Eva Trout Or Changing Scenes Elizabeth Bowen, 1979

Eva Trout Elizabeth Bowen, 1999 Eva Trout has a capacity for making trouble attracting trouble and for spreading trouble around her This book was the author's last completed novel first published in 1968 Elizabeth Bowen and the Writing of Trauma Jessica Gildersleeve, 2014-02-15 Elizabeth Bowen and the Writing of Trauma analyses the treatment of memory and the past in Bowen's writing through the lens of trauma theory It draws on the theories of Jacques Derrida Hélène Cixous Julia Kristeva Sigmund Freud and Cathy N. Davidson to propose that Bowen's work is best understood through the psychological narratological and linguistic effects of trauma in her fiction Bowen's writing complicates existing deconstructive and psychoanalytic models of trauma and literature and testifies to the responsibility of survival and the ethics of bearing witness

Irish Modernism Edwina Keown, Carol Taffe, 2010 An examination of the emergence reception and legacy of modernism in Ireland Engaging with the ongoing re-evaluation of regional and national modernisms the essays collected here reveal both the importance of modernism to Ireland and that of Ireland to modernism This collection introduces fresh perspectives on modern Irish culture that reflect new understandings of the contradictory and contested nature of modernism itself A World of Lost Innocence Nicola Darwood, 2012-04-25 Elizabeth Bowen was a prolific writer her publishing career spanned five decades and during this time she wrote ten novels over one hundred short stories and countless reviews and journal articles While earlier novels are now acknowledged as Modernist texts her later novels can be read through the lens of postmodernism they can be considered variously as romantic fiction marriage novels war time spy thrillers and psychological drama but throughout her novels she consistently questioned notions of identity sexuality and the loss of innocence A World of Lost Innocence: The Fiction of Elizabeth Bowen offers a reading of Elizabeth Bowen's fiction which focuses specifically on this loss foregrounding the psychological conflicts experienced by her protagonists It examines the subject not only across the range of her fiction but also in relation to her unfolding narrative structures through a chronologically based discussion of her novels and selected short stories interwoven with biographical information and drawing on unpublished letters This book investigates the dominant kinds of innocence that Bowen represents throughout her fiction the innocence attributed to childhood sexual innocence and sexual morality and political innocence and argues that the transition from innocence to experience plays an important role in the epistemological journey faced both by Bowen's characters and her readers

Elizabeth Bowen Neil Corcoran, 2004-09-16 Explores how Bowen adapts Irish Protestant Gothic as a means of interpreting Irish experience during the Troubles of the 1920s and the Second World War and also as a way of defining the defenselessness of those enduring the Blitz in wartime London She employs versions of the Jamesian child as a way of offering a critique of the treatment of children in the European novel of adultery and indeed implicitly of the Jamesian child itself Corcoran relates the various kinds of return and reflex in her work notably the presence of the supernatural but also Aviation in the Literature and Culture of Interwar Britain Michael McCluskey, Luke Seaber, 2020-12-01. Aviation in the Literature and Culture of Interwar Britain looks at the impact of aviation in Britain and beyond through the 1920s and 1930s. This book considers how in this period flying went from a weapon of war to an extensive industry that included civilian air travel, air mail delivery, flying shows and campaigns to create air-mindedness. Essays look at these developments through the work of writers, filmmakers and flyers and examines the air-minded modernism that marked this radical period. Its fourteen chapters include studies of texts by Virginia Woolf, George Orwell, Elizabeth Bowen, W. H. Auden, T. H. White and John Masefield, accounts of the annual RAF Display at Hendon and the Schneider Trophy and the achievements of celebrity flyers such as Amy Johnson. This collection provides a fresh perspective on the interwar period by bringing analysis of aviation and air-mindedness to the study of British literature, history, modernism, mobilities and the history of technology and transportation.

The Turning Point Robert Douglas-Fairhurst, 2022-03-01. A major new biography that takes an unusual and illuminating approach to the great writer, immersing us in one year of his life from the award-winning author of Becoming Dickens and The Story of Alice. The year is 1851. It's a time of radical change in Britain when industrial miracles and artistic innovations rub shoulders with political unrest, poverty and disease. It is also a turbulent year in the private life of Charles Dickens as he copes with a double bereavement and early signs that his marriage is falling apart. But this formative year will become perhaps the greatest turning point in Dickens's career as he embraces his calling as a chronicler of ordinary people's lives and develops a new form of writing that will reveal just how interconnected the world is becoming. The Turning Point transports us into the foggy streets of Dickens's London, closely following the twists and turns of a year that would come to define him and forever alter Britain's relationship with the world. Fully illustrated and brimming with fascinating details about the larger than life man who wrote Bleak House, this is the closest look yet at one of the greatest literary personalities ever to have lived. Lesbian Panic Patricia Juliana Smith, 1997. For Smith, lesbian panic is often a fear of losing one's identity and value within the heterosexual paradigm. This book traces the history of lesbian panic through key works. The
