Landscape With A Chainsaw Poems:

Landscape with Chainsaw: Poems James Lasdun, 2003-01-17 Brilliant certainly among the most gifted vivid and deft poets now writing in English Anthony Hecht author of The Darkness and the Light An exuberant and bold series of poems drawing on the poet's life in the Catskill Mountains Questions of exile and belonging figure prominently as does the struggle to find a viable relationship with the natural world In the chainsaw the book's central image all manner of human traits are reflected with an intense often comical brilliance

Bluestone James Lasdun, 2015-05-05 A generous selection that shows the poet James Lasdun at his lyrically inventive best Two men grapple with jumper cables trying to make a stand in this last corner of our realm machinery A man on his way to see his therapist encounters a female police officer in an elevator and feels himself regressing to the original essence the masculine criminal salt A teenager is tricked into eating a spoonful of lime pickle by his girlfriend's father An Englishman in the Catskills ponders the nature of exile is chased by yellow jackets gets a haircut James Lasdun's subjects are often quotidian but his treatment of them never is Under his transformative gaze the familiar becomes strange the local becomes foreign and the minor becomes epic Lasdun has been winning acclaim since his first collection 1988's A Jump Start Helen Vendler has lauded his ability to give brisk shape to contemporary and classical events The New York Times has praised the sharp slicing imagery of his work Now in Bluestone which selects from all three of his previous collections and includes poems from his fourth Water Sessions previously available only in the U K readers will be able to appreciate the full sweep of this capacious talent his delicate wit his gift for invention his keen observational eye It is a gathering that affirms Lasdun's position as to quote Anthony Hecht one of the most gifted vivid and deft poets now writing in English

Director's Cut David Solway, 2003 Solway argues in this feisty and polemical book that the time has arrived to take stock and engage passionately with our literature and especially our poetry if it is ever to be rescued from the swamp of second ratedness into which it has descended He contends that almost all of the poetry and much of the fiction being written in Canada these days is turgid spurious and pedestrian the result of two highly questionable developments the proliferation of Creative Writing departments in universities throughout the country and a largely subsidized literature industry abetted by a press of cousinly critics and reviewers intended to construct a patchwork national psyche create a sense of ideological cohesion and glorify the tribe In consequence of this we have sponsored a coterie of underachieving overproducers and proceeded to collude in their diffusion by virtue of our silent complicity or our chauvinism Solway believes that we are on the whole far too nice far too politically correct and in a word far too Canadian to register our disapproval bluntly and agonistically The last thing we want to do is offend anyone But all that such manoeuvres ensure is that nothing changes while conscience is appeased There comes a time when diffidence and affability those specifically Canadian virtues work against our best interests and prevent the candid and occasionally brutal assessments without which the critical stupor and aesthetic fog so congenial to us must remain destructively in place In Director's Cut Solway attempts to dispel that fog to see clearly and to speak directly to a readership that has been far too receptive of questionable work      Public Library Catalog
