Power and the Pursuit of Peace: Theory and Practice in the History of Relations Between States F. H. Hinsley, Francis Harry Hinsley, 1967-10. In the last years of the nineteenth century peace proposals were first stimulated by fear of the danger of war rather than in consequence of its outbreak. In this study of the nature and history of international relations Mr Hinsley presents his conclusions about the causes of war and the development of men's efforts to avoid it. In the first part he examines international theories from the end of the middle ages to the establishment of the League of Nations in their historical setting. This enables him to show how far modern peace proposals are merely copies or elaborations of earlier schemes. He believes there has been a marked reluctance to test these theories not only against the formidable criticisms of men like Rousseau, Kant and Bentham but also against what we have learned about the nature of international relations and the history of the practice of states. This leads him to the second part of his study, an analysis of the origins of the modern states system and of its evolution between the eighteenth century and the First World War.

Watching the Detectives Ian F. A. Bell, Graham Daldry, 1990-06-18. In this collection of essays a number of critics offer commentary on the crime fiction genre, exploring the kinds of pleasure it offers. Looking under the attractive surface of these books, the contributors discover a number of complex issues.

Perplexing Plots David Bordwell, 2023-01-17. Nominated 2024 Edgar Allan Poe Award in the category of best critical biographical. Mystery Writers of America Shortlisted 2024 Agatha Awards Best Mystery Nonfiction. Malice Domestic Posthumous Winner 2023 IFCA Book Prize. International Crime Fiction Association. Narrative innovation is typically seen as the domain of the avant garde. However, techniques such as nonlinear timelines, multiple points of view, and unreliable narration have long been part of American popular culture. How did forms and styles once regarded as difficult become familiar to audiences? In Perplexing Plots, David Bordwell reveals how crime fiction plays and films made unconventional narrative mainstream. He shows that since the nineteenth century detective stories and suspense thrillers have allowed ambitious storytellers to experiment with narrative. Tales of crime and mystery became a training ground where audiences learned to appreciate artifice. These genres demand a sophisticated awareness of storytelling conventions; they play games with narrative form and toy with audience expectations. Bordwell examines how writers and directors have pushed, pulled, and collaborated with their audiences to change popular storytelling. He explores the plot engineering of figures such as Raymond Chandler, Agatha Christie, Dashiell Hammett, Patricia Highsmith, Alfred Hitchcock, Dorothy Sayers, and Quentin Tarantino, and traces how mainstream storytellers and modernist experimenters influenced one another's work. A sweeping kaleidoscopic account written in a lively conversational style, Perplexing Plots offers an ambitious new understanding of how movies, literature, theater, and popular culture have evolved over the past century.
