To Shape Our World for Good C. William Walldorf, Jr., 2019-06-15 Why does the United States pursue robust military invasions to change some foreign regimes but not others Conventional accounts focus on geopolitics or elite ideology C William Walldorf Jr argues that the politics surrounding two broad public narratives the liberal narrative and the restraint narrative often play a vital role in shaping US decisions whether to pursue robust and forceful regime change Using current sociological work on cultural trauma Walldorf explains how master narratives strengthen and weaken and he develops clear predictions for how and when these narratives will shape policy To Shape Our World For Good demonstrates the importance and explanatory power of the master narrative argument using a sophisticated combination of methods quantitative analysis and eight cases in the postwar period that include Korea Vietnam and El Salvador during the Cold War and more recent cases in Iraq and Libya The case studies provide the environment for a critical assessment of the connections among the politics of master narratives pluralism and the common good in contemporary US foreign policy and grand strategy Walldorf adds new insight to our understanding of US expansionism and cautions against the dangers of misusing popular narratives for short term political gains a practice all too common both past and present

Cartographies of Nature Maano Ramutsindela, 2014-06-19 The ascendancy of border studies in the last two decades or so and the burgeoning work on nature and society neither drew attention to ecological theories of borders nor capitalised on nature as a useful avenue through which border research could be advanced This volume fills this void by engaging with the following key questions What insights can be drawn from species borders to broaden understandings of bordering What sorts of borders are engendered by various types of conservation areas What border stories does each of these areas tell us What do conservation related borders teach us about multiple lines that divide societies Answers to these questions help researchers understand a typology of nature related borders The primary objectives of this volume are twofold The first objective is to expand and deepen the links between nature conservation and border studies by bringing species borders into conversation with border studies while at the same time paying attention to diverse conservation areas and conservation practices The second objective is to highlight forms of borders associated with various types of conservation areas and the protection of certain types of natural resources The manner in which nature conservation produces borders and the forms those borders take has the potential to enrich the conceptualisation of borders The point of departure in this volume is that conservation practices produce feedback loops on social reality Authors in the volume variously show that concerns with environmental protection and management offer possibilities for exploring and even disrupting borders within society and those between society and nature Conservation areas in particular are crucial for a meaningful analysis of nature's borders and the discourses and narratives related to them and how such discourses influence conservation practice This volume is an invaluable resource for research and upper level courses on border studies political ecology conservation and biodiversity management and environmental change and social impact

Female Innovators Who Changed Our World Emma Green,2022-04-13 We are not all born with equal opportunities Yet there have been countless of women who have overcome a range of barriers such as prejudice illness and personal tragedy to advance our understanding of science technology engineering and mathematics STEM They used their knowledge to change the world and their stories are fascinating This book offers a concise introduction of the lives of 46 women taking you into the cultural and social context of the world they lived in Through their intelligence courage and resilience they used STEM to defy expectations and inspire generations to follow in their footsteps Some of them invented items we use day to day and discovered causes and treatments for epidemics that ostracised whole sections of society whilst others campaigned for the reproductive rights of women and harnessed mathematics to send people into space and break ciphers These women are proof that females can and did have a hugely significant role in shaping the world we live in today On the World and Ourselves Zygmunt Bauman,Stanislaw Obirek,2015-09-14 Unde malum from where does evil come That is the question that has plagued humankind ever since Eve seduced by the serpent tempted Adam to taste the forbidden fruit of the tree of knowledge of good and evil Throughout history the awareness of good and evil has always been linked to the awareness of choice and to the freedom and responsibility to choose this is what makes us human But the responsibility to choose is a burden that weighs heavily on our shoulders and the temptation to hand this over to someone else be they a demagogue or a scientist who claims to trace everything back to our genes is a tempting illusion like the paradise in which humans have at last been relieved of the moral responsibility for their actions In the second series of their conversations Zygmunt Bauman and Stanislaw Obirek reflect on the life challenges confronted by the denizens of the fragmented individualized society of consumers and the form taken in such a society by the fundamental aspects of the human condition such as human responsibility for the choice between good and evil self formation and self assertion the need for recognition or the call to empathy mutual respect human dignity and tolerance
