brought us AS Communication Studies The Essential Introduction this volume will help communications students to engage with the subject successfully Its key features include suggested further activities at the end of each chapter a glossary of key terms a comprehensive bibliography with web resources Imagining Virginia Woolf Maria DiBattista,2009-01-18 Answers the question how does one read an author by undertaking an experiment in critical biography This book provides an original way of reading one that captures with variety and subtlety the personality that exists only in Woolf s works and in the minds of her readers "Do You Consider Yourself a Postmodern Author?" Rudolf Freiburg,1999 This book presents a collection of twelve interviews with eminent English contemporary writers held during a period of four years The book allows an illuminating insight into a very lively and thought provoking literary culture stirred not only by recent ideas of postmodernism but also by the manifold issues of nationality culture and gender subjected to permanent redefinitions towards the end of the twentieth century The interviews with Peter Ackroyd John Banville Julian Barnes Alain de Botton Maureen Duffy Tibor Fischer John Fowles Romesh Gunsekera Tim Parks Terry Pratchett Jane Rogers and Adam Thorpe cover topics such as the relationship between writer and public the role of the literary tradition the relevance of contemporary literary theory for the production of literature images of nationality intertextuality changes in the attitude towards language and meaning and the reception of literary texts by critical reviewers and literary critics The New Criterion ,1998 Howards End is on the Landing Susan Hill,2010-08-06 Early one autumn afternoon in pursuit of an elusive book on her shelves Susan Hill encountered dozens of others that she had never read or forgotten she owned or wanted to read for a second time The discovery inspired her to embark on a year long voyage through her books forsaking new purchases in order to get to know her own collection again A book which is left on a shelf for a decade is a dead thing but it is also a chrysalis packed with the potential to burst into new life Wandering through her house that day Hill s eyes were opened to how much of that life was stored in her home neglected for years Howards End is on the Landing charts the journey of one of the nation s most accomplished authors as she revisits the conversations libraries and bookshelves of the past that have informed a lifetime of reading and writing The Company of the Creative David L. Larsen, Great works and authors of the world are introduced and reviewed artistically intellectually and theologically Persons discussed include Plato Milton Dickens Shakespeare Charlotte Bronte Mark Twain and C S Lewis Repair the World Alexandre Gefen,2024-08-19 Talk of repair has become ubiquitous in recent years In the age of trauma culture art and literature have a new purpose to do justice to console comfort and heal Drawing on works of twenty first century French language literature this monograph shows how literature can not only serve as a means of personal development but expand our capacity for empathy help repair the brokenness implied in victimhood and redress individual and collective traumas Centered on a critical reflection on discourses of repair and reparations it questions the canonical theories on the functions of literature and proposes a new way of writing and reading literary history Praise Repair the World is an invigorating and essential call to arms The modern category of the literary it declares is being outpaced by the contemporary uses of literature as a medium of exorcism empathy reparation testimony commemoration existential renewal and ethical or political connectivity Neither celebrating nor condemning such uses Gefen models a much needed style of criticism interdisciplinary pragmatic relational that comes to grips with their importance Rita Felski the John Stewart Bryan Professor and Professor of English at the University of Virginia USA In an era where self help memoir and autobiography command more than their fair share of publisher s lists in France it s tempting some fifty years after post structuralism s heyday to ascribe an impending death of literature to a taste for narcissistic exhibitionism in French literary culture But why bemoan the waning relevance of the question what is literature asks Alexandre Gefen when evidence abounds in the new century that literary writing increasingly posits itself as a restorative reparative act In the best instances authors who give form to embodied experience imaginatively forge with their readers empathetic bonds of the sort that secular and religious institutions long sustained Repair the World is not only a capacious study of writers who hail from surprisingly broad sectors of French society from health and social workers to skilled laborers journalists and educators it s a situated call for a pragmatics of reading that makes of each book an intervention into the fabric of the real Harnessing sources in affect theory trauma studies ethics and cognitive science Alexandre Gefen performs a critically reparative act all his own reminding us that the notion of literature as autonomous object was itself a historical construct in short an ideology Reading and writing have always conjoined care for the self and care for others and it s upon that reciprocity that the communities of sense of tomorrow can flourish in a spirit of reparative humanism Derek Schilling Professor of French Director of the Centre Louis Marin Department of Modern Languages and Literatures Johns Hopkins University USA Alexandre Gefen s wide ranging thought provoking study takes stock of a paradigm shift in contemporary French literature away from a model of autonomy and intransitivity to ways of writing and reading that seek to repair restore reassure and rebuild From the varied forms of expressivity found in self narratives to the empathetic projections of fiction Repair the World maps out an expanding literary territory that seeks not critical negativity but rather the power to intervene for good in individual and collective life While reserving judgment on the actual extent of literature s effects Gefen demonstrates that contemporary projects and discourses undeniably center the therapeutic and remediative uses of literature With its nuanced readings and keen insights Repair the World has been rightly influential in France its powerful diagnosis of contemporary sensibilities resonates far beyond revealing both the promises and predicaments of literature in the twenty first century Alison James Professor of French and Chair of the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures at the University of Chicago USA What would it mean to ask Sartre s post war question What is literature in the 21st century In this wonderful essay Alexandre Gefen argues convincingly that the main purpose of literature today is to repair a broken world and memorialise forgotten lives Taking examples from predominantly contemporary French literature he proposes that literature as therapy has replaced religions of salvation a politics of emancipation and formal experimentation Today literature's mission is to heal traumatised individuals and communities resurrect the lives of the vulnerable and commemorate their deeds in the face of the forces of oblivion For Gefen Patrick Modiano's Dora Bruder 1997 is the contemporary literary archetype of these lost identities to be rehabilitated and reinhabited Gefen describes this new role for literature without taking sides the writing is lucid compelling and non partisan In an age of victimhood testimony empathy self expression and identity Gefen's reparative paradigm is as persuasive as Sartre's political version in the age of ideology Max Silverman Professor of Modern French Studies University of Leeds UK

Freud, 2018-03-08 Not all men vie with their fathers for the love of their mothers In some families the mother becomes the central figure for her son the father is excluded or excludes himself and does not come between mother and son The main thesis of this book using clinical vignettes and quotes from the work of Marcel Proust to illustrate the author's points is that in these cases fantasies of matricide replace patricide Men develop their male gender identity by being permitted to separate from their mother early on but when a man does not resolve his infantile tie to his mother he risks remaining in a passive and or dependent position towards her Over identification with the mother might ensue hampering masculine development Mothers who seek emotional support by binding their sons too closely can become seductive towards them The child is inclined to try to satisfy the emotional needs of his mother and he fears rejection if he asserts his independence instead of complying     The Facts on File Companion to the World Novel Michael
