Landlords And Lodgers Socio Spatial Organization In An Accra Community:

Landlords and Lodgers Deborah Pellow, 2008-07 Landlords and Lodgers analyzes the results of a long term study of a Ghanaian zongo or stranger quarter a place of refuge for Hausa migrants from northern Nigeria who have relocated to the city of Accra Deborah Pellow explores the relationships among community members both in terms of the built structures rooms doors communal structures and hallways and of the social networks institutions and routine activities that define this unique urban neighborhood This volume will be useful to students and scholars of the relationships between architecture migration and social change This richly observed and lovingly constructed portrait of a distinctive community will be of interest to spatially informed scholars of religion immigration minority communities and gender Gender Place and Culture This theoretically informed well researched and closely written book should be quite useful A fine case study of urban sense of place in a unique yet in some ways emblematic West African neighborhood Gareth Myers Professional Geographer

Transnational Religious Spaces Philip Clart, Adam Jones, 2020-07-06 This volume bringing together work by scholars from Europe East Asia North America and West Africa investigates transnational religious spaces in a comparative manner by juxtaposing East Asian and African examples It highlights flows of ideas actors and organizations out of into or within a given continental space These flows are patterned mainly by colonialism or migration The book also examines cases where the transnational space in question encompasses both East Asia and Africa notably in the development of Japanese new religions in Africa Most of the studies are located in the present a few go back to the late nineteenth century The volume is rounded off by Thomas Tweed's systematic reflections on categories for the study of transnationalism his chapter Flows and Dams critically weighs the metaphorical language we use to think speak and write about transnational religious spaces Islam in Africa South of the Sahara Pade Badru, Brigid M. Sackey, 2013-05-23 Islam in Africa South of the Sahara Essays in Gender Relations and Political Reform draws together contributions from scholars that focus on changes taking place in the practice of the religion and their effects on the political terrain and civil society Contributors explore the dramatic changes in gender relations within Islam on the continent occasioned in part by the events of 9 11 and the response of various Islamic states to growing negative media coverage These explorations of the dynamics of religious change reconfigured gender relations and political reform consider not only the role of state authorities but the impact of ordinary Muslim women who have taken to challenging the subordinate role assigned to them in Islam Essays are far ranging in their scope as the future of Islam in sub Saharan Africa falls under the microscope with contributors addressing such topics as the Islamic view of the historic Arab enslavement of Africans and colonialist ventures studies of gender politics in Gambia northern Nigeria and Ghana surveys of the impact of Sharia law in Nigeria and Sudan the political role of Islam in Somalia South Africa and African diaspora communities Islam in Africa South of the Sahara is an ideal reader for students and scholars of international politics comparative theology race and ethnicity comparative sociology African and Islamic studies Spatializing Culture Setha

Low,2016-08-12 This book demonstrates the value of ethnographic theory and methods in understanding space and place and considers how ethnographically based spatial analyses can yield insight into prejudices inequalities and social exclusion as well as offering people the means for understanding the places where they live work shop and socialize In developing the concept of spatializing culture Setha Low draws on over twenty years of research to examine social production social construction embodied discursive emotive and affective as well as translocal approaches A global range of fieldwork examples are employed throughout the text to highlight not just the theoretical development of the idea of spatializing culture but how it can be used in undertaking ethnographies of space and place The volume will be valuable for students and scholars from a number of disciplines who are interested in the study of culture through the lens of space and place

Defining the Urban Deljana Iossifova,Christopher N.H Doll,Alexandros Gasparatos,2017-10-06 What is urban How can it be described and contextualised How is it used in theory and practice Urban processes feature in key international policy and practice discourses They are at the core of research agendas across traditional academic disciplines and emerging interdisciplinary fields However the concept of the urban remains highly contested both as material reality and imaginary construct The urban remains imprecisely defined Defining the Urban is an indispensable guide for the urban transdisciplinary thinker and practitioner Parts I and II focus on how Academic Disciplines and Professional Practices respectively understand and engage with the urban Included among others are Architecture Ecology Governance and Sociology Part III Emerging Approaches outlines how elements from theory and practice combine to form transdisciplinary tools and perspectives Written by eminent experts in their respective fields Defining the Urban provides a stepping stone for the development of a common language a shared ontology in the disjointed fields of urban research and practice It is a comprehensive and accessible resource for anyone with an interest in understanding how urban scholars and practitioners can work together on this complex theme

The African Metropolis Toyin Falola,Bisola Falola,2017-08-07 On a planet where urbanization is rapidly expanding nowhere is the growth more pronounced than in cities of the global South and in particular Africa African metropolises are harbingers of the urban challenges that lie ahead as societies grapple with the fractured social economic and political relations forming within these new often mega cities The African Metropolis integrates geographical and historical perspectives to examine how processes of segregation marginalization resilience and resistance are shaping cities across Africa spanning from Nigeria and Ghana to Kenya Ethiopia and South Africa The chapters pay particular attention to the voices and daily realities of those most vulnerable to urban transformations and to questions such as Who governs Who should the city serve Who has a right to the city And how can the built spaces and contentious legacies of colonialism and prior development regimes be inclusively reconstructed In addition to highlighting critical contemporary debates the book furthers our ability to examine the transformations taking place in cities of the global South providing detailed accounts of local complexities while also generating insights that can scale up and across to similar cities around the world This book will be of interest to students and scholars of African Studies urban development and human geography Aesthetic Practices in African Tourism Ruti Talmor, 2023-12-05 Aesthetic Practices in African Tourism explores Rastahood a community youth culture and new tourist art form created by young men on the margins of the Ghanaian economy as they came of age at the turn of the millennium This book focuses on art music and affective experience created within tourism contexts which enabled young men without educational or class capital to achieve mobility through work with foreigners transforming the temporal horizon by expanding the geographic one It traces the path that led young men down the path to Rastahood and investigates how they created an art form in and of a particular place and then used it to propel themselves far beyond its confines The book ends with a leap forward into the present out of Ghana and beyond Rastahood as men now in middle age look back upon the path that Rastahood created It explores the social effects of neoliberal capitalism specifically the rise of neoliberal subjectivities collectivities and socialities The book will be of interest to researchers in the fields of anthropology cultural studies tourism art African and Africana Studies popular culture gender studies migration youth studies and those interested in African cities Politics and Community-Based Research Sarah Charlton, Sophie Didier, Kirsten Dörmann, Claire Bénit-Gbaffou, 2019-10-01 Politics and Community Based Research Perspectives from Yeoville Studio Johannesburg provides a textured analysis of a contested urban space that will resonate with other contested urban spaces around the world and challenges researchers involved in such spaces to work in creative and politicised ways This edited collection is built around the experiences of Yeoville Studio a research initiative based at the School of Architecture and Planning at the University of the Witwatersrand Johannesburg Through themed illustrated stories of the people and places of Yeoville the book presents a nuanced portrait of the vibrance and complexity of a post apartheid peri central neighbourhood that has often been characterised as a slum in Johannesburg These narratives are interwoven with theoretical chapters by scholars from a diversity of disciplinary backgrounds reflecting on the empirical experiences of the Studio and examining academic research processes These chapters unpack the engagement of the Studio in Yeoville including issues of trust the need to align policy with lived realities and social needs the political dimensions of the knowledge produced and the ways in which this knowledge was and could be used State of Slum Paul Stacey, 2019-04-15 Home to eighty thousand people Accra's Old Fadama neighbourhood is the largest illegal slum in Ghana Though almost all its inhabitants are Ghanaian born their status as illegal squatters means that they live a precarious existence marginalised within Ghanaian society and denied many of the rights to which they are entitled as citizens The case of Old Fadama is far from unique Across Africa over half the population now lives in cities and a lack of affordable housing means that growing numbers live in similar illegal slum communities often in appalling conditions Drawing on rich ethnographic fieldwork the book takes as its point of departure the narratives that emerge from the everyday lives and struggles of these people using the perspective offered by Old Fadama as a means of identifying wider trends and dynamics across African slums Central to Stacey's argument is the idea that such slums possess their own structures of governance grounded in processes of negotiation between slum residents and external actors In the process Stacey transforms our understanding not only of slums but of governance itself moving us beyond prevailing state centric approaches to consider how even a society's most marginal members can play a key role in shaping and contesting state power Public Anthropology in a Borderless World Sam Beck, Carl A. Maida, 2015-07-01 Anthropologists have acted as experts and educators on the nature and ways of life of people worldwide working to understand the human condition in broad comparative perspective As a discipline anthropology has often advocated and even defended the cultural integrity authenticity and autonomy of societies across the globe Public anthropology today carries out the discipline's original purpose grounding theories in lived experience and placing empirical knowledge in deeper historical and comparative frameworks This is a vitally important kind of anthropology that has the goal of improving the modern human condition by actively engaging with people to make changes through research education and political action Sustainability and

Communities of Place Carl A. Maida, 2007 The concept of sustainability holds that the social economic and environmental factors within human communities must be viewed interactively and systematically Sustainable development cannot be understood apart from a community its ethos and ways of life Although broadly conceived the pursuit of sustainable development is a local practice because every community has different needs and quality of life concerns Within this framework contributors representing the disciplines of anthropology sociology geography economics law public policy architecture and urban studies explore sustainability in communities in the Pacific Latin America Sub Saharan Africa Eastern Europe and North America Contributors Janet E Benson Karla Caser Snjezana Colic Angela Ferreira Johanna Gibson Krista Harper Paulo Lana Barbara Yablon Maida Carl A Maida Kenneth A Meter Dario Novellino Deborah Pellow Claude Raynaut Thomas F Thornton Richard Westra Magda Zanoni Making an African City Jennifer Hart, 2024-03-05 In Making an African City Jennifer Hart traces the way that British colonial officials Accra Town Council members and a diverse group of technocrats used regulation to define what an acceptable city looked like Unlike cities elsewhere on the continent Accra had a long history of urbanism that predated British colonial presence By criminalizing some activities and privileging others colonial officials sought to marginalize indigenous practices of Accra residents and shape the development of a new modern city Hart argues however that residents regularly pushed back protesting regulations refusing to participate in newly developed systems reappropriating infrastructure demanding rights to city services and asserting their own informal vision for the future of the city While urban plans and regulations ultimately failed to substantively remake the city their effects were and are still felt by urban residents who are often subject to but not served by urban infrastructure Making an African City explores how the informalization of Accra's development was a historical process not a natural and self evident phenomenon which connects the history of the city with the history of urban development and the growth of technocracy around the world Trickster Theatre Jesse Weaver Shipley, 2015-06-22 Trickster Theatre traces the changing social significance of national theatre in Ghana from its rise as an idealistic state project from the time of independence to its reinvention in recent electronic market oriented genres Jesse Weaver Shipley presents portraits of many key figures in Ghanaian theatre and examines how Akan trickster tales were adapted as the basis of a modern national theatre This performance style tied Accra's evolving urban identity to rural origins and to Pan African liberation politics Contradictions emerge however when the ideal Ghanaian citizen is a mythic hustler who stands at the crossroads between personal desires and collective obligations Shipley examines the interplay between on stage action and off stage events to show how trickster theatre shapes an evolving urban world Cities to be Tamed? Beatrice De Carli, Francesco Chiodelli, Maddalena Falletti, 2014-07-08 Across the global South the rapid urbanisation and uneven development that have occurred over the past few decades have brought to the surface a tight connection between social conflicts and urban space Indeed the physical conformation of urban space is one of the primary factors that trigger social tensions with repercussions at the metropolitan regional and national scales Such tensions are related to the conditions of social and spatial inequality which characterise many urban areas across the South they can also be connected to contingent political and institutional orders which find in the materiality of space both the means and the cause of conflicts among different groups amidst diverging territorial demands and the overlapping of competing struggles for power At the same time new possibilities arise in the concreteness of space including innovative forms of local activism adapting strategies of self organisation and unconventional relations between the formal and the informal city On acknowledging the multifaceted nature of the urban space there arises a question which constitutes the core problem addressed by the book are cities to be tamed This volume gathers a series of cross disciplinary contributions on these topics spanning from architecture and urban design to planning social theory and geography These contributions revolve around two core themes The first concerns the agency of design in contexts of informality and centres on the missing unexpected pursued exchange between projects and realities The second concerns the complex relationship between spatial planning politics and conflicts in contexts characterised by marked ethnic political and social tensions Contributors Alessandro Balducci Scott A Bollens Jeffrey Chan Kok Hui Francesco Chiodelli Laure Criqui Viviana d'Auria Beatrice De Carli Bruno De Meulder Annalies De Nijs Maddalena Falletti Nabeel Hamdi Joud M I Khasawneh Hamed Khosravi Olivier Legrand Colin Marx Carmen Mendoza Arroyo Lina Scavuzzo Erez Tzfadia Ignacio Castillo Ulloa Faith Wong and Oren Yiftachel City Life in Africa Katja

Werthmann, 2022-07-27 This book introduces readers to the anthropology of urban life in Africa showing what ethnography can teach us about African city dwellers own notions practices and reflections Social anthropologists have studied city life in Africa since the early 20th century Their works have addressed a number of questions that are relevant until today What happens to rural people who move to the city What kinds of livelihoods do they pursue How does city life affect moralities and practices connected with gender roles marriage parenthood and intergenerational relations In which social situations are ethnic and other collective identifications relevant How do people make a home in the city What forms of authority and leadership become relevant in urban governance How do people talk about city life This book asks what anthropologists have come to learn about Africans views on city life It provides a critical acclaim of ethnographies in English French and German and elucidates anthropology s contribution to understanding city life in Africa It highlights the significance of female African and Diaspora scholars for an emerging urban anthropology of Africa The chapters are organized according to everyday activities of city dwellers moving connecting governing working dwelling and wayfinding The book will be an essential read for students and researchers of social anthropology African and urban studies but also for professionals in research and development organizations thinktanks and other institutions concerned with urban Africa

Dynamics of Identification and Conflict Markus Virgil Hoehne,Echi Christina Gabbert,John R. Eidson,2025-03-01 Dealing with the dynamics of identification and conflict this book uses theoretical orientations ranging from political ecology to rational choice theory interpretive approaches Marxism and multiscalar analysis Case studies set in Africa Europe and Central Asia are grouped in three sections devoted to pastoralism identity and migration What connects all of these anthropological explorations is a close focus on processes of identification and conflict at the level of particular actors in relation to the behaviour of large aggregates of people and to systemic conditions

Local Autonomy as a Human Right Joshua B. Forrest,2021-08-27 Local Autonomy as a Human Right contends that local communities struggle to preserve their territorial autonomy over time despite changes to the broader political and geographic contexts within which they are embedded Forrest argues that this both reflects and is evidence of a worldwide embrace of local control as a key political and social value indeed of such importance that it should be embraced and codified as a human right This study weaves together evidence grounded in a variety of disciplines history geography comparative politics sociology public policy anthropology international jurisprudence rural studies urban studies to make clear that a presumed inherent moral right to local self determination has been manifested in many different historical and social contexts This book constructs a compelling argument favoring a human right to local autonomy It identifies practical factors that help to account for the relative success of communities that are able to assert local control over time Here particular attention is paid to whether localities are able to generate policy and organizational capacity Forrest suggests that a focus on local policy and organizational capacity can help to explain why some communities attempting to assert greater local control are more successful than others Local Autonomy as a Human Right contributes to scholarly debates regarding the varied impacts of globalization with the place based perspective and moral emphasis on territorial centered rights put forth herein offering a necessary counter narrative to the often presumed predominance of global forces
