Lawrence Halprin Kenneth I. Helphand, 2017-01-01 During a career spanning six decades Lawrence Halprin 1916 2009 became one of the most prolific and outspoken landscape architects of his generation He took on challenging new project types developing a multidisciplinary practice while experimenting with adaptive reuse and ecological designs for new shopping malls freeways and urban parks In his lifelong effort to improve the American landscape Halprin celebrated the creative process as a form of social activism A native New Yorker Halprin earned degrees from Cornell and the University of Wisconsin before completing his design degree at Harvard In 1945 he joined Thomas Church's firm where he collaborated on the iconic Donnell Garden He opened his own San Francisco office in 1949 where he initially focused on residential commissions in the Bay Area completing close to three hundred in ten years time By the 1960s the firm had gained recognition for significant urban renewal projects such as Ghirardelli Square in San Francisco 1962 68 Nicollet Mall in Minneapolis 1962 67 and Freeway Park in Seattle 1970 74 Halprin used his conception of a Sierra stream as the catalyst for the Portland Open Space Sequence a series of parks featuring great fountains that linked housing and civic space in the inner city A charismatic speaker and passionate artist Halprin designed landscapes that reflected the democratic and participatory ethic characteristic of his era He communicated his ideas as well in lectures books exhibits and performances Along with his contemporary Ian McHarg Halprin was his generation's great proselytizer for landscape architecture as environmental design Throughout his long career he strived to develop poetic and symbolic landscapes that in his words could articulate a culture's most spiritual values City Choreographer Alison Bick Hirsch, 2014-04-15 One of the most prolific and influential landscape architects of the twentieth century Lawrence Halprin 1916 2009 was best known for the FDR Memorial in Washington D C and Sea Ranch the iconic planned community in California These projects as well as vibrant public spaces throughout the country from Ghirardelli Square and Market Street in San Francisco to Lovejoy Fountain Park in Portland and Nicollet Mall in Minneapolis grew out of a participatory design process that was central to Halprin's work and is proving ever more relevant to urban design today In City Choreographer urban designer and historian Alison Bick Hirsch explains and interprets this creative process called the RSVP Cycles referring to the four components resources score valuation and performance With access to a vast archive of drawings and documents Hirsch provides the first close up look at how Halprin changed our ideas about urban landscapes As an urban pioneer he found his frontier in the nation's densely settled metropolitan areas during the 1960s Blurring the line between observer and participant he sought a way to bring openness to the rigidly controlled worlds of architectural modernism and urban renewal With his wife Anna a renowned avant garde dancer and choreographer Halprin organized workshops involving artists dancers and interested citizens that produced scores which then informed his designs City Choreographer situates Halprin within the larger social artistic and environmental ferment of the 1960s and 1970s In doing so it demonstrates his profound impact on the shape of landscape architecture and his work's widening reach into urban and regional development and contemporary concerns of sustainability
