Iron Spur:

Iron Spur Jack Jones, 2002-04-18 Jacob Tackman returns home to the large Iron Spur ranch from college to find nothing has changed Willie the redheaded and fiery daughter of the foreman still puts him down as a weakling His father orders him to accompany her on a mission where he must prove himself or lose his inheritance the large ranch to Willie Killers rapists and thieves present insurmountable odds against his success Prestate Societies of the North Central European Plains Ludomir R Lozny, 2013-04-16 This volume offers a new perspective on social dynamics and culture change in the North Central European Plains NCEP from 600 to 900 CE It discusses long term causal processes leading to the formation of state at the fringes of the Merovingian and Frankish Kingdoms the Carolingian and the Holy Roman Empire the Scandinavian Kingdoms the Czech Kingdom and the Kingdom of Rus The central problem addressed is how to account for and explain the transition from noncomplex to supra tribal polities between 600 and 900 CE The examined evidence shows that a very basic community level management of common pool resources seems a successful strategy to manage short term risk and may lead to sustainable higher level political organization In conclusion it presents a model of social dynamics of the NCEP 600 900 CE that suggests that the state formation process was an outcome of spontaneous processes and deterministic factors occurring within a period of approximately 400 years of which the last two hundred years 800 900 CE were the most critical In a broader context the point discussed is that decisions with short term goals have long term consequences The Electrical Engineer, 1901 Machinery's Reference Series, 1910 Bulletin of the British Cast Iron Research Association British Cast Iron Research Association, 1928 English Patents of Inventions, Specifications, 1873

Ancient Armour and Weapons in Europe: from the Iron Period of the Northern Nations to the End of the Thirteenth Century John Hewitt, 1855 The Archaeological Journal, 1847 Wigmore Castle, North Herefordshire Stephanie Ratkai, 2017-12-02 Excavations at Wigmore Castle were carried out in 1996 and 1998 as a precursor to repair and consolidation of the castle by English Heritage The castle had remained the honorial caput of the Mortimer family from the late 11th century through to 1425 an unusually long tenure amongst Marcher lordships The Mortimer family became increasingly important players in the history of England Thereafter the Mortimer inheritance passed to the Dukes of York and from there to the Crown Evidence of the earliest castle was found during the excavations including part of a substantial 12th century timber building part of which had been used as a kitchen Here remains of a sequence of hearths cooking pots and food remains were found The construction of defences in stone probably began in the 12th century The effect of conflict on the castle was indicated by the presence of ballista balls arrowheads a possible crannequin and fragments of plate armour A possible period of neglect occurred in the later 14th century but by the 15th century the castle was the scene of renewed activity including the rebuilding of the curtain wall Dietary evidence and some of the artefacts indicate that there was high status occupation in which hunting played an important role that continued throughout the 15th century By the 16th century the castle fabric was beginning to fall into disrepair and evidence of repairs and modifications were noted Nevertheless high status occupation continued and the castle remained to play an important role as a secondary seat of the Council of the Marches However by the early 17th century decline at the castle appears to have been terminal The castle was now owned by the Harley family and it is they who are credited with the pre emptive slighting of the castle during the Civil War The slighting is not evident in the excavated areas and the area in and around the East Tower appears to have been derelict well before the mid 17th century Pottery clay pipe and other artefacts which can definitely be ascribed to the Civil War are few An oxshoe found in the latest deposits may well be associated with the removal of fallen stone for building elsewhere Thereafter the castle appears to have been little visited and almost total ruination had set in by the early 18th century In 1995 the castle was taken into English Heritage Guardianship and has been consolidated and restored as a romantic ruin Beeston Castle, Cheshire Peter Ellis,2013-01-15 These excavations the first archaeological examination of the medieval fortress of Beeston Castle showed conclusively that the site has been used since prehistory Divided into two parts the report first describes the site s occupation from the Mesolithic period to the thirteenth century Discussions of the Late Bronze Age metalworking and pre Iron Age crop processing are supplemented by detailed descriptions of the flint pottery and jewellery The construction of the medieval castle in the fourteenth century opens the second part of the report with a discussion of the historical and documentary background and the architectural evidence supplemented with extensive discussions of the coins pottery and glass From the mid fourteenth century the castle fell into disuse and was negelected until the Civil War when it changed hands twice between the Royalists and Parliamentarians The subsequent demolition of the castle sealed a large group of Civil War finds among them fragments of a jack of plate armour a collection of spurs and a major group of clay pipes Later in the seventeenth century the Outer Gateway was reoccupied for a short period Many traces were recorded of the nineteenth century fair held annually on the hilltop Gudme Palle Østergaard Sørensen,2022-09-15 Gudme The Iron Age Settlement and Central Halls presents describes and interprets the many finds and structures that have been comprised during the extended excavations at the central parts of the Gudme locality on southeast Funen Denmark Head of excavation Palle stergaard S rensen extracts combines classifies dates and temporalizes the many finds and houses from the excavations Gudmehallerne Gudme III Gudme IV Since the 19th century the Gudme area has been known as one of the richest prehistoric localities in Scandinavia and more than 1 000 roman coins close to 600 fibulas as well as several small mask and animal figurines form part of the Gudme find assemblage From AD 200 to AD 600 the site expanded rapidly and covered as much as one square kilometer comprising up to 50 farmsteads At the individual farms specialized craftsmanship can be found and the debris and tools of gold and silversmiths as well as bronze casting is abundant here bronze fragments often from statues imported from the Roman Empire form a distinct category of finds bearing witness to a flourishing and innovative world of craftsmanship as well as an extensive trade network During this period the unique and monumental halls with the largest being 47 m long and 10 m wide dominated the hilltops east of Gudme lake Just to the south a smaller building accompanied the large hall and had been purposely demolished and rebuilt several times at the exact same spot The unusually large entrances to the two adjoined buildings lead straight from one to the other thus witnessing a duality of buildings that came to define the aristocratic localities throughout Scandinavia in the following 800 years Hence Gudme represents a starting point for a significant type of architectural ideal as well as a first generation of central places Gold and Gilt, Pots and Pins

David Alban Hinton,2006 In this highly illustrated book David Hinton looks at what possessions meant to people at every level of society in Britain in the middle ages from elaborate gold jewellery to clay pots and provides a fascinating window into the society of the middle ages Gold and Gilt Pots and Pins is about things worn and used in Britain throughout the Middle Ages from the great treasure hoards that mark the end of the Roman Empire to the new expressions of ideas promoted by the Renaissance and Reformation A companion to the Liverpool museum William Bullock (F.L.S.),1809 The Iron Age
