrating theoretical and empirical work, the book presents carefully selected illustrations of how legal and social science scholarship can be brought together to improve policies. The various chapters examine how a socio-legal approach can ultimately lead to a more comprehensive understanding of environmental harms as well as to innovative and effective responses to such environmental offences. Routledge International Handbook of Green Criminology Nigel South, Avi Brisman, 2013-08-29 Academic and general interest in environmental crimes, harms, and threats, as well as in environmental legislation and regulation, has grown sharply in recent years. The Routledge International Handbook of Green Criminology is the most in-depth and comprehensive volume on these issues to date. With contributions from leading international green criminologists and scholars in related fields, the Handbook examines a wide range of substantive issues, including climate change, corporate criminality, and impacts on the environment, environmental justice, media representations, pollution, e.g., air, water, questions of responsibility and risk, wildlife trafficking. The chapters explore green criminology in depth, its theory, history, and development, as well as methodological concerns for this area of academic interest. With examples of environmental crimes, harms, and threats from Africa, Asia, Australia, Eastern Europe, South America, the United Kingdom, and the United States, this book will serve as a vital resource for international scholars and students in criminology, sociology, law, and socio-legal studies, as well as environmental science, environmental studies, politics, and international relations. The Encyclopedia of Rural Crime Alistair Harkness, Jessica Rene Peterson, Matt Bowden, Cassie Pedersen, Joseph Donnermeyer, 2024-05-14 The key reference guide to rural crime and rural justice, this encyclopedia gives 70 concise and informative synopses of the key issues in rural crime, criminology, offending, and victimisation, and both institutional and informal responses to rural crime. Varieties of Comparative Criminology, 2021-10-18 According to Durkheim, comparative sociology is sociology itself. Comparative criminology goes back to the days of Durkheim, but today it is possible to conduct group comparisons in many settings and with an incredible array of data. This book represents a variety of approaches making comparisons. The emphasis is on creative methods, challenging theory, and unusual subject matter. Topics range from Micro/Macro Criminology to Police Strength and from Women/Police to Crime Prevention Policies in the UK and the US. Contributors are Cyndi Banks, Adam C. Bouloukos, Ken Clark, Ronald V. Clarke, Brett Dakin, Graham Farrell.
