Discrete-Event Simulation George S. Fishman, 2013-03-09 Discrete event simulation consists of a collection of techniques that when applied to a discrete event dynamical system generates sequences called sample paths that characterize its behavior. The collection includes modelling concepts for abstracting the essential features of a system using specially designed software for converting these relationships into computer-executable code capable of generating the requisite sample path data, outlining procedures for converting these data into estimates of systems performances, and then illustrating methods for assessing how well these estimates approximate true but unknown system behavior. This book is intended for upper-level undergraduate and graduate students in operations research and management science, mathematics, industrial engineering, computer science, and business, and features extensive exercises throughout. This concept of modelling complex systems allows a relatively low-cost way of gathering information for decision making. Principally offered are four problems for student exercises; each is progressively brought forward through the modelling, programming, and analysis chapters, providing continuity to the learning process.

Evaluation and Comparison of CORBA (Object Request Broker) Implementations Roland Gelbmann, 2002-07-11 Inhaltsangabe Abstract Common Object Request Broker Architecture CORBA, a standard from the Object Management Group (OMG), defines a vendor-independent architecture and infrastructure for distributed systems. Further, CORBA specifies a client-server platform as well as an object-oriented programming model for distributed computing. The Object Request Broker (ORB) implements the part of CORBA which manages communication and data exchange between objects. CORBA-based applications often have to communicate with ORBs from different vendors. Therefore, testing the interoperability is one important point in this work. Six actually available ORB implementations are shown and compared at given features. If a problem has to be solved with CORBA, it is necessary to choose the best ORB implementation for that purpose because they differ often at significant points. Important details for decision are Standard Conformity, Robustness,

Functionality as well as Functional Range or Interoperability Exactly these properties are to be examined in this work The investigation is performed on six at the web available ORBs indeed Jacorb 1 4 beta 2 Orbacus 4 1 0 Orbix E2A 2 0 OpenORB 1 2 0 J2SE ORB 1 4 0 as well as TAO 1 2 1 all in their most actual released version Additionally to these properties the correct implementation of the most important CORBA Services is checked They are Event Service Notification Service Name Service and Transaction Service The ORBs are compared at this given properties It shows that the ORBs differ very much from each other and that the CORBA Services are often implemented incorrectly Further a high costly implementation is no guarantee for best quality at all points The evaluation shows that a freely available ORB can be as good as or better than a commercial one
