Marks & Monograms on European and Oriental Pottery and Porcelain William Chaffers, 1946 European Ceramics R. J. C. Hildyard, 1999 The history of ceramics is extraordinarily diverse ranging from crude clay utensils to highly decorative pieces of immense beauty and craftsmanship This lively book traces the story of European ceramics from the end of the Middle Ages to the present day European Pottery and Porcelain Paul J Atterbury, 1979 Marks and Monograms on European and Oriental Pottery and Porcelain William Chaffers, 1912 The Art of Ceramics Howard Coutts, 2001-01-01 The great age of European ceramic design began around 1500 and ended in the early 19th century with the introduction of large scale production of ceramics In this illustrated history with nearly 300 color and black and white photos and reproductions curator Howard Coutts considers the main stylistic trends Renaissance Mannerism Oriental Rococo and Neoclassicism as they were represented in such products as Italian Majolica Dutch Delftware Meissen and Sevres porcelain Staffordshire and Wedgwood pottery He pays close attention to changes in eating habits over the period particularly the layout of a formal dinner and discusses the development of ceramics as room decoration the transmission of images via prints marketing of ceramics and other luxury goods and the intellectual background to Neoclassicism Pottery and Porcelain Marks E. George Perrott, J. Wendy Perrott, 1997-01-01 It took George Perrott and his wife more than seven years to complete this book It is compiled in date order and consists of marks from the factories of Europe USA Japan and China It covers approximately 10 000 marks and references It commences with the Ming Dynasty of 1368 and takes the reader through the 15th century Maiolica period of the Italian Renaissance the German and French Faience of the 16th century the early 17th century Dutch Delft wares and continues on to the great factories of Europe including Meissen Sevres and the English factories of Wedgwood Minton Spode Doulton etc The major part of the book concentrates on older marks but a significant effort has been made to include marks from factories and potters that are currently in business and still producing their wares today More than 500 companies throughout Europe USA and the Far East contributed to this project Collectors Clubs and Museums were also a great source of information This publication is in fact one of the most original marks books to come onto the market in recent times It must be the first of its kind that catalogs the marks factories and potters in date order giving added perception of their time in history If you are a collector of porcelain and pottery or you deal in it as a profession this book is a must for your bookshelf Important European Pottery and Porcelain W. et F. C. Bonham et Sons (London u.a.), 1960 A Guide to the Pottery & Porcelain of the Far East British Museum. Department of Oriental Antiquities and of Ethnography, Robert Lockhart Hobson, 1924 European Porcelain in The Metropolitan Museum of Art Jeffrey Munger, Elizabeth Sullivan, 2018-05-09 Porcelain imported from China was the most highly coveted new medium in sixteenth and early seventeenth century Europe Its pure white color translucency and durability as well as the delicacy of decoration were impossible to achieve in European earthenware and stoneware In response European ceramic factories set out to discover the process of producing porcelain in the Chinese manner with significant artistic technical and commercial ramifications for Britain and the Continent Indeed not only artisans but kings noble patrons and entrepreneurs all joined in the quest hoping to gain both prestige and profit from the enterprises they established This beautifully illustrated volume showcases ninety works that span the late sixteenth to the mid nineteenth century and reflect the major currents of European porcelain production Each work is illustrated with glorious new photography accompanied by analysis and interpretation by one of the leading experts in European decorative arts Among the wide range of porcelains selected are rare blue and white wares and figures from Italy superb examples from the Meissen factory in Germany and the Sèvres factory in France and ceramics produced by leading British eighteenth century artisans Taken together they reveal why the Metropolitan Museum's holdings in this field are among the finest in the world
