Is Anybody Up:

Every Day with Jesus Greg Laurie, 2018 FORTY YEARS OF FAVORITE DEVOTIONS The Rural Life of England; In Three Volumes William Howitt, 2023-09-21 Reproduction of the original The publishing house Megali specialises in reproducing historical works in large print to make reading easier for people with impaired vision The Windows of Heaven Ron Rozelle, 2022-11-10 Winner of the 2000 Texas Review Fiction Prize Set in Galveston during the 1900 storm the most devastating natural disaster in the history of the United States this sweeping novel follows the fates of several richly drawn characters It is the story of Sal the little girl who is wise beyond her years and who holds out as much hope for the world as she does for her father the ruined son of a respected father It is the story of Sister Zilphia the nun who helps run the St Mary's Orphanage The only thing separating the two long buildings of the orphanage is a fragile line of sand dunes the only thing separating Zilphia from the world is the brittle faith that she has been sent there to consider A faith that has never been truly tested Until now And it is the story of Galveston herself the grand old lady of the Gulf Coast with her harbor filled with ships from the world over her Victorian homes and her brothels and her grand pavilions set in their own parks and her stately mansions along Broadway the highest ground on the island at eight feet above sea level All must face their darkest night now as nature hurls the worst she can muster at the narrow strip of sand and saltgrass that is doomed to become for a time part of the ocean floor This is the story of heroes and villains of courage and sacrifice and most of all of people trying desperately to survive And it is the story of an era now gone of splendor and injustice filled with the simple joy of living

Prologue It started raining after midnight At first a few heavy drops as large as pebbles splattered against windows and spotted the dry pavement of the streets They plinked into half full troughs of dirty water outside the saloons on Post Office Street horses tied there winced against the stings People inside the saloons sailors and dock workers and whores paid no attention to the steadily quickening tattoo being pelted out on the tin sheets or slates of the roofs but kept to the business at hand the drinking and gambling and the sweaty brief stabbing away at the very oldest of human exertions Some of Galveston's people in other parts of the city listened to the rain from their beds A few who had looked up that day at the Levy Building on Market Street and noticed the pair of warning flags that flew from the fourth floor offices of the Weather Bureau knew that this was the first slow calling card of a tropical storm Isaac Cline the chief of the bureau had hoisted the flags on Friday morning and they had danced and popped in the brisk north wind all day The red one with the black box in its middle meant that a particularly malevolent storm was a possibility The white one above it meant that if it came it would come from the northwest But not too many people had seen the flags And now the first big drops of rain plopped into the sand dunes and salt grass of the island and slid through the muted light of the gas street lights in town and nobody paid much attention to them Those in bed closed their eyes and let the tapping of the rain sing them to sleep It had come a long way this storm Almost two weeks before somewhere on the immense swaying surface of the eternal Atlantic a small portion of the sea had

Dream City Douglas Unger, 2024-10-08 In this unconventional tale of Las Vegas during the two delirious boom decades before the bust of the Great Recession failed actor C D Reinhart who has launched a new career in hotel marketing is gradually losing his moral and existential compass Working on The Strip during an era when Sin City's population growth was outpacing any other place in America C D climbs the industry ladder while modeling himself after a Pyramid Resorts top executive Lance Sheperd C D's professional choices lead him down a tumultuous road as Sheperd a complex and at times visionary figure pilots his ventures through the tangled wheeling and dealing of finance and corporate politics straight into catastrophe As the story progresses C D comes to understand how his personal losses and the losses of his cohort of hard driving executives on the make especially the tragic life of his work partner Greta Olsson the only woman to break through into their male dominated world are a result of the make believe environment he has helped to create a world where representation replaces reality Hoping to piece together his faltering marriage and family relationships C D must find a new path as he struggles to hold onto his dreams In this fictionalized version of the city of glittering lights author Douglas Unger pits the ideologies of marketing and consumerism in the casino economy of America against the erosion of individual and humane values that success in that world demands Unger reveals the hard truth that Las Vegas a blue collar town considered by many to be the most honest city can be a temple for self deceptions emblematic of a service economy that knows the price of everything and too often the value of little else Dream City becomes both a love song and an elegy for Las Vegas that sets
