and a friend of Kashmir's political reformers. He made enemies of the Hindu Establishment who described him as exceedingly a bad man and one too much fond of cricket but earned the respect of two successive Hindu Maharajas as well as the Muslim leader who succeeded them. He was 27 when he became the Principal of the Church Missionary Society's school in Kashmir in 1890 and he left as India gained independence in 1947. His vision was of a school in action vigorously involved in the affairs and problems of the city of Srinagar to support the weak and to fight corruption wherever it occurred. Under his leadership the masters and boys were engaged in fighting fires in the city saving people from drowning taking hospital patients for outings on the lakes helping women and removing the ban on the remarriage of young widows. His avowed purpose was to make his students into honest fearless leaders who would serve their beloved country of Kashmir. The book begins with the medieval condition of Kashmir in the nineteenth century describes the development of his unusual approach to education explores the many challenges he had to overcome including his chronic bad health his difficulties with the CMS and the opposition of the Hindu establishment and State Government and contrasts this with the speedy and enthusiastic acceptance by his young Kashmiri teachers and students of what he was offering and how together they transformed their society and prepared Kashmir for independence.

Ingulsrud, 2015-12-15 Stepping Up to the Cold War Challenge The Norwegian American Lutheran Experience in 1950s Japan describes the events that led to the Evangelical Lutheran Church ELC an American Christian denomination to respond to General MacArthur's call for missionaries. This Church did not initially respond but did so in 1949 only after their missionaries had been expelled from China due to the victory of communist forces on the mainland. Because they feared Japan would also succumb to communism in less than ten years the missionaries evaded ecumenical cooperation and social welfare projects to focus on evangelism and establishing congregations. Many of the ELC missionaries were children and grandchildren of Norwegian immigrants who had settled as farmers on the North American Great Plains. Based on interview transcripts and other primary sources this book intimately describes the personal struggles of individuals responding to the call to be a missionary adjusting to life in Japan learning Japanese raising a family and engaging in mission work. As the Cold War threat diminished and independence movements elsewhere were ending colonialism missionaries were compelled to change methods and attitudes The 1950s was a time when missionaries went out much in the same manner that they did in the nineteenth century Through the voices of the missionaries and their Japanese coworkers the book documents how many of the traditional missionary assumptions begin to be questioned The New Englander ,1880 The Maltese Missionary Experience Fr John Caruana, Church Missionary Intelligencer and Record ,1900 Proceedings of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East... Church Missionary Society,1901
