Irish Face Redefining The Irish Portrait:

The Irish Face Fintan Cullen, 2004 Starting with a discussion of what makes a portrait particular to one country or region Fintan Cullen explores the contradictions within existing definitions of national art Aloysius O'Kelly Niamh O'Sullivan, 2010 This is a critical biography of Aloysius O Kelly's career as a painter illustrator and committed Fenian which uncovers a world hardly known hitherto except in the most caricatured versions The Cambridge History of Ireland: Volume 3, 1730-1880 James Kelly, 2018-02-28 The eighteenth and nineteenth centuries was an era of continuity as well as change Though properly portrayed as the era of Protestant Ascendancy it embraces two phases the eighteenth century when that ascendancy was at its peak and the nineteenth century when the Protestant elite sustained a determined rear guard defence in the face of the emergence of modern Catholic nationalism Employing a chronology that is not bound by traditional datelines this volume moves beyond the familiar political narrative to engage with the economy society population emigration religion language state formation culture art and architecture and the Irish abroad It provides new and original interpretations of a critical phase in the emergence of a modern Ireland that while focused firmly on the island and its traditions moves beyond the nationalist narrative of the twentieth century to provide a history of late early modern Ireland for the twenty first century The Oxford Handbook of Modern Irish History Alvin Jackson, 2014-03-27 The study of Irish history once riven and constricted has recently enjoyed a resurgence with new practitioners new approaches and new methods of investigation The Oxford Handbook of Modern Irish History represents the diversity of this emerging talent and achievement by bringing together 36 leading scholars of modern Ireland and embracing 400 years of Irish history uniting early and late modernists as well as contemporary historians The Handbook offers a set of scholarly perspectives drawn from numerous disciplines including history political science literature geography and the Irish language It looks at the Irish at home as well as in their migrant and diasporic communities The Handbook combines sets of wide thematic and interpretative essays with more detailed investigations of particular periods Each of the contributors offers a summation of the state of scholarship within their subject area linking their own research insights with assessments of future directions within the discipline In its breadth and depth and diversity The Oxford Handbook of Modern Irish History offers an authoritative and vibrant portrayal of the history of modern Ireland The Routledge Companion to Irish Art Fionna Barber, Fintan Cullen, 2025-04-30 This companion contains new and innovative writing on Irish art and its history from c 1800 to the present day This book critically engages with Irish art in a period linked to key events in Irish history beginning with the Acts of Union between Britain and Ireland 1800 01 and the significant social and cultural changes that resulted The book also provides a precedent for a focus on the significance of art in relation to other subsequent key historical events such as the early twentieth century struggles for independence or the role of political conflict in Northern Ireland from the late 1960s onwards and its aftermath Key themes covered include tradition and innovation upheavals of history place location and artistic formations Irish art and the wider world and embodiment and identity The book expands the critical discourse around Irish art over this period both within Ireland and beyond and encourages the potential for future scholarship in fields and periods not covered This book will be of interest to scholars and students working in art history Irish studies and colonial studies John MacBride Donal Fallon, 2015-10-12 Major John MacBride who was Born in Westport County Mayo in 1868 was a household name in Ireland when many of the leaders of the Easter Rising were still relatively unknown figures As part of the Irish Brigade a band of nationalists fighting against the British in the Second Boer War MacBride's name featured in stories in the Freeman's Journal and Arthur Griffith's United Irishman The Major went on to travel across the United States lecturing audiences on the blow struck against the British Empire in South Africa His marriage to Maud Gonne described as Ireland's Joan of Arc led to further notoriety Their subsequent bitter separation involved some of the most senior figures in Irish nationalism MacBride was dismissed by William Butler Yeats as a drunken vainglorious lout Donal Fallon attempts to unravel the complexities of the man and his life and what led him to fight in Jacob's factory in 1916 John MacBride was executed in Kilmainham Gaol on 5 May 1916 two days before his forty eighth birthday The Reading Figure in Irish Art in the Long Nineteenth Century Tricia Cusack, 2022-02-01 The reading figure has been a recurrent theme in Western art but especially from the nineteenth century This book examines Irish portraits during the long nineteenth century in which people are shown reading or holding a book It explores different values ascribed to reading and contemporary constructions of the reader The selected pictures are by artists born trained or practising in Ireland Irish art is therefore used broadly to include work framed in some way by experience of Ireland and its history culture and politics This was a time of large social and cultural shifts for Ireland and a period when books and other reading including Irish novels were often published in London Many of the artists and sitters discussed were Anglo Irish Protestants Both Imperial and nationalist ideologues tended to devalue reading especially fiction as an unmanly occupation Nonetheless some men are depicted reading and failing to embody a manly attitude The spread of the novel and the introduction of silent reading allowed women of the middle and upper classes often Anglo Irish to engage with a range of imaginative reading materials secure from patriarchal surveillance Visual images of women as serious readers drew on and contributed to the emergence of the New Woman in Ireland

Ireland on Show Fintan Cullen, 2017-07-05 Looking past the apparent lack of a sustainable Irish display culture this book demonstrates that there is a very full story to tell of the way Ireland displayed its art from the late eighteenth to the early twentieth century Ireland on Show analyzes the impact of the display of art as a significant political and cultural feature in the make up of nineteenth century Ireland and in how Ireland was viewed beyond its own shores in particular in Great Britain and the United States Fintan Cullen directs much needed critical attention and analysis to a subject that has been largely overlooked from an Irish perspective This study moves beyond museums to address the range of art institutions in Irish cities that displayed art from the Royal Hibernian Academy founded in the 1820s to Hugh Lane's Municipal Art Gallery opened in Dublin in 1908 Throughout the book explores the battle between the display of a unionist ethos and a nationalist point of view a constant that resurfaces over the period By highlighting the tension between unionist and nationalist viewpoints Cullen uses the display of art to investigate the complexities of Irish cultural life before the founding of the Free State

A Shared Legacy Fintan Cullen, 2017-07-05 A Shared Legacy Essays on Irish and Scottish Art and Visual Culture brings together for the first time a unique selection of new research by leading Irish Scottish English and North American scholars to explore the varying ways in which the visual can operate within the context of two countries with related experiences of lost statehood yet retained nationhood Covering a span of three centuries this skilfully crafted book takes the discussion of Irish and Scottish art beyond the often isolationist approach adopted in the past dealing directly with issues of nationality in a wider context The authors identify national concerns through a range of themes race class union and assimilation or nationalism and internationalism and while many of the essays focus on paintings sculpture prints and watercolours others consider a wider notion of visual culture by investigating photography magic lantern slides and the home arts of embroidery and textiles

Ireland William Laffan, Christopher P. Monkhouse, Leslie Fitzpatrick, 2015-01-01 A sweeping survey of the arts of Ireland spanning 150 years and an astonishing range of artists and media This groundbreaking book captures a period in Ireland s history when countless foreign architects artisans and artists worked side by side with their native counterparts Nearly all of the works within this remarkable volume many of them never published before have been drawn from North American collections This catalogue accompanies the first exhibition to celebrate the Irish as artists collectors and patrons over 150 years of Ireland s sometimes turbulent history Featuring the work of a wide range of artists known and unknown and a diverse array of media the catalogue also includes an impressive assembly of essays by a pre eminent group of international experts working on the art and cultural history of Ireland Major essays discuss the subjects of the Irish landscape and tourism Irish country houses and Dublin s role as a center of culture and commerce Also included are numerous shorter essays covering a full spectrum of topics and artworks including bookbinding ceramics furniture glass mezzotints miniatures musical instruments pastels silver and textiles

1809 is the first full length study of the artist s writings Liam Lenihan critically assesses the artist s own aesthetic philosophy about painting and printmaking and reveals the extent to which Barry wrestles with the significant stylistic transformations of the pre eminent artistic genre of his age history painting Lenihan s book delves into the connections between Barry s writings and art and the cultural and political issues that dominated the public sphere in London during the American and French Revolutions

British and Irish Home Arts and Industries, 1880-1914 Janice Helland,2007 This is the first book to study the revival of cottage crafts that accompanied the growing interest in an arts and crafts movement in Britain and Ireland It focuses upon three regional craft associations organised sponsored and promoted by British women the Donegal Industrial Fund founded 1883 by Londoner Alice Rowland Hart the Irish Industries Association founded 1886 by Ishbel Countess of Aberdeen and supported by a number of Irish and British aristocrats and Highland Home Industries revived in 1886 by the Marchioness of Stafford later Millicent Duchess of Sutherland The three examples have been selected because although like many of their counterparts the patrons endorsed a relationship between work and morality they also recognised the significance of consumption and market Their patrons understood the value of spectacle the usefulness of advertising and the efficacy of exhibition The emphasis is upon how and why they adopted these strategies to promote and sell cottage crafts for the benefit of rural workers The introduction provides an overview of home arts and industries in Britain as part of the late nineteenth century craft revival and examines the difference between the large English based Home Arts and Industries Association and other home arts organisations in England Scotland Wales and Ireland

"The Writings of James Barry and the Genre of History Painting, 1775?809 " Liam Lenihan,2017-07-05 Examining the literary career of the eighteenth century Irish painter James Barry 1741 1806 through an interdisciplinary methodology The Writings of James Barry and the Genre of History Painting 1775 1809 is the first full length study of the artist s writings Liam Lenihan critically assesses the artist s own aesthetic philosophy about painting and printmaking and reveals the extent to which Barry wrestles with the significant stylistic transformations of the pre eminent artistic genre of his age history painting Lenihan s book delves into the connections between Barry s writings and art and the cultural and political issues that dominated the public sphere in London during the American and French Revolutions Barry s writings are read within the context of the political and aesthetic thought of his distinguished friends and contemporaries such as Edmund Burke his first patron Joshua Reynolds his sometime friend and rival Mary Wollstonecraft and William Godwin with whom he was later friends and his students and adversaries William Blake and Henry Fuseli Ultimately Lenihan s interdisciplinary reading shows the extent to which Barry s faith in the classical tradition in general and the genre of history painting in particular is permeated by the hermeneutics of suspicion This study explores and contextualizes Barry s attempt to rethink and remake the preeminent art form of his era

Compassionate Stranger Maureen O'Rourke Murphy,2015-01-06 The first biography of Asenath Nicholson Compassionate Stranger recovers the largely forgotten history of an extraordinary woman Trained as a school teacher

Nicholson was involved in the abolitionist temperance and diet reforms of the day before she left New York in 1844 to personally investigate the condition of the Irish poor. She walked alone throughout nearly every county in Ireland and reported on conditions in rural Ireland on the eve of the Great Irish Famine. She published Ireland's Welcome to the Stranger, an account of her travels in 1847. She returned to Ireland in December 1846 to do what she could to relieve famine suffering first in Dublin and then in the winter of 1847-48 in the west of Ireland where the suffering was greatest. Nicholson's precise detailed diaries and correspondence reveal haunting insights into the desperation of victims of the Famine and the negligence and greed of those who added to the suffering. Her account of the Great Irish Famine, Annals of the Famine in Ireland in 1847, 1848 and 1849, is both a record of her work and an indictment of official policies toward the poor, land employment, famine relief. In addition to telling Nicholson's story from her early life in Vermont and upstate New York to her better known work in Ireland, Murphy puts Nicholson's own writings and other historical documents in conversation. This not only contextualizes Nicholson's life and work but it also supplements the impersonal official records with Nicholson's more compassionate and impassioned accounts of the Irish poor. These Fissured Isles Terry Brotherstone, Anna Clark, Kevin Whelan, 2005. In the summer of 1999 a historical conference in Aberdeen under the title 98 and After started a discussion of the period when it has been argued British identity began to be popularly assumed and to become a matter of middle class and plebeian pride as the second British empire emerged. She Who Dares Lyndsy Spence, 2019-05-13. HISTORY has seen many women make their mark by defying the limits set against them, stepping out of the boxes they had been put in and forging their own path. She Who Dares is a collection of pen portraits of ten extraordinary women who dared to defy the norm. They were often witnesses to or participants in key events in the last 100 years including abdications, the rise of fascism and two world wars. Their lives were dramatic and vibrant, usually involving tangled webs of relationships, heartbreak and scandal. From influencing politics to being accused of witchcraft, from glamorous society beauties to nonconformist tom boys, each of these women deserves to be described as trailblazing. Field Day Review 4, 2008, 2005. Pompeo Batoni Edgar Peters Bowron, Peter Björn Kerber, Pompeo Batoni, Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, National gallery (London), 2007-01-01. Inventive storytelling, the early subject pictures, Batoni's British patrons and the grand tour, Painter of princes and prince of painters, Restorer of the Roman school, final years and reception. Drawings, working methods and studio practices.
