Parent and Carer Information: KS1 History (Ages 5 - 7)

This guide helps you to track the progress of your year child as they develop through the subject of history in years 1 - 7. It details what the key objectives that form the basis of their history education, including significant historical events and their living memory. Planning these skills at home can be a great way to show their skills confidence and competence when they learn in the classroom. This guide will help you to identify and track the progress of your child's learning through history education with an interactive timeline of key topics and facts and also guide for you to work on together.

Use this guide to track the progress of your child's learning in history education to help support their learning.

Alternatively you can follow the end of www.twinkl.co.uk/resources/parents to get to the Twinkl Parents hub. We have also included links to books, so you can easily check off when you have covered each topic, and you can keep on track with your child's learning. You can also use the Twinkl Right to Read system to record your child's confidence and how they feel about the topic you have covered together.

With the other pages together to create a display board for both you and your child to fill in. Remember, we know that history is hard for history to support your child's learning that topic.

Key Stage 1 History

Hilary Cooper, Chris Sixsmith

Key Stage 1 History:

The Role of Subject Knowledge in the Early Years of Schooling Carol Aubrey, 2022-11-21 Originally published in 1994 the aim of the authors was to provide a comprehensive introduction to recent advances in research which had been made in learning and teaching in the early years of schooling at the time Emphasis is placed on how subject knowledge is constructed or acquired and the organization of teaching to promote the learner's active construction of meaning through the integration of new knowledge with existing understanding The National Curriculum is founded in subject knowledge though little examination appears to have been made of this in terms of how subject matter is transformed into the content of teaching that young children can understand It this remains for the teacher to develop instruction through the creation of a curriculum content and sequence which both reflects and advances the structure of existing forms of representation problem solving and knowledge which the child brings to the school The whole thrust of the book challenges the conventional early years ideology with its emphasis on child centred concrete and empirical approaches to learning with a view of teaching which is concerned with making sense of children's understanding and allowing their active construction of knowledge and information processing to develop expertise in context The Really Practical Guide to Primary Geography Marcia Foley, Jan Janikoun, 1996 Substantially revised to incorporate the contents of the 1995 Revised Order and its major implications for geography teaching Includes two brand new chapters on the growing early years sector and OFSTED inspections A whole range of different ways to organise the geography curriculum is discussed with examples The resources sections have been updated and expanded Teaching History at Key Stage 1 National Curriculum Council, 1993 Teaching Values and Citizenship Across the Curriculum Richard Bailey, 2014-05-12 This text presents the issues and principles for teaching values and citizenship at both primary and secondary levels based on the Crick Report and DfEE TTA guidelines It covers the whole of the curriculum and is supported by examples and key stage activities throughout The Primary Curriculum Design Handbook Brian Male, 2012-02-02 Schools across the world are struggling to balance the statutory requirements of a National Curriculum with their desire to provide the wide engaging and exciting curriculum that they know children need Concerns about standards often lead to a narrowing of the curriculum and many schools lack the confidence and approach to design that would enable them to resolve what seems like an impossible dilemma In this authoritative yet engaging book Brian Male looks at how schools can meet the requirements of a National Curriculum and yet be flexible enough to meet the needs interests and concerns of pupils to be rooted in their lives and localities and to give scope for teachers to use their own creativity The Primary Curriculum Design Handbook is a practical guide on how to design a curriculum that will engage children's interest excite their imaginations and at the same time provide them with the knowledge skills and understanding they need to live successfully in the 21st Century Essential Subject Knowledge for Primary Teaching Nasreen Majid, 2023-03-25 As a trainee teacher you have a huge amount to grapple with when it comes to developing expertise in the

suite of subjects within the primary national curriculum Subject knowledge cannot be developed in isolation it must relate to the curriculum knowledge and pedagogical knowledge enabling ways to teach the subject with confidence This book takes you through a journey of the national curriculum supporting you to think about each subjects positioning within the national curriculum the subject knowledge you need to know and how to teach each subject in a creative way Highlighting the importance of diversity equity and inclusion across all chapters this book enables new teachers to bring new voices and perspectives to the classroom It includes Key subject knowledge Examples of sequenced lessons Classroom ideas Links to further learning and subject associations A chapter exploring the subject knowledge needed to teach sustainability and climate change

Educating Outside Helen Porter,2018-03-22 Although the benefits of learning outside are well documented and more and more teachers are heading out post pandemic to teach their classes outdoor activities often decline as children progress through their education There are many reasons for this lack of time in the curriculum lack of training lack of teacher confidence or simply lack of inspiration Educating Outside contains a bank of outdoor learning ideas that can be used to enhance and enrich your classes learning experiences across the curriculum including in science history geography art and design English and maths Each lesson idea is linked to a specific programme of study and outlines required resources links to soft skills cross curricular opportunities and a broad lesson plan with suggested outcomes and photos All the ideas take place within the school grounds themselves which means plenty of opportunities to try out new activities without lengthy risk assessments extra time and additional expense

The Primary Coordinator and OFSTED Re-Inspection Mr Phil Gadsby,Phil Gadsby,Mr Mike Harrison,Mike Harrison,2014-04-08 Specifically designed for busy teachers who have responsibility for coordinating a subject area within their primary school Each volume in the series conforms to a concise style while providing a wealth of tips case studies and photocopiable material that teachers can use immediately subject they are called on to co ordinate these books provide guidance and examples to tackle the job There are special volumes dedicated to dealing with OFSTED creating whole school policy and the demands of co ordinating several subjects within a small school The entire set of 16 volumes is available
