Spirit, the Family, and the Unconscious in Hegel's Philosophy David V. Ciavatta, 2010-07-02 Honorable Mention 2011 Biennial Book Prize presented by the Canadian Philosophical Association This original study of the role that family life plays in Hegel's Phenomenology of Spirit and Philosophy of Right pays particular attention to Hegel's characterization of the family as an unconscious form of ethical life rooted essentially in affectivity David V Ciavatta also looks at Hegel's account of feeling in the Anthropology section of The Philosophy of Spirit highlighting the inherently porous nature of the self and this porosity is shown to be constitutive of the distinctive unconscious form of intersubjective recognition that forms the core of family bonds The book provides a rich understanding of the role that family has in one's psychological development with respect not only to other people but also to the world and one's own identity Incorporating existential phenomenological and psychoanalytic perspectives Ciavatta offers insightful investigations of many basic Hegelian themes such as spirit perception ethical agency language and property ownership

Word Made Flesh Dawn Langman, 2019-10-23 Building on the metahistorical exploration of drama that was the subject of Tongues of Flame Dawn Langman explores the practical pathways through which the art of acting can evolve beyond the body and soul paradigm still broadly accepted in contemporary culture Through the integration of Rudolf Steiner's research in the arts of speech and eurythmy and together with Michael Chekhov's acting techniques Langman raises the spiritual dimension of the human being from that vague sensing which many actors intuit but which has however little bearing on their practice into a precise methodology In this second volume in her series on The Actor of the Future she offers performance artists a clear pathway ahead enabling them to develop their work out of spiritual insight and consciousness

Feeling lives: An intersectional exploration of past experiences and present living Lindsay Clowes, LJ Theo, Nadia Sanger, Landa Mabenge, Sisa Ngabaza, 2023-11-15 We each make sense of the world through our embodied feeling lives We do it through the social groupings contexts and processes which history rather than biology presents and assigns to us In this collection we aim to illustrate how these embodied feelings and emotions underpin contemporary theorising by sharing reflective autobiographical writing by individuals from a wide range of backgrounds and contexts This somewhat unruly collection unsettles conventional academic writing precisely because authors have grounded themselves in the tangible and the personal rather than in abstract theory We hope that readers might see aspects of their own lives in some of these stories develop better understandings of lives that are experienced very differently and start or continue to theorise their own lives

Without a Mask Avikal Costantino,2011-11-25 Who is behind the mask that we have learnt to wear in order to survive and function in the world Who are we really behind familial and social conditioning If we are free from fear and the preoccupations that in the name of survival justify adaptation Is it possible to be spontaneous and authentic or is it just an infantile desire to leave behind us along with our dreams This book tackles these themes and offers understanding and techniques for recognising our authentic Self helping us to realise that behind the personality mask there is a mysterious universe an ocean of potentiality and that that is our true nature Then the phrase know yourself will no longer just be an indication of philosophers and mystics but will offer us the concrete possibility to ask the right questions those that enable us to lift the veil that hides our true face and find peace and fulfilment

How Life Moves Caryn McHose,Kevin Frank,2006-05-25 This comprehensive movement program uses the story of biological evolution as a tool to increase strength flexibility and body awareness Readers learn to unlearn inherited bodily habits by embodying the many forms that life has expressed on Earth from the single cell to the human being and shifting their perception Through this evolutionary movement the body's native intelligence is revived and new movements can be learned enabling the body to overcome chronic musculoskeletal complaints such as lower back shoulder and neck pain and to meet whatever challenges it is faced with
