Headache Major Problems In Internal Medicine:

Ergebnisse der Inneren Medizin und Kinderheilkunde/Advances in Internal Medicine and Pediatrics P. Frick, G.-A. von Harnack, K. Kochsiek, G. A. Martini, A. Prader, 2012-12-06 Diagnosis and Treatment in Internal Medicine Patrick Davey, David Sprigings, 2018-08-30

Diagnosis and Treatment in Internal Medicine equips trainee doctors with the essential skills and core knowledge to establish a diagnosis reliably and quickly before outlining the management of the clinical condition diagnosed. Organised into three sections the first provides a vital overview whilst the second focuses on common presentations and diagnoses. Uniquely this new book shows readers how to turn symptoms into a list of diagnoses ordered by probability a differential diagnosis. Experienced consultants who teach trainees every day demonstrate how to derive an ordered differential diagnosis how to narrow this down to a single diagnosis and if not how to live with diagnostic uncertainty. The final section provides a comprehensive account of the management of system based syndromes and diseases. Highly structured chapters emphasize how common conditions present how to approach a diagnosis and how to estimate prognosis treatment and its effectiveness. An onus is placed on the development of crucial diagnostic skills and the ability to devise evidence based management plans quickly and accurately making this an ideal text for core medical trainees.

In September 1983 the First International Headache Congress took place the founding congress of the International Headache Society IHS. This meeting was attended by around 200 headache specialists from some 20 countries. One of the principal goals of the IHS which was formed in London in 1982 is to promote and stimulate interest and research in the headache field. In addition to the sponsorship of continued education events this also involves the coordination of scientific projects and the organization of future conferences. There is no doubt that headaches represent an everyday problem in medical practice. When the first headache clinics were established some years ago they were regarded as very progressive. Today there are special outpatient centers and clinics for headache patients. However this specialization has certainly not progressed very far. The fact is that differential diagnosis and treatment of recurrent and chronic headaches represents a broad field that cuts across many disciplines. Headaches are thus relevant not only to the neurologist but also to the psychiatrist the neurosurgeon the internist the endocrinologist the psychologist the pharmacologist and the biochemist. Despite intensive research in numerous and very disparate medical disciplines there are still no generally accepted pathophysiologic concepts for many headache syndromes. Realizing the importance of a multidisciplinary forum the IHS assumed the organization of this congress in collaboration with the German Migraine Society.
