

Drinking Session

I have my angels and demons
I have a lot on my mind
But when I open my mind
There are no answers to find

There's only one place to go
It's calling my name
This bottle of liquor
Will swallow my shame

With a heavy heart, I sit back and gaze
Up at the sky and it's starry maze

As I take down a few more shots
I leave you with this -
My unadulterated thoughts:

God give me wings to fly
In this broken world I see angels falling from the sky
Good people losing faith

And I can't help but wonder why?
Will I be next?
Trading my lows for getting high?

I find myself wondering what even is a memory
If we choose to forget?
I'm out here living my life
But who else really cares about it

Each second of time slips by as forgotten as the last
Facts are remembered
But emotions are left in the past

Each day we chase the carrot in front of our nose
But what happens when we reach death
And realize it was ignorance we chose?

God, relieve my heavy heart
Take the pain away
It's slowly ripping me apart
So I look toward the sky to pray

As I take my last sip
And let my brain drown its sorrow

Metamorphosis of the Private Sphere Xiaoshan Yang, 2020-05-11 The Chinese garden has been explored from a variety of angles Much has been written about its structural features as well as its cosmological religious philosophical moral aesthetic and economic underpinnings This book deals with the poetic configurations of the private garden in cities from the ninth to the eleventh century in relation to the development of the private sphere in Chinese literati culture It focuses on the ways in which the new values and rhetoric associated with gardens and the objects found in them helped shape the processes of self cultivation and self imaging among the literati as they searched for alternatives to conventional values at a time when traditional political moral and aesthetic norms were increasingly judged inapplicable or inadequate The garden was also an artifact and a locus for material culture and social competition Focusing on a series of anecdotes about private transactions involving objects in gardens the author dissects the intricate nexus between the exchange of poetry and the poetry of exchange In tracing the development of the private urban garden through the writings of Bai Juyi Su Shi Sima Guang and their contemporaries the author argues that this private space figured increasingly as a place of disengagement for those out of political power and hence was increasingly invaded by political forces
