Cognitive Psychology of Mass Communication Fred W. Sanborn, Richard Jackson Harris, 2019-01-15 In a constantly changing media landscape A Cognitive Psychology of Mass Communication is the go to text for any course that examines mass communication from a psychological perspective Now in its seventh edition the book continues its exploration of how our experiences with media affect the way we acquire and process knowledge about the world and how this knowledge influences our attitudes and behavior Updates include end of chapter suggestions for further reading new research and examples for a more global perspective as well as an added emphasis on the power of social media in affecting our perceptions of reality and ourselves While including real world examples the book also integrates psychology and communication theory along with reviews of the most up to date research The text covers a diversity of media forms and issues ranging from commonly discussed topics such as politics sex and violence to lesser studied topics such as emotions and prosocial media Readers will be challenged to become more sensitized and to think more deeply about their own media use as they explore research on behavior and media effects Written in an engaging readable style the text is appropriate for graduate or undergraduate audiences The accompanying companion website also includes resources for both instructors and students For students Chapter outlines and review questions Useful links For instructors Guidelines for in class discussions Sample syllabus Summaries Please visit www.routledge.com/cw/sanborn Emotional Practice in Old English

Literature Alice Jorgensen, 2024 An examination of how emotions were practised and performed through Old English texts Scholarship is increasingly interested in investigating concepts of emotion found in Old English literature This study takes the next step arguing that both heroic and religious texts were vehicles for emotional practice that is for doing things with emotion Using case studies from heroic poetry Beowulf The Battle of Brunanburh and The Battle of Maldon religious poetry Christ I and Christ III and homilies selections from the Vercelli Book Blickling Homilies and the works of Wulfstan it shows via detailed close readings that texts could be used to act out emotional styles manage the emotions arising from specific events and negotiate relationships both within social groups and with God Meanwhile a chapter on the Old English Boethius explores how the control of unruly emotions is theorized as the transfer of attachment from the things of this world to the things of the divine Overall the volume offers new angles on the social functions of genres and questions of reception and performance and it gives insight into how early medieval people used emotions to relate to their world temporal and eternal contributors, Media Entertainment Dolf Zillmann, Peter Vorderer, 2000-05-01 This collection represents a systematic exploration of media entertainment from an academic perspective. Editors Zillmann and Vorderer have assembled scholars from psychology, sociology, and communication to provide a broad examination of the primary function of media entertainment: the attainment of gratification. Chapters included here address vital aspects of media entertainment and summarize pertinent findings, providing an overview of what is presently known about the appeal and function of the essential forms of media entertainment and offering some degree of integration. Written in a clear, non-technical style, this volume provides a lively and entertaining study of media entertainment for academic study and coursework. A Companion to the Horror Film Harry M. Benshoff, 2017-01-17 This cutting-edge collection features original essays by eminent scholars on one of cinema's most dynamic and enduringly popular genres, covering everything from the history of horror movies to the latest critical approaches. Contributors include many of the finest academics working in the field, as well as exciting younger scholars. Varied and comprehensive coverage from the history of horror to broader issues of censorship, gender, and sexuality. Covers both English language and non-English horror film traditions. Key topics include horror film aesthetics, theoretical approaches, distribution, art house cinema, ethnographic surrealism, and horror's relation to documentary film practice. A thorough treatment of this dynamic film genre, suited to scholars and enthusiasts alike.
