Koster, 2005-05-19 A distinguished team of Western European scholars has written an advanced full length physical geography designed to be a state of the art evaluation of the physical environment of Western Europe being both retrospective and prospective in its perception of environmental change The unique natural and regional environments of Western Europe are discussed as well as the physical geographic framework of the region Particular emphasis is placed on the impact and responses of human society on the physical environment of the region which is characterized by a very high population density As an enhanced reference work it will be of enduring value

Introduction to United States Gilad James, PhD, The United States is a federal republic located primarily in North America It is composed of 50 states a federal district five major self governing territories and various possessions With a population of over 328 million it is the third most populous country in the world The country's capital is Washington D C and its largest city is New York City The United States is a diverse and multicultural country with a rich history shaped by indigenous peoples immigrants and colonizers Its economy is the largest in the world with a mix of capitalist and socialist policies The country has a federal system of government with power divided between the national government and the individual states The Constitution serves as the supreme law of the land and the country has a two party political system dominated by the Democratic and Republican parties The United States is known for its innovation creativity and leadership in a variety of fields including science technology and entertainment Which Degree Guide ,2001 Sustainable Landscape Planning Paul Selman,2012-07-26 This book takes as its starting point the need to examine critically the case for landscape reconnection It looks at alleged disconnections and their supposed consequences It explores the arguments about reconnecting the natural and human elements of whole landscapes More broadly it considers landscape as an arena within which science humanities and professions can find common ground and in which vivid social learning can occur about key social and environmental issues It takes a dynamic view of landscape in contrast to the popular image of timeless traditional scenery It accepts that even the most cherished cultural landscapes will change and indeed it views change drivers as a potentially positive means of creating new connectivities between people and place It recognises the growing interest in promoting resilience and ecosystem services across extensive landscapes such as by creating new space for water and wildlife Landscape Patterns in a Range of Spatio-Temporal Scales Alexander V. Khoroshev,Kirill N. Dyakonov,2020-03-23 This book presents the polycentric and multiscale view of landscape which has been developed in Russia within a framework of physical geography since the early twentieth century The authors develop the ideas of hierarchical organization of a landscape and strong relationships between abiotic and biotic components with equal attention to both vertical fluxes and lateral transfer Three dimensional representation of landscape involves strong emphasis on abiotic drivers of pattern development including relief geological structures and runoff The objective of this book is to demonstrate the multiplicity of models and multiscale approach to description and explanation of landscape pattern functioning dynamics and evolution The contributions deal with various hierarchical levels ranging from within unit interior variability to between units interaction at landscape level as well as regional and supra regional zonal patterns Divided into 8 clear parts the 28 chapters treat spatial pattern in one of the following aspects indicator of actual matter and energy flows control over actual processes including disturbance expansion as well as determinant of future development indicator of genesis and prerequisite for future trends driver for short term dynamics of processes response to climatic and anthropogenic influences factor of settlement network and land use adaptation at various historical epochs framework for actual land use spatial arrangement This contributed volume is written for researchers and students in the field of landscape ecology physical geography environmental impact assessment and ecological planning
