The Landing Katherine Scholes, 1987 During a savage storm Annie and her grandfather try and save as many exhausted and injured sea birds as they can Bird Navigation Robin Baker, 1984 Bird Migration Eberhard Gwinner, 2012-12-06 E GWINNER The phenomenon of bird migration with its large scale dimensions has attracted the attention of naturalists for centuries Worldwide billions of birds leave their breeding grounds every autumn to migrate to areas with seasonally more favorable conditions Many of these migrants travel only over a few hundred kilo meters but others cover distances equivalent to the circumference of the earth Among these long distance migrants are several billion birds that invade Africa every autumn from their West and Central Palaearctic breeding areas In the Americas and in Asia the scope of bird migration is of a similar magnitude Just as impressive as the numbers of birds are their achievements They have to cope with the enormous energetic costs of long distance flying particularly while crossing oceans and deserts that do not allow replenishment of depleted fat reserves They have to appropriately time the onset and end of migrations both on a daily and annual basis And finally they have to orient their migratory movements in space to reach their species or population specific wintering and breeding grounds irrespective of the variable climatic conditions along their migratory routes The Condor, 1899 The Auk, 1892 The Living Age, 1925 FAA Aviation News, 1993 The Condor, 1962 Bulletin of the Cooper Ornithological Club of California, 1899 The Night Stalkers Michael J. release experiments performed by Thienemann in the 1930s in Rossitten the first experimental study on the orientation of migratory birds After the Second World War migration research while continuing in the previous areas also expanded into new directions such as radar ornithology ecophysiology and hormonal control mechanisms studies of evolution genetics telemetry and others Bulletin of the Cooper Ornithological Club Cooper Ornithological Club,1899 Bird
