European Union Negotiations:

European Union Negotiations Ole Elgström, Christer Jönsson, 2004-08-02 The EU negotiations differ from traditional international negotiations in several respects and this book presents a detailed analysis of the processes while examining its distinguishing features European Union Negotiations Ole Elgström, Christer Jönsson, 2004-08-02 The EU policy process is dependent on negotiations as a mode of reaching agreements on and implementing common policies The EU negotiations differ from traditional international negotiations in several respects and this book presents a detailed analysis of the processes while examining their distinguishing features The authors explore the variety of negotiation processes the continuity and institutionalization of negotiation processes as well as the involvement of a variety of actors besides governments often linked in informal networks Going beyond the common distinctions based on issue areas or the EU as negotiation arena as opposed to negotiating actor externally the authors explore the impact of different stages in the policy process and the nature of the external negotiating partner European Union Negotiations Ole Elgström, Christer Jönsson, 2004

The EU in International Negotiations Magdalena Frennhoff Larsén, 2023-02-24 This book which is aimed at scholars practitioners advanced under graduate and post graduate students seeks to contribute to the understanding of the EU as an international negotiator by analysing a number of external policy areas where the EU to a great extent engages internationally through negotiations including development trade enlargement and withdrawal Negotiations in the EU Council of Ministers Sandrino Smeets, 2016-01-01 Insiders and outsiders agree there is something particular about negotiating in Brussels This book analyses ten years of continuous negotiations about EU enlargement to the Western Balkans answering questions such as When and how are decisions typically reached in the European Union What is this culture of consensus that pervades negotiations in the Council of Ministers And why are some member states more successful than others in making their voices heard Using the metaphor of the Caucus race from Alice in Wonderland Smeets book offers a fresh perspective on the decision making realities in Brussels European Quarter By providing unique empirical insight into behind closed doors debates it explains the faltering accession process of the countries of former Yugoslavia But most of all it reveals the mechanism by which national interests are accommodated so that deals can be reached between the member states Negotiating the New Europe Dimitris Papadimitriou, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2002 Offering a new and challenging perspective on how the European Union EU sought to structure its relations with Central and Southeast Europe after the Cold War this volume draws upon key debates in both politics and international relations A historically and theoretically informed examination of the EU's engagement in Central and Eastern Europe since 1989 the book combines conceptual rigour with clear empirical analysis firmly grounding the study of the European Union's current enlargement process in established theoretical perspectives The book is written in an engaging and accessible way which will appeal to academics students and practitioners alike European Union Enlargement Michael Schwarzing, 2017-09-29

European Union Enlargement offers an intense and detailed analysis of the almost ten year process of preparing and negotiating the accession of Eastern Southeastern and Central European countries as well as Mediterranean countries to the European Union In the end ten joined in 2004 with two more to follow in 2007 European Union Enlargement was written by two diplomats who were directly involved in that process Sajdik and Schwarzingner relate their first hand experience of proceedings that occurred behind closed doors They detail how the vision of adding some countries gradually developed into the concrete policy intended to enlarge the European Union A special chapter explains the Accession Process as well as the Union s strategy that prepared the candidate countries in legal and economic terms for membership The authors describe in detail the complex negotiations that occurred from 1998 to 2002 These include activities of EU member states as well as the European Commission with respect to the candidate countries They further offer a brief analysis of future possibilities of EU accession by Balkan nations and Turkey A number of topical chapters deal with particular key issues involved in the process free movement of workers agriculture financing of the enlargement transport and nuclear safety Other chapters deal with the enclave of Kaliningrad as well as the Stability and Association Pact for South East Europe In addition to providing key information about the process this volume is also a case study of European policies and diplomatic practice The enlargement negotiations from 1998 to 2002 were the most complex ones the European Union had ever conducted In consequence this work gives insight into the working methods of both the institutions in Brussels and of the representatives of the member states that made them a success It will be of interest to those concerned with European politics international organizations and area studies

European Union Enlargement Michael Schwarzingner, 2017-09-29 European Union Enlargement offers an intense and detailed analysis of the almost ten year process of preparing and negotiating the accession of Eastern Southeastern and Central European countries as well as Mediterranean countries to the European Union In the end ten joined in 2004 with two more to follow in 2007 European Union Enlargement was written by two diplomats who were directly involved in that process Sajdik and Schwarzingner relate their first hand experience of proceedings that occurred behind closed doors They detail how the vision of adding some countries gradually developed into the concrete policy intended to enlarge the European Union A special chapter explains the Accession Process as well as the Union s strategy that prepared the candidate countries in legal and economic terms for membership The authors describe in detail the complex negotiations that occurred from 1998 to 2002 These include activities of EU member states as well as the European Commission with respect to the candidate countries They further offer a brief analysis of future possibilities of EU accession by Balkan nations and Turkey A number of topical chapters deal with particular key issues involved in the process free movement of workers agriculture financing of the enlargement transport and nuclear safety Other chapters deal with the enclave of Kaliningrad as well as the Stability and Association Pact for South East Europe In addition to providing key information about the process this volume is also a case study of European policies and diplomatic practice The enlargement negotiations from 1998 to

2002 were the most complex ones the European Union had ever conducted In consequence this work gives insight into the working methods of both the institutions in Brussels and of the representatives of the member states that made them a success It will be of interest to those concerned with European politics international organizations and area studies

Negotiation Theory and the EU Andreas Dür, Gemma Mateo, Daniel C. Thomas, 2013-10-31 Negotiations are central to the ethos and functioning of the European Union yet the dynamics of EU negotiations have received far too little systematic scholarly attention This volume offers a thematic and forward looking survey of cutting edge research on EU negotiation dynamics identifying findings to date and setting an empirical and methodological agenda for future research The chapters by leading international experts address a wide range of critical questions in this area including What factors influence negotiation behaviour and outcomes in the EU How can we explain variation in the choice of negotiation styles When do actors engage in arguing or bargaining What are the determinants of bargaining power What are the institutional foundations of EU negotiations And what role does the presidency play in EU negotiations The volume also discusses how the findings of the multi disciplinary field of negotiation studies can inform research on negotiation dynamics in the EU The volume will be of great interest to established scholars and advanced students of international relations European integration and governance and negotiation analysis This book was based on a special issue of Journal of European Public Policy

Negotiation and Foreign Policy Decision Making Melania-Gabriela Ciot, 2014-06-02 Foreign policy decisions are influenced by many factors The real world is complex and many variables have to be considered when making a decision A psychological approach to decision making facilitates the understanding and explaining of the complexity of foreign and global policies precisely because of the prolonged transitional stage of the contemporary international system The course of world politics is shaped by the decisions of leaders Uncertainty involved in decision making in foreign policy can relate to the motivations beliefs intentions or calculations of the opponents If it is not possible to understand how decisions are made then maybe it is at least feasible to understand these decisions and perhaps more importantly predict various results with regards to international politics This book provides a new perspective on the study of international relations by analyzing the subjective elements idiosyncrasies that occur in decision making at the individual level The use of psychological methods of analysing the foreign policy decision making process proposes a necessary investigation path into international relations

European Union Enlargement Vincent Morelli, 2011-04 Oct 2010 marked the 5th ann y of the EU s decision to proceed with formal negotiations with Turkey toward full membership in the EU It also marked the beginning of the annual period when all three EU institutions the Council Comm n and Parliament provide their assessment of the progress Turkey had made in the accession process over the last year and to issue recommend on how Turkey s accession process should proceed Despite changes taking place in Turkey its EU accession process continued at a relatively slow pace Contents of this report The EU Accession Process Turkey s Initial Path to EU Accession Current Status of Turkey s Accession The Cyprus Dilemma U

S Perspectives Assessment This is a print on demand report Extending European Cooperation Alasdair R. Young, 2002 This is the first study to examine the entire life cycle in the Middle Ages Drawing on a wide range of secondary and primary material the book explores the timing and experiences of infancy childhood adolescence and youth adulthood old age and finally death It discusses attitudes towards ageing rites of passage age stereotypes in operation and the means by which age was used as a form of social control compelling individuals to work govern marry and pay taxes The wide scope of the study allows contrasts and comparisons to be made across gender social status and geographical location It considers whether men and women experienced the ageing process in the same way and examines the differences that can be discerned between northern and southern Europe The fourteenth and fifteenth centuries suffered famine warfare plague and population collapse This fascinating consideration of the life cycle adds a new dimension to the debate over continuity and change in a period of social and demographic upheaval The European Union's External Action in Times of Crisis Piet Eeckhout, Manuel Lopez-Escudero, 2016-12-01 The Lisbon Treaty modified the legal framework of EU external action and these innovations must be applied in a period of deep economic and financial crisis interacting with other more specific crises affecting the EU s external activities This volume investigates the recent institutional and substantive developments in EU external relations law and practice in this context of multiple crises for the EU The economic and financial crisis has a major impact on EU external action but other crises too affect this sensitive area of the EU s activity and the book takes them into account For instance there is a crisis in the relationship between EU law and international law after the ECJ judgement in the Kadi case In addition to exploring these questions the volume also examines questions of legitimacy in fields such as foreign investment protection and arbitration Representing the output of a powerful research team composed of leading scholars in the field this comprehensive collection will appeal to both an expert and non expert readership The European Union's Africa Policies Daniela Sicurelli, 2016-12-05 The European Union EU is a key partner for African regional organizations and a major promoter of economic and political integration in the region Several studies have interpreted the EU s role in Africa as either a self interested hegemonic actor or as a value oriented normative power In this volume Daniela Sicurelli challenges these views by taking a closer look at Europe s policies towards Sub Saharan Africa in the area of peacekeeping trade and development and environmental protection Using fresh empirical evidence including interviews with both European and African officials she argues that the EU is far from becoming a unitary player in Africa Lacking a clear strategy and coherent normative framework the EU should be considered a multi level actor where national and supranational institutions have different interests and push forward contrasting views of what role Europe should play in Africa The ability of single institutions to frame an issue as requiring either intergovernmental or supranational procedures appears crucial for shaping the content of European Africa policies An original contribution to the growing literature on the EU as an international actor this book is extremely useful to scholars researchers and policy makers demanding critical work in the field of EU Africa policy Germany's Role in European Russia Policy Liana Fix, 2021-04-24 This book contributes to the debate about a new German power in Europe with an analysis of Germany's role in European Russia policy. It provides an up-to-date account of Germany's Ostpolitik and how Germany has influenced EU Russia relations since the Eastern enlargement in 2004, partly along, partly against the interests and preferences of new member states. The volume combines a rich empirical analysis of Russia policy with a theory-based perspective on Germany's power and influence in the EU. The findings demonstrate that despite Germany's central role, exercising power within the EU is dependent on legitimacy and acceptance by other member states.

Trading Voices Sophie Meunier, 2005 The European Union, the world's foremost trader, is not an easy bargainer to deal with. Its twenty-five member states have relinquished most of their sovereignty in trade to the supranational level and in international commercial negotiations such as those conducted under the World Trade Organization, the EU speaks with a single voice. This single voice has enabled the Brussels-based institution to impact the distributional outcomes of international trade negotiations and shape the global political economy. Trading Voices is the most comprehensive book about the politics of trade policy in the EU and the role of the EU as a central actor in international commercial negotiations. Sophie Meunier explores how this pooling of trade policy making and external representation affects the EU's bargaining power in international trade talks. Using institutionalist analysis, she argues that its complex institutional procedures and multiple masters have more than once forced its trade partners to give in to an EU speaking with a single voice. Through analysis of four transatlantic commercial negotiations over agriculture, public procurement, and civil aviation, Trading Voices explores the politics of international trade bargaining. It also addresses the salient political question of whether efficiency at negotiating comes at the expense of democratic legitimacy. Finally, this book looks at how the EU, with its recent enlargement and proposed constitution, might become an even more formidable rival to the United States in shaping globalization.

Making EU Foreign Policy Daniel C. Thomas, 2011-05-03 A novel explanation of how EU member states overcome their divergent preferences to reach agreement on common foreign policies, with fourteen in-depth case studies covering diplomatic and security issues, enlargement, trade, development, and environmental protection.

Policy Coherence and EU Development Policy Maurizio Carbone, 2013-09-13 The principle of policy coherence has been the object of a contentious debate in the European Union's external relations, though discussions have been mainly limited to its foreign policy and its ability to speak with one voice in the international arena. Despite being institutionalised in the Treaty of Maastricht, policy coherence for development (PCD), which implies taking into account the needs and interests of developing countries in non-aid policies, failed to make headway in the European Union, remaining the unheeded concern of some NGOs and a small group of Member States. A change of direction occurred in the early 2000s when the European Commission, taking advantage of a number of favourable conditions and using an astute strategy, managed to set an ambitious agenda for the European Union. This volume analyses the linkages between aid and various non-aid policies, namely trade, agriculture, fisheries, security, migration, and the social dimension of globalisation Its aim is to shed new light on the EU s policy making process by looking at the nexus between various policy sub systems and on the role that the EU wants to play in the international arena by looking at the impact of its policies on international development This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of European Integration

(Why) Do Neighbours Cooperate? Ilze Ruse,2012-12-18 Negotiations in the European Union Council of Ministers are not only taking place within formal decision making structures Member states strive to find allies and coordinate their positions prior to formal negotiation meetings They either create ad hoc coalitions to pool voting power or cooperate within more durable institutionalised coalitions that traditionally form due to geographical proximity or among like minded member states as task specific coalitions on particular issues Institutionalised coalitions bestow their members with a bargaining advantage even if they cannot generate enough voting weight to reach voting thresholds

State Strategies in International Bargaining Heather Elko McKibben,2015-01-26 Bargaining between states in the international system is governed by rules which shape and constrain their bargaining behavior However these rules can be changed When why and how do states bargain differently Drawing on original qualitative and quantitative evidence this book demonstrates how the rules of the game influence the cooperative or coercive nature of the strategies adopted by all states in a negotiation These effects influence each state s incentives regarding whether to play by the rules or to change them Examining these incentives as well as the conditions under which states can act on them McKibben explains the wide variation in states bargaining strategies Several bargaining interactions are analyzed including decision making in the European Union multilateral trade negotiations climate change negotiations and negotiations over the future status of Kosovo This book provides a rich understanding of the nuances of states behavior in international bargaining processes
