Copyright Office, 1957 Chaplin's Music Hall Barry Anthony, 2012-09-30 Charlie Chaplin grew up in and around the music hall. His parents, aunt, and their friends all earned their precarious livings on the stage, and Chaplin himself started out his career touring music halls with a dance troupe. His experiences of the culture of the music hall were a major influence shaping his style of acting and the films he made, most famously Limelight, which tells the story of a failing variety performer and which evoked painful memories of his own past. Chaplin was horrified to see how performers' lives were ruined when their audience turned against them, and he was relieved to exchange the stresses of live performance for screen comedy. Barry Anthony here tells the story of the lives and careers of Chaplin's family and their music hall circle, from dashing Eva Lester to the great Fred Karno, and from Chaplin's parents, Hannah Hill and Charles Chaplin, to The Great Calvero himself. He reveals the difficult and often tragic lives of London's variety community in the late Victorian and Edwardian years, a time of great change in the music hall and entertainment scene, and in doing so sheds important new light on the inspiration behind Chaplin's genius, providing a fascinatingly fresh perspective on this popular cultural icon of the twentieth century Music in the USA Judith Tick, Paul E. Beaudoin, 2008 Presents a compilation of primary source materials on American music from 1540-2000, including some facsimiles School of Music Programs University of Michigan. School of Music, 1978 The Palgrave Handbook of Music and Sound in Japanese Animation Marco Pellitteri, 2024-09-13 This handbook fills a substantial gap in the international academic literature on animation, at large, on music studies, and on the aural dimensions of Japanese animation, more specifically. It offers a unique contribution at the intersection between music and popular culture studies, on the one hand, and research on Japanese animated productions, often called anime, as popular art forms and formats of entertainment, on the other. The book is designed as a reference work, consisting of an organic sequence of theory-grounded essays on the development of music sounds and voices in Japanese animation for cinema and television since the 1930s. Each chapter deals with a phase of this history, focusing on composers and performers, films, series, and genres used in the soundtracks for animations made in Japan. The chapters also offer valuable interviews with prominent figures of music in Japanese animation, as well as chapter boxes clarifying specific aspects The Music of the Republic Eva Brann, 2011 In this collection of essays, Eva Brann talks with readers about the conversations Socrates has with his fellow Athenians. She shows how Plato's dialogues and the timeless matters they address remain important to us today. From introductory pieces on the Republic, the Phaedo, and the Sophist, to an account of the less well-known Charmides, each essay starts where Plato starts, without presupposing a critical theory. In the title essay, Socrates' brilliant account of the Republic, Brann demonstrates its central importance in Plato's work Other essays consider Plato's notion of time discuss how to teach Plato to undergraduates and contend that a thoughtful text based study of Plato can have a very personal impact on a reader Encouraged to befriend the dialogues readers will join in the great Socratic conversations Behind the Rainbow: The Tragic Life of Eva Cassidy Johan Bakker, 2012-01-19 Eva Cassidy's story is one of the most compelling and poignant in recent music history In this thoughtful and probing biography Johan Bakker explores her brief performing career and the fame that only came after her death at the age of 33 A local performer Eva Cassidy's performance in Iceland was the closest she ever got to Europe Yet her music has touched millions across the world Her posthumously released albums Imagine Songbird Simply Eva and Somewhere included three UK number ones have sold more than ten million copies Interviewing Eva's friends colleagues and family in Washington D C and Maryland Johan Bakker traces her short life her idealism and her disillusionment with the business side of her trade
