Hawthorne's Romances

Robert S. Friedman, 2014-02-25 First Published in 2000 Throughout the nineteenth century the study of geometry remained at the core of educational curricula in the United States strongly affecting how educated Americans construed their world This book examines how each of Nathaniel Hawthorne's romances presents a different geometric figure that becomes representative of the work's themes and narrative designs These geometric figures when approached from the perspective of Victor Turner's symbolic anthropology serve as cultural mediators combining geometric symbology with a unique narrative perspective to offer metaphors of personal and cultural boundaries Friedman presents the literary text as the point of intersection among such disciplines as cultural anthropology history mathematics and American literature Hawthorne's Wilderness: Nature and Puritanism in Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter and "Young Goodman Brown" Marina Boonyaprasop, 2013-06-01 Nathaniel Hawthorne is one of America's most noted and highly praised writers and a key figure in US literature Although he struggled to become an acknowledged author for most parts of his life his work stands in the limelight of the American literary consciousness Graham 5 For he is a direct descendant of Massachusetts Bay colonists in the Puritan era of the 17th and 18th century New England served as a lifelong preoccupation for Hawthorne and inspired many of his best known stories Hence in order to understand the author and his work it is crucial to apprehend the historical background from which his stories arose The awareness of the Puritan legacy in Hawthorne's time and their Calvinist beliefs which contributed to the establishment of American identity serve as a basis for fathoming the intention behind Hawthorne's writings His forefathers' concept of wilderness became an important part of their religious life and in many of Hawthorne's tales nature can be perceived as an active agent for the plot and the moral message Therefore it is indispensable to consider the development behind the Puritan perception as well as the prevailing opinion on nature during the writer's lifetime After the historical background has been depicted the author himself is focused His ambiguous character and non-persistent lifestyle are the source of many themes which can be retrieved from his works Thus understanding the man behind the stories is necessary in order to analyze the tales themselves Seclusion nature and Puritanism are constantly recurring topics in the author's life and work To become familiar with Hawthorne's relation to nature his ancestors and religion it is essential to understand the vast amount of symbols his stories His stories will be brought into focus and will be analyzed on the basis of the historical and biographical facts and further his particular style and purpose will be taken into consideration The second part of this book analyzes two of the author's most eminent and esteemed works namely Young Goodman Brown and The Scarlet Letter in terms of nature symbolism and the underlying moral intention Further it is examined to which extent the images correspond to the formerly explained historical facts and Hawthorne's emphasized characteristic features The comparison of the two works focuses on the didactic purpose for in all of his works Hawthorne's aim was to give a lesson Thus it will Hawthorne's Short Stories Nathaniel Hawthorne, 2011-01-11 Here are the best of Hawthorne's short stories There are twenty-four of them not only the most familiar but also many that are virtually unknown to the average reader The selection was made by Professor Newton Arvin of Smith College a recognized authority on Hawthorne and a distinguished literary critic as well His fine introduction admirably interprets Hawthorne s mind and art Hawthorne and the Real Millicent Bell,2005 Hawthorne was with his own complicity long described as a writer of unreal romances as he preferred to call his novels or allegories of the heart as he termed some of his short stories The essays in this collection contribute to the turn in recent Hawthorne criticism which shows how deeply implicated in realism his writing was BOOK JACKET A Historical Guide to Nathaniel Hawthorne Larry J. Reynolds,2001-07-19 This historical guide collects a number of original essays by Hawthorne scholars that place the author in historical context It includes a brief biography and illustrated chronology of the author s life and times The Province of Piety Michael J. Colacurcio,1995 In this celebrated analysis of Nathaniel Hawthorne Michael J Colacurcio presents a view of the author as America s first significant intellectual historian Colacurcio shows that Hawthorne s fiction responds to a wide range of sermons pamphlets and religious tracts and debates a variety of moral discourses at large in the world of provincial New England Informed by comprehensive historical research the author shows that Hawthorne was steeped in New England historiography particularly the sermon literature of the seventeenth century But as Colacurcio shows Hawthorne did not merely borrow from the historical texts he deliberately studied rather he is best understood as having written history In The Province of Piety originally published in 1984 Harvard University Press Hawthorne is seen as a moral historian working with fictional narratives a writer brilliantly involved in examining the moral and political effects of Puritanism in America and recreating the emotional and cultural contexts in which earlier Americans had lived Hawthorne's the Marble Faun Richard E. Mezo,1999-05 Since its publication in 1860 critics have questioned the artistic value of Hawthorne s The Marble Faun A revival of critical interest during the 1950 s and 1960 s has done little to change a generally unfavorable opinion of the work With a few notable exceptions most recent critics believe The Marble Faun to be inferior to Hawthorne s other completed romances Such opinions however usually seem to be based upon the personal taste of the individual critic rather than upon any sort of objective artistic standards The purpose of this study is to examine and evaluate the various critical approaches to The Marble Faun These interpretations provide the basis for a re appraisal of the work A study of the structure the main themes and the characters of The Marble Faun reveals that it is not an inferior work of art In many respects The Marble Faun reflects the maturity of Hawthorne s artistic and philosophical beliefs The Marble Faun is a work capable of standing on its own merits Some critics have misunderstood Hawthorne s aesthetic principles Hawthorne thought that art should be used to suggest moral values The power of art he believed was in its suggestiveness The creation of an ideal beauty which has no exact counterpart in the material world suggests the reality of an unknowable divine providence However the value of a work of art depends upon the mood of the viewer The viewer must assist the artist with his sympathy and imagination in an act of continual creation The work of art will reflect back only those qualities which are brought to it by the viewer Hawthorne s view of life is similar to the philosophy expressed by modern Christian existentialists Throughout his writings Hawthorne's concern for humanity is evident In The Marble Faun Hawthorne explores a problem which has become almost an obsession of modern man This problem is the question of man's moral position in what seems to be a meaningless if not hostile universe The most important theme of The Marble Faun is a consideration of the consequences of man's alienation from other men from God and from nature The structure and the themes of The Marble Faun are developed through the actions of the major characters Hilda Miriam Donatello and Kenyon are each transformed by a fall from relative innocence into a world of suffering humanity Donatello's transformation from faun to man is more striking than the transformations of the other three characters and it is his fall which leads to the question of the felix culpa Although Hilda and Kenyon are ultimately less mature characters than Donatello and Miriam they also benefit from their experiences in Rome Hawthorne's belief in the brotherhood of all men is demonstrated by the experiences of the major characters in The Marble Faun Whether or not it is their wish each of these characters must accept the responsibility for his own actions and each must become involved with humanity It is Hawthorne's deep concern for the human condition profoundly expressed in his art which makes The Marble Faun a work of enduring importance to our civilization

The Scarlet Letter Nathaniel Hawthorne, 2003-02-04 Hailed by Henry James as the finest piece of imaginative writing yet put forth in the country Nathaniel Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter reaches to our nation's historical and moral roots for the material of great tragedy. Set in an early New England colony, the novel shows the terrible impact a single passionate act has on the lives of three members of the community: the defiant Hester Prynne, the fiery tortured Reverend Dimmesdale, and the obsessed vengeful Chillingworth. With The Scarlet Letter, Hawthorne became the first American novelist to forge from our Puritan heritage a universal classic, a masterful exploration of humanity's unending struggle with sin, guilt, and pride.

Ruined Eden of the Present Gary Richard Thompson, Virgil Llewellyn Lokke, 1981. A recurrent idea in Darrel Abel's criticism of the works of Hawthorne gives this volume its title. The idea of a fallen world and its potential for partial redemption through art and the art of criticism is a theme that weaves in and out of the sixteen essays. The volume as a whole displays an explicit and implicit concern with critical approaches and reflects an awareness of the fictiveness of critical resolutions in a world in which boundaries are constantly under challenge, for example those which divide textuality from contextuality. This collection of essays explores the problems the practical critic and teacher has had to face in the shifts in taste, assumptions, and methodology in the moves from moral and historical criticism to the New Criticism and to the newer linguistic and semiotic criticism.

Hawthorne, Sculpture, and the Question of American Art Deanna Fernie, 2016-12-05. Deanna Fernie analyzes the significance of sculpture in Hawthorne's fiction through the recurring motif of the fragment in its double guise as ruin and project. Her book casts new light on Hawthorne's memorable ruined and unfinished images: from the rough-hewn figurehead of Drowne's Wooden Image (1844) to the tattered letter A in the unfinished loft of the Custom House in The Scarlet Letter (1850) and the unfinished bust of Donatello in The Marble Faun (1860). Fernie shows how the tension between the formed and unformed enabled Hawthorne to interrogate the origins and the distinctive possibilities of art in America in relation to established European models. At the same time, she suggests that sculpture challenged and provoked Hawthorne's shaping of his own specifically literary art, stimulating him to develop its capacities for expressing irresolution and change. Fernie establishes the intellectual contexts for her study through a discussion of sculpture and fragmentary form as revealed in American, British, and Continental thought. Her book will be an important text not only for American literature scholars but also for anyone interested in British and Continental Romanticism and the intersections of art and literature.
