Promoting Assessment as Learning Ruth Dann, 2012-09-10 Promoting Assessment as Learning sets out to re-examine the relationship between assessment and learning in the classroom. It argues that assessment is an important part of pupil learning and needs to be understood by pupils in order to help them make judgements about their own progress. This timely book explores the theories of learning and assessment within the context of national tests and also through the theme of self-assessment. It offers practical approaches to help teachers translate national policy into meaningful classroom practice and suggests ways to help pupils develop their own assessment skills through a process of consolidation, reflection and revision. This book will appeal to new and practising primary school teachers and headteachers and those on in-service courses. It will also be of interest to students on initial teacher training and higher degree courses

This revised fifth edition is updated throughout and now includes a full practice test. Written by one of the authors of the skills tests from the AlphaPlus Consultancy, this text is an accurate up-to-date and comprehensive practice tool for the numeracy skills test. This book helps the reader familiarise themselves with the skills and knowledge to be tested, fully understand the format and structure of the numeracy skills test, know what to expect on the day of the test. Creating Gender-Fair Schools & Classrooms Lynn Raphael Reed, Tina Rae, 2007-03-18 Includes CD Rom. For many teachers, gender issues related to role models, image and expectations have an effect upon the behaviour and achievement of both boys and girls, often to their disadvantage. This innovative and practical resource for teachers of students aged 5-13 provides: o a programme to promote gender equality and inclusivity in schools and colleges; o a rationale for the programme based on social justice; o a practical set of classroom activities to implement the programme. The book combines the talents and commitment of two leading authors to provide an action inquiry methodology engaging students and staff in the processes of investigating what is currently happening and planning, implementing and reviewing improvements. This contributes to the development of the school as a self-evaluating organisation which listens to the voice of the child. The programme supports teachers and other school staff in developing as reflective practitioners and children and young people in developing as reflective learners. It can also be used to engage schools and colleges in joining the UNICEF Rights Respecting programme, which is demonstrating positive results. A real strength of the resource is the inclusion of practical activities that have been carefully designed for pupils. These are excellent and lend themselves for use in a variety of ways This is a thoroughly recommended resource SENCO Update
