Continentalizing Canada Gregory J. Inwood, 2005-01-01 Free trade has been a highly contentious issue since the Conservative government of Brian Mulroney negotiated the first deal with the United States in the 1980s Tracing the roots of Canada s contemporary involvement in North American free trade back to the Royal Commission on the Economic Union and Development Prospects for Canada in 1985 also known as the Macdonald Commission Gregory J Inwood offers a critical examination of the commission and how its findings affected Canada s political and economic landscape including its present day reverberations Using original research including content analysis interviews archival information and surveys of relevant literature Inwood argues that the Macdonald Commission created an atmosphere and political discourse that made the continentalization of Canada possible by way of free trade agreements with the U S and Mexico Through the use of a suspect research program and with the aid of a select oligarchy within the Commission and the government bureaucracy opposition to continentalism from both the majority of the Canadian population and even several commissioners was ignored Accessible to readers interested in Canadian politics policy or economy Continentalizing Canada offers a thorough examination into the Macdonald Commission and the resulting discourse in the Canadian political economy areas of Olson's life work: Collective Action, Institutional Sclerosis, and Market Augmenting Government. Some chapters directly assess Olson's contributions, focusing on distinguishing what was original in his works from what was already in the literature and gauging his impact on the fields of public economics and economic history. Other chapters present new tests and frequently extend his work. Each of the chapters is a new piece of scholarship inspired by and intended to honor Mancur Olson and extend his influence to another generation of Collective Choice scholars and researchers.

The Canadian Political System Richard J. Van Loon, Michael S. Whittington, 1987

Information Sources of Political Science Stephen W. Green, Douglas J. Ernest, 2005-07-15

A thoroughly revised and updated new edition of the world's leading comprehensive bibliography of American and international politics. The eagerly anticipated new edition of the widely acclaimed Information Sources of Political Science is the most comprehensive English language political bibliography available, offering the surest way for students and researchers to get straight to the information they need. Like no other volume, it provides a fully rounded view of the field, both in the United States and internationally, including relevant works in history, economics, sociology, and education. Its 2,500 entries cover a wide variety of source types: indexing and abstracting services, major bibliographical tools, encyclopedias, dictionaries, handbooks, directories, statistical compilations, and more. In addition, this edition is the first to feature substantial coverage of electronic resources, both databases and Internet sites. Each source receives its own annotation, with entries grouped in categories to bring together like works for easy comparison. This work is a cornerstone reference for academic and public libraries.

Guide to Reference Materials for Canadian Libraries Kirsti Nilsen, Alanna Kalnay, Claire England, University of Toronto. Faculty of Library and Information Science, 1992

About itself, the 8th edition notes: Primarily intended as an instructional guide for library personnel and researchers who work with reference materials, the Guide surveys the basic and most familiar or typical resources for general reference work and for work with the disciplines of the humanities, social sciences, and pure and applied sciences. The 7th edition, titled Guide to basic reference materials, is recommended by ARBA v 16 but is missed by BCL3 and Sheehy. A solid work marred by the flimsy paper binding, a shockingly bad production decision, a bibliography gets repeated use. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc, Portland, OR.

Modern State Intervention in the Era of Globalisation Nikolaos Karagiannis, Zagros Madjd-Sadjadi, 2007-06-26

Modern State Intervention in the Era of Globalisation is a thoughtful and well-researched assessment of the evolving role of the state in the contemporary world economy. This work is provocative because it goes against the predominant arguments in favor of a minimal state, as commonly asserted by neoclassical economics.

Instead Karagiannis and Madjd Sadjadi think outside of the box and produce both theoretical arguments and evidence from important cases such as the EU Singapore and Hong Kong to support the idea of a viable and continuing role for the Developmental State The scholarship underlying this very readable book which includes contemporary material as well as ancient economic thought is truly impressive Readers will be left with much to reconsider about the benefits of globalisation Patrick James University of Southern California US
