Landscape Into Literature:

Affective Landscapes in Literature, Art and Everyday Life Christine Berberich, Neil Campbell, 2016-03-09 Bringing together a diverse group of scholars representing the fields of cultural and literary studies cultural politics and history creative writing and photography this collection examines the different ways in which human beings respond to debate and interact with landscape How do we feel sense know cherish memorise imagine dream desire or even fear landscape What are the specific qualities of experience that we can locate in the spaces in and through which we live While the essays most often begin with the broadly literary the memoir the travelogue the novel poetry the contributors approach the topic in diverse and innovative ways The collection is divided into five sections Peripheral Cultures dealing with dislocation and imagined landscapes Memory and Mobility concerning the road as the scene of trauma and movement Suburbs and Estates contrasting American and English spaces Literature and Place foregrounding the fluidity of the fictional and the real and the human and nonhuman and finally Sensescapes tracing the sensory response to landscape Taken together the essays interrogate important issues about how we live now and might live in the future

Irish Contemporary Landscapes in Literature and the Arts M. Mianowski, 2011-12-06 Looking at representations of the Irish landscape in contemporary literature and the arts this volume discusses the economic political and environmental issues associated with it questioning the myths behind Ireland's landscape from the first Greek descriptions to present day post Celtic Tiger architecture

Landscape in Children's Literature Jane Carroll, 2012-08-06 This book provides a new critical methodology for the study of landscapes in children's literature Treating landscape as the integration of unchanging and irreducible physical elements or topoi Carroll identifies and analyses four kinds of space sacred spaces green spaces roadways and lapsed spaces that are the component elements of the physical environments of canonical British children's fantasy Using Susan Cooper's The Dark Is Rising Sequence as the test case for this methodology the book traces the development of the physical features and symbolic functions of landscape topoi from their earliest inception in medieval vernacular texts through to contemporary children's literature The identification and analysis of landscape topoi synthesizes recent theories about interstitial space together with earlier morphological and topoanalytical studies enabling the study of fictional landscapes in terms of their physical characteristics as well as in terms of their relationship with contemporary texts and historical precedents Ultimately by providing topoanalytical studies of other children's texts Carroll proposes topoanalysis as a rich critical method for the study and understanding of children's literature and indicates how the findings of this approach may be expanded upon In offering both transferable methodologies and detailed case studies this book outlines a new approach to literary landscapes as geographical places within socio historical contexts

Forms of English History in Literature, Landscape, and Architecture J. Twynning, 2012-10-15 An exploration of the way English literature has interacted with architectural edifices and the development of landscape as a national style from the Middle Ages to the 19th Century Analyzing texts in relation to cultural artefacts each chapter demonstrates the self conscious production of English consciousness as its most enduring history

The Role of Place in Literature Leonard Lutwack,1984-05-01 The Role of Place in Literature is a groundbreaking study exploring the use of metaphors and images of place in literature Lutwack takes a dynamic view of the relationship between place and the action or thought in a work Drawing comparisons over a wide range of works principally American and British literature of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries he illustrates how writers have charged different environments with symbolic and psychological meaning

Reading Landscape in American Literature , Reader's Guide to Literature in English Mark Hawkins-Dady,2012-12-06 Reader s Guide Literature in English provides expert guidance to and critical analysis of the vast number of books available within the subject of English literature from Anglo Saxon times to the current American British and Commonwealth scene It is designed to help students teachers and librarians choose the most appropriate books for research and study

Narratives of Place in Literature and Film Steven Allen,Kirsten Møllegaard,2018-12-12 Narratives of place link people and geographic location with a cultural imaginary through literature and visual narration Contemporary literature and film often frame narratives with specific geographic locations which saturate the narrative with cultural meanings in relation to natural and man made landscapes This interdisciplinary collection seeks to interrogate such connections to probe how place is narrativized in literature and film Utilizing close readings of specific filmic and literary texts all chapters serve to tease out cultural and historical meanings in respect of human engagement with landscapes Always mindful of national cultural and topographical specificity the book is structured around five core themes Contested Histories of Place Environmental Landscapes Cityscapes The Social Construction of Place and Landscapes of Belonging

Landscape, Literature and English Religious Culture, 1660-1800 R. Mayhew,2004-03-15 Landscape Literature and English Religious Culture 1660 1800 offers a powerful revisionist account of the intellectual significance of landscape descriptions during the long Eighteenth century Landscape has long been a major arena for debate about the nature of Eighteenth century English culture this book surveys those debates and offers a provocative new account Mayhew shows that describing landscape was a religiously contested practice and that different theological positions led differing authors to different descriptive approaches Landscape description then shows English intellectual life still in the grips of a Christian and classical mentality in the long Eighteenth century

War Gothic in Literature and Culture Steffen Hantke,Agnieszka Soltysik Monnet,2015-12-07 In the context of the current explosion of interest in Gothic literature and popular culture this interdisciplinary collection of essays explores for the first time the rich and long standing relationship between war and the Gothic Critics have described the global Seven Year s War as the crucible from which the Gothic genre emerged in the eighteenth century Since then the Gothic has been a privileged mode for representing violence and extreme emotions and situations Covering the period from the American Civil War to the War on Terror this collection examines how the Gothic has provided writers an indispensable toolbox for narrating critiquing and representing real and fictional wars The book also sheds light on the overlap and complicity between Gothic aesthetics and certain aspects of military experience including the bodily violation and mental dissolution of combat the dehumanization of others psychic numbing masculinity in crisis and the subjective experience of trauma and memory Engaging with popular forms such as young adult literature gaming and comic books as well as literature film and visual art War Gothic provides an important and timely overview of war themed Gothic art and narrative by respected experts in the field of Gothic Studies This book makes important contributions to the fields of Gothic Literature War Literature Popular Culture American Studies and Film Television Media

Landscape and the Spaces of Metaphor in Ancient Literary Theory and Criticism Nancy Worman, 2015-12-30 This study explores a previously uncharted area of ancient literary theory and criticism the ancient landscapes such as the Ilissus river in Athens and Mount Helicon that generate metaphors for distinguishing styles which dovetail with ancient conceptions of metaphor as itself spatial and mobile Ancient writers most often coordinate stylistic features with country settings where authoritative performers such as Muses poets and eventually critics or theorists view appropriate and emulate their bounties for example springs flowers rivers paths These spaces of metaphor and their elaborations provide poets and critics with a vivid means of distinguishing among styles and an influential vocabulary Together these figurative terrains shape critical and theoretical discussions in Greece and beyond Since this discourse has a remarkably wide reach the book is broad in scope ranging from archaic Greek poetry through Roman oratory and Longinus to the reception of critical imagery in Proust and Derrida

Nature in Literary and Cultural Studies Catrin Gersdorf, Sylvia Mayer, 2006 Nature in Literary and Cultural Studies is a collection of essays written by European and North American scholars who argue that nature and culture can no longer be thought of in oppositional mutually exclusive terms They are united in an effort to push the theoretical limits of ecocriticism towards a more rigorous investigation of nature s critical potential as a concept that challenges modern culture s philosophical assumptions epistemological convictions aesthetic principles and ethical imperatives This volume offers scholars and students of literature culture history philosophy and linguistics new insights into the ongoing transformation of ecocriticism into an innovative force in international and interdisciplinary literary and cultural studies

Landscape in Middle English Romance Andrew M. Richmond, 2021-08-05 Our current ecological crises compel us not only to understand how contemporary media shapes our conceptions of human relationships with the environment but also to examine the historical genealogies of such perspectives Written during the onset of the Little Ice Age in Britain Middle English romances provide a fascinating window into the worldviews of popular vernacular literature and its audiences at the close of the Middle Ages Andrew M Richmond shows how literary conventions of romances shaped and were in turn influenced by contemporary perspectives on the natural world These popular texts also reveal widespread concern regarding the damaging effects of human actions and climate change The natural world was a constant presence in the writing thoughts and lives of the audiences and authors of medieval English romance and these close readings reveal that our environmental concerns go back further in our history and culture than we think

Literary Landscapes of Time Jobst Welge,Juliane Tauchnitz,2022-11-07 The volume asks how the literatures of the Americas and the Caribbean present multiple or internally differentiated spaces and how these are distinguished or traversed by different temporalities The historical and post colonial experiences of these areas turns them into especially fertile ground for the exploration of the connections between landscape geography and historical temporal palimpsests as well as the specificities of literary form The contributions are dedicated to individual yet conceptually interconnected studies of staggered multiple non simultaneous temporalities in modern and contemporary literature The volume adopts a comparative perspective throughout and intends to foster the dialogue between the study of Latin American and Caribbean literatures in Spanish Portuguese French and English Therefore the individual essays are not grouped according to geographical or linguistic areas but follow a trajectory from spatiotemporal constellations of the 19th century to ruined catastrophic landscapes and the geopoetic inscriptions of time in regions The essays should appeal to all readers interested in World Literature Hemispheric Studies as well as temporal approaches to space and geography
