European convention On Human Rights Text And Materials:

European Human Rights Law Mark W. Janis, Richard S. Kay, Anthony Wilfred Bradley, 1995 Thoroughly revised updated and expanded Covers the widening of the Strasbourg system to include the newly democratic states of Central and Eastern Europe This new edition of a popular text and materials book offers an in depth comparative study of the European Convention on Human Rights a system which has attained tremendous significance both in the domestic jurisdiction of European states particularly in the UK and is the standard by which other regional human rights instruments are judged

Texts and Materials on International Human Rights Rhona K.M. Smith, 2019-11-05 Texts and Materials on International Human Rights offers a carefully tailored overview of the subject that covers sources and theories institutions and structures and substantive rights The fourth edition is fully updated to include all key developments in the law in particular issues around reform in the UN and the topical application of human rights around the world This collection of materials offers a comprehensive overview of the institutional structures relevant to international human rights law crucial to the understanding of how law works in this challenging area Designed to guide students through the fundamental texts for this subject the author's commentary contextualises each extract to explain its relevance while highlighted further reading makes links to cutting edge academic commentary to provide next steps for student research Offering a clear text design that distinguishes between materials and author commentary and including reflective questions throughout to aid understanding this book is ideal for students seeking to engage with the key issues in the study of international human rights

Jacobs, White & Ovey: The European Convention on Human Rights Robin C A White, Clare Ovey, 2010-03-18 The highly experienced and respected authors select the most important case law and give a highly authoritative concise account of the European Convention on Human Rights Focuses on the European Convention itself rather than its implementation in any one member state and so is essential reading for human rights students across Europe Examines each Convention right in turn with a newly revised structure to map even more closely to human rights courses As a lecturer and a practitioner the authors are perfectly placed to provide up to date coverage of Strasbourg case law and explain it in a lively straightforward manner From publisher's website

The Impact of the European Convention on Human Rights on Private International Law Louwrens R. Kiestra, 2014-09-11 In this book the interaction between the rights guaranteed in the European Convention of Human Rights ECHR and private international law has been analysed by examining the case law of the European Court of Human Rights the Court and selected national courts In doing so the book focuses on the impact of the ECHR on the three main issues of private international law jurisdiction applicable law and the recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments Next to a list of cases consulted and a comprehensive bibliography the book offers brief introductions to PIL and the ECHR for readers who are less familiar with either of the topics This makes the book not only a valuable tool for specialists and practitioners in the fields covered but at the same time a well documented basis for students and starting researchers specializing in either or both directions Textbook on International Human Rights Rhona K. M. movement of civil judgments through simplification or abolition of these mechanisms has become a priority for the European legislator. The text uniquely combines a thorough discussion of EU legislation with an in depth and critical examination of its interplay with fundamental rights. It contains an overview and comparison of both ECtHR and CJEU case law on the right to a fair trial and provides a great number of specific recommendations for current and future legislation. With its critical discussion of EU Regulations from both a practical and a theoretical standpoint this book is particularly relevant to legislators and policymakers working in this field. Because of the extensive overview of the functioning of the EU's mechanisms and of relevant case law it provides the book is also highly relevant to academics and practitioners. Monique Hazelhorst is Judicial Assistant at the Supreme Court of the Netherlands. She studied Law and Legal Research at Utrecht University and holds a Ph.D. in Law from the Erasmus School of Law at Erasmus University Rotterdam.

The EU Charter of Fundamental Rights Steve Peers, Tamara Hervey, Jeff Kenner, Angela Ward, 2021-11-18. This most thorough commentary must be regarded as the Bible on the Charter. Peter Oliver, Common Market Law Review. This second edition of the first commentary of the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights in English written by experts from several EU Member States provides an authoritative but succinct statement of how the Charter impacts upon EU domestic and international law. Following the conventional article by article approach each commentator offers an expert view of how each article is either already being interpreted in the courts or is likely to be interpreted. Each commentary is referenced to the case law and is augmented with extensive references to further reading. This is a much welcomed new edition of the authoritative guide to the Charter.

The National versus the Foreigner in South America Diego Acosta, 2018-05-24. Since the turn of the century South American governments and regional organisations have adopted the world's most open discourse on migration and citizenship. At a time when restrictive choices were becoming increasingly predominant around the world South American policymakers presented their discourse as being both an innovative and exceptional new paradigm and part of a morally superior avant garde path in policymaking. This book provides a critical examination of the South American legal framework through a historical and comparative analysis. Diego Acosta uses this analysis to assess whether the laws are truly innovative and exceptional as well as evaluating their feasibility, strengths and weaknesses. By analysing the legal construction of the national and the foreigner in ten South American countries during the last two centuries he demonstrates how different citizenship and migration laws have functioned as well as showing why states have opted for certain regulation choices and the consequence of these choices for state and nation building in the continent. An invaluable insight for anyone interested in global migration and citizenship discussions.

Plausible Crime Stories Orna Alyagon Darr, 2019. This first study of the legal history of sex offences in Mandatory Palestine pioneers a new socio cultural perspective on evidence.

Proving Discriminatory Violence at the European Court of Human Rights Jasmina Mačkić, 2018-07-10. In Proving Discriminatory Violence at the European Court of Human Rights Jasmina Mačkić unveils the evidentiary issues faced by the European Court of Human Rights when dealing with cases of discriminatory violence In that context she evaluates the Court's application of the standard of proof beyond reasonable doubt and aims to answer the question whether that standard forms an obstacle in establishing the occurrence of discriminatory violence In addition she offers an assessment into the circumstances in which the burden of proof may shift from the applicant to the respondent state The author also looks at the types of evidentiary materials that may be used by the Court in order to establish discriminatory violence
