Is Australia An Asian Country:

Australia's Asia David Robert Walker, Agnieszka Sobocinska, 2012 To think that Australia is confronting Asia for the first time in the 21st century is to deny Australia's history and the self awareness that comes from understanding that the country has been here before Asia appears throughout modern Australian history as a source of anxiety or hope It has been a presence both within and outside Australia shaping who Australians are as well as the country's engagement with the wider world This book assembles an impressive group of scholars across a range of disciplines to present a broadly conceived cultural history that places Asia at or near the center of Australia's national story Australia's Asia From Yellow Peril to Asian Century captures the essence of the pendulum swings that have characterized Australian approaches to Asia over the past century and a half The editors have done a first class job in assembling high quality chapters that make an important contribution to the existing literature on Australia and Asia Moreover this book tells an important story about the role and impact of individuals not just elites but in many cases ordinary citizens in building Australia's relations with Asia It is a valuable remedy to the ahistorical approach of so many of the debates within Australia over regional engagement and is a useful text for those outside Australia interested in acquiring insights into what motivates the country's approach to its region Pacific Affairs Vol 87 No 4 December 2014 Understanding Australia's Neighbours Nick Knight, Michael

Heazle, Daniel Halvorson, 2011-09-26 A comprehensive introduction to the study of Asia Written thematically it provides comparisons between Asian and Australian societies and encourages readers to think about Australia's neighbours across a wide range of social economic and historical contexts Race, Colour and Identity in Australia and New Zealand John Docker, Gerhard Fischer, 2000 Fourteen academics and writers from the land down under present papers on aboriginal identity Asians in Australia Australians in Asia bi and multiculturalism in New Zealand and whiteness most of which were presented at the 1998 Sydney conference Adventures of Identity Constructing the Multic Australia's Asian Sporting Context, 1920s - 30s Sean Brawley, Nick Guoth, 2013-10-18 This book examines Australia's sporting relationships with the Asian region during the interwar period Until now Australia's sporting relationships with the Asian region have been neglected by scholars of Australian and Asian sports history and the broader field of Australia's Asian context Concentrating on the period of the 1920s and 1930s when sporting relationships between Australia and a number of Asian nations emerged in a variety of sports this book demonstrates the depth of these previously under examined connections The book challenges and complicates the broader historiography of Australia's Asian context a historiography that has been strongly influenced by the White Australia Policy and the Pacific War Why for example did white Australia so warmly welcome visiting Japanese sportsmen at a time when the Pacific region appeared to be inexorably sliding into a war that was informed by racial antagonisms This book examines sporting relations between Australia and seven Asian countries China Japan India Netherlands East Indies Philippines Malaya and Singapore and a range of sports including rugby football swimming hockey boxing cricket and tennis This book was published as a special issue of Sport in Society Australia in Southeast Asia Erik Charles Paul,1998 Australia's place in the global economy is linked to South East Asia Recent conflicts highlight a clash between countries that do not share common values about individuals political and civil rights as the legitimate basis for their sovereignty Australia's Trade, Investment And Security In The Asian Century John Hynes Farrar,Mary Hiscock,Vai Io Lo,2015-06-22 Given its geographical proximity to Asia and its close alliance with the West Australia amid the rise of Asian economies needs to re formulate its policies on trade investment and security Over the years in making decisions on issues relating to trade investment and security the Australian government has often resorted to the notion of national interest This book attempts to analyse national interest from the perspectives of economics finance international trade foreign direct investment international relations energy resources and migration in the context of Australia in the Asian century Currently there are no multidisciplinary books on the Australian national interest This book fills the gap with a broad and integrated approach in examining the subject Academics researchers and students of various disciplines such as economics finance international relations international trade foreign direct investment and Asian studies policy advisors government agencies financial institutions and trade law practitioners from around the world will find this book useful and stimulating Governance and Regionalism in Asia Nicholas Thomas,2009-01-13 This book explores the pressures currently influencing East Asian regionalist policy debates analysing the trend towards deeper integration and the emergence of a governance model for managing regional processes Australia's Pursuit of an Independent Foreign Policy under the Whitlam Labor Government Changwei Chen,2023-08-11 Examining a series of episodes in Australia's foreign relations under Whitlam the author pays attention to a broad range of hitherto insufficiently researched domestic and international issues in Australia's foreign relations of the early 1970s The election of the Whitlam led Labor Government in December 1972 ushered in fresh ideas and audacious initiatives in Australia's foreign policy Whitlam's approach was shaped by a vision of taking Australia forward to its rightful and independent place in the future of the Asia Pacific region They range from immigration policy and the abolition of appeals from Australian Courts to the Privy Council to such major international issues as the Anglo American base in Diego Garcia French nuclear testing in the Pacific and the Five Power Agreement with respect to Malaysia and Singapore He demonstrates how the pursuit of foreign policy independence repeatedly placed the Whitlam Government in a position wedged in between Australia's traditional allies and the Third World and how it navigated Australia's national interests on a series of dilemma situations involving conflicting strategic interests between Australia and its traditional allies and those between major powers and the non aligned countries The analysis presented in this book contributes to not only historical literature on the subject but also the understanding of how a middle power like Australia can navigate intensifying great power rivalry Essential reading for scholars of Australian foreign policy as well as being an invaluable case study of middle power diplomacy in the Asia Pacific region Diasporas, Development and Governance Abel

Chikanda,Jonathan Crush,Margaret Walton-Roberts,2015-12-12 Drawing on examples from the global North and South this book examines the relationship between migration development and diaspora engagement from a governance perspective It explores the ways that governments interact with their own extra national diasporic populations in order to boost economic development build global trading and investment networks and increase their political leverage overseas Inside readers will find fifteen essays which highlight such issues as diaspora engagement by governments at different scales the divisions that often exist within diaspora groups diaspora transnationalism and return migration diaspora knowledge networks and higher education capacity building and the neglected issues of South South migration and diasporas as well as North South migration and diasporas The book presents empirical case studies from various geographical contexts including Australia Canada the Philippines India the Caribbean Zimbabwe and the United States Overall this book presents fresh insights into how and why migrant sending countries are increasingly turning to the diaspora option to attempt to benefit from the transfer of knowledge skills and financial and social capital It provides policy makers researchers and students with new perspectives on governance and the means by which states are attempting to utilize their diaspora resources Festivals,

Tourism and Social Change David Picard,Mike Robinson,2006-10-12 This book explores the links between tourism and festivals and the various ways in which each mobilises the other to make social realities meaningful Drawing upon a series of international cases festivals are examined as ways of responding to various forms of crisis social political economic and as a way of re making and re animating spaces and social life Importantly this book locates festivals in the constantly changing socio economic and political contexts that they always operate in and respond to contexts that are both historical and modern at the same time Tourism is bound closely together with such contexts feeding and challenging festivals with audiences that are increasingly transient and transnational Tourism interrogates notions of ritual and tradition shapes new spaces and creates and renews relationships between participants and observers No longer can we dismiss tourists simply as value neutral and crass consumers of spectacle nor tourism as some inevitable commercial force Tourism is increasingly complicit in the festival processes of re invention and in forming new patterns of social existence Knowledge and Its Enemies ,

Continental Drift Rawdon Dalrymple,2018-12-13 This title was first published in 2003 Original insightful and well organized Rawdon Dalrymple studies Australia s sense of vulnerability and attachment to distant protectors which has coexisted with tendencies of both assertiveness and complacency Penetrating and authoritative the book examines the cautious development of Australian relations with East Asia during the 1980s and 1990s with detailed coverage of the background to the Australian effort and critical analysis of where Australian forays into the politics of the region leave its standing in East Asia and the world today Unsettling Australia Lars Jensen,2005 This Book Is A Critical Intervention Into Debates On Australia S Cultural History The Book Demonstrates The Interconnectedness Of Themes Commonly Seen As Separate Discursive Formations And Shows The Fruitfulness Of Bringing A Combined Cultural Studies And Post Colonial

Approach To Bear On A Number Of Fields Seen As Pivotal To The Formation And Particular Expression Of Australian Culture Today The Book Argues That A Redefinition Of The Borders Between What Has Been Regarded And Patrolled As Discrete Fields Of Australian Studies Is Mandatory In Order To Alter Definitions Of Australia S Cultural History And Identity Away From The Conventional Histories Of A Settler Culture Gradually Embracing A Multicultural Society The Introduction Argues For The Productiveness Of Combining A Cultural Studies Approach With Post Colonial Criticism And Explains Why The Placement Of Australian Cultural History In The Unconventional Territorial Representation Of Its Asian Other Is Not Only Enabling But Necessary In Order To Divest Australian Studies Of Settlement History S Monolithic Grasp On Definitions Of Australia S Cultural History The Subsequent Chapters Examine Australian Historiography Focusing On Colonial Beginnings Political History Focusing On Relations With Indonesia And East Timor Multiculturalism Focusing On The Chinese In Australia And Anthropology Focusing On Aboriginal Asian Contact History From This New Angle Facing North Volume

2 David Goldsworthy, Peter Edwards, 2015-03-02 Facing North is the first substantial history of Australia s relations with Asia since Federation Volume 1 2001 chronicles Australian Asian relations from 1901 to the 1970s Volume 2 now carries the story through the last decades of the century Both make extensive use of official government sources and of the private collections of ministers and public servants This volume discusses the changing relations between Australia and Asia in the period from the 1970s to 2000 Over this time integration became a dominant theme as Australia looked increasingly to its near neighbours to form political social and economic alliances An important driving force behind this direction was the economic opportunities presented by Asia At the same time Australia championed the rights of Asian countries to self determination economic development and an independent role in international affairs The book combines the discussion of broad policy themes with detailed analysis of policy making in relation to particular issues such as human rights and episodes such as the crisis in East Timor At home a key concern was the question of difference between Australian and Asian values As Australia began accepting significant numbers of immigrants from the region the country s national identity and the extent to which it identified with Asia became matters of intense debate Australian society itself has changed as a result Facing North is essential reading for anyone who wants to better understand Australia s present relations with Asian countries and our future choices
