Developmental Science Anthony S. Dick, Ulrich Müller, 2017-07-06 Advancing Developmental Science reviews the state of the science in theoretical methodological and topical research with a unique focus on the scholarship that developed within a process relational framework Making the Work-Based Safety Net Work Better Carolyn J. Heinrich, Joh Karl Scholz, 2009-06-02 Work first That is the core idea behind the 1996 welfare reform legislation It sounds appealing but according to Making the Work Based Safety Net Work Better it collides with an exceptionally difficult reality The degree to which work provides a way out of poverty depends greatly on the ability of low skilled people to maintain stable employment and make progress toward an income that provides an adequate standard of living This forward looking volume examines eight areas of the safety net where families are falling through and describes how current policies and institutions could evolve to enhance the self sufficiency of low income families David Neumark analyzes a range of labor market policies and finds overwhelming evidence that the minimum wage is ineffective in promoting self sufficiency Neumark suggests the Earned Income Tax Credit is a much more promising policy to boost employment among single mothers and family incomes Greg Duncan Lisa Gennetian and Pamela Morris find no evidence that encouraging parents to work leads to better parenting improved psychological health or more positive role models for children Instead the connection between parental work and child achievement is linked to parents improved access to quality child care Rebecca Blank and Brian Kovak document an alarming increase in the number of single mothers who receive neither wages nor public assistance and who are significantly more likely to suffer from medical problems of their own or of a child Time caps and work hour requirements embedded in benefits policies leave some mothers unable to work and ineligible for cash benefits Marcia Meyers and Janet Gornick identify another gap low income families tend to lose financial support and health coverage long before they earn enough to access employer based benefits and tax provisions They propose building institutional bridges that minimize discontinuities associated with changes in employment earnings or family structure Steven Raphael addresses a particularly troubling weakness of the work based safety net its inadequate provision for the large number of individuals who are or were incarcerated in the United States He offers tractable suggestions for policy changes that could ease their transition back into non institutionalized society and the labor market Making the Work Based Safety Net Work Better shows that the work first approach alone isn t working and suggests specific ways the social welfare system might be modified to produce greater gains for vulnerable families Life-span Developmental Psychology E. Mark Cummings, Anita L. Greene, Katherine H.

Karraker, 2014-01-02 Although there has been a significant increase in studies of stress and coping processes in recent years

researchers have often approached these topics from rather narrow and constrained perspectives Furthermore little communication has occurred across disciplines and research directions resulting in the emergence of several relatively isolated literatures An outgrowth of the Eleventh Biennial West Virginia University Conference on Life Span Development this volume emphasizes two major themes the importance of taking a life span approach to the study of stress and coping and the development of new and more complete conceptual models of stress and coping processes The first to approach these subjects from a life span perspective this book includes papers by distinguished researchers from each of the major periods of the life span and brings together the cognitive and socioemotional traditions in the study of dealing with pressures The editors hope that this facilitation of communication among researchers with diverse views will help create a broadening and integration of perspectives

Migration and Urbanization in the Ruhr Valley James Harvey Jackson,1997 This book analyzes the human consequences of urbanization and geographical mobility for residents of a major city in the Ruhr Valley of Germany during the century long transition from an agrarian order to the industrial era By utilizing an unprecedented combination of demographic records it reshapes the conventional understanding of central European migration

Healing the Infertile Family Gay Becker,2023-11-15 Unlike most infertility books that focus on medical treatment Healing the Infertile Family examines the social and emotional problems experienced by couples confronting infertility and suggests how they can be alleviated In this updated edition Gay Becker discusses her most recent study of couples experiencing infertility and offers guidelines for resolution of this common problem that will enable couples to face the future with hope This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1990

Midlife Myths and Realities William Van Hoose,1985-04 The middle years in life are often associated with disturbing terms such as midlife crisis and middle aged crazy But these catchy terms are only misleading myths Dr Van Hoose claims citing research and case histories to support this positive look at midlife Midlife is a time filled with opportunity for personal fulfillment Most midlife age people are more independent and financially secure than they have ever been before Midlife adults are reaching the peak of productivity and they occupy most of the positions of power and influence in our society This common sense and upbeat look at midlife should dispel the fears so many people share as they approach middle age

The Oxford Handbook of Emotion, Social Cognition, and Problem Solving in Adulthood Paul

Verhaeghen,Christopher Hertzog,2016-03-09 Over the last decade the field of socio emotional development and aging has rapidly expanded with many new theories and empirical findings emerging This trend is consistent with the broader movement in psychology to consider social motivational and emotional influences on cognition and behavior The Oxford Handbook of Emotion Social Cognition and Problem Solving in Adulthood provides the first overview of a new field of adult development that has emerged out of conceptualizations and research at the intersections between socioemotional development social cognition emotion coping and everyday problem solving This field roundly rejects a universal deficit model of aging highlighting instead the dynamic nature of socio emotional development and the differentiation of individual trajectories of development as a function of variation in contextual and experiential influences It emphasizes the need for a cross level examination from biology and neuroscience to cognitive and social psychology of the determinants of emotional and socio emotional behavior This volume also serves as a tribute to the late Fredda Blanchard Fields whose thinking and empirical research contributed extensively to a life span developmental view of emotion problem solving and social cognition Its chapters cover multiple aspects of adulthood and aging presenting developmental perspectives on emotion antecedents and consequences of emotion in context everyday problem solving social cognition goals and goal related behaviors and wisdom The landmark volume in this new field The Oxford Handbook of Emotion Social Cognition and Problem Solving in Adulthood is an important resource for cognitive developmental and social psychologists as well as researchers and graduate students in the field of aging emotion studies and social psychology     The 5-year Outlook on Science and Technology ,1981
