Horses And Courses:

Horses for Courses Russell S. Stokes, 2018-06-29 I started writing this book many years ago and it has just been gathering dust as I did not know the process involved in getting a book published However I went on a holiday to Malaysia and I was telling a lady friend I had just met that I had enough information about horses to write three books The first one is for beginners Without my knowledge she contacted a book publisher and started the ball rolling For myself learning about horses was all hands on working and learning over many years However these days new riders are learning from TAFE courses riding schools pony clubs books and the internet In my day this was not the case I left home at the age of fourteen to start learning about horses as from a very early age I knew I wanted to be a jockey My love for horses has never faded

The Sketch ,1901 Horse Power and Magic George Ewart Evans,2012-03-15 The pioneering oral historian George Ewart Evans began to record the farming ways of East Anglia in the 1950s by listening to old men and women whose memories went back more than fifty or sixty years Many were agricultural labourers born before the turn of the century who had worked on farms before the arrival of mechanisation It was assumed at that time that horses would soon disappear from the farms and that this was the last chance of recording the part they had played for centuries It later became clear that this forecast was too pessimistic and in Horse Power and Magic Faber 1979 Ewart Evans describes in fascinating detail some important farms where horses continued to be beneficially used more than thirty years later He discovered that the traditions of the older horsemen had not died out but had been passed on in only slightly attenuated form to a younger generation keen to farm with horses proving that the day of the heavy horse was by no means over He also describes vividly the ways of horse tamers whose skills had a touch of magic about them Taking his works a whole there is no doubt that George Ewart Evans will survive as a fascinating pioneer of the extra academic recording of human history he has found a dimension all his own This is indeed the very stuff of history Sunday Times Horses for Courses Anne Holland,2011-10-14 There can be no better way of getting to know Ireland than by visiting its racecourses from the glamour of Leopardstown and the class of The Curragh to the majestic mountains around Killarney from the warm welcome at Gowran Park and Clonmel to the summer holidaymakers meetings and industry days in the winter months At any one of these venues you might catch a glimpse of a future Cheltenham Gold Cup champion or Derby winner in action Horses for Courses guides readers through a typical year in Irish racing and highlights the individuality of each venue All have their own special qualities and atmosphere but share two common traits a warm welcome and good sport And that is what the author believes Irish racing is all about The country s courses enjoy a huge level of support from the local population It might be raining and some of the races may be ordinary but the stands will always be crowded That is because racing is part of Irish culture and the nation s way of life with 27 courses it has proportionately far more venues than Great Britain Meticulously researched and passionately written Horses for Courses is the definitive guide to Ireland s racecourses and is essential reading for horse racing enthusiasts everywhere
