Laws And Trials That Created History:

The Tokyo Tribunal: Perspectives on Law, History and Memory Marina Aksenova, Diane Marie Amann, David Cohen, Robert Cribb, David M. Crowe, Donald M. Ferencz, Narrelle Morris, Diane Orentlicher, Kuniko Ozaki, Christoph Safferling, Franziska Seraphim, Gerry Simpson, Kayoko Takeda, Yuma Totani, Beatrice Trefalt, Sandra Wilson, 2020-10-27 The International Military Tribunal for the Far East IMTFE held in Tokyo from May 1946 to November 1948 was a landmark event in the development of modern international criminal law The trial in Tokyo was a complex undertaking and international effort to hold individuals accountable for core international crimes and delivering justice The Tribunal consisted of 11 judges and respective national prosecution teams from 11 countries and a mixed Japanese American team of defence lawyers The IMTFE indicted 28 Japanese defendants amongst them former prime ministers cabinet ministers military leaders and diplomats based on a 55 count indictment pertaining to crimes against peace war crimes and crimes against humanity The judgment was not unanimous with one majority judgment two concurring opinions and three dissenting opinions The trial and the outcome were the subject of significant controversy and the Tribunal's files were subsequently shelved in the archives While its counterpart in Europe the International Military Tribunal IMT at Nuremberg has been at the centre of public and scholarly interest the Tokyo Tribunal has more recently gained international scholarly attention This volume combines perspectives from law history and the social sciences to discuss the legal historical political and cultural significance of the Tokyo Tribunal The collection is based on an international conference marking the 70th anniversary of the judgment of the IMTFE which was held in Nuremberg in 2018 The volume features reflections by eminent scholars and experts on the establishment and functioning of the Tribunal procedural and substantive issues as well as receptions and repercussions of the trial

Law, History, and Justice Annette Weinke, 2018-12-17 Since the nineteenth century the development of international humanitarian law has been marked by complex entanglements of legal theory historical trauma criminal prosecution historiography and politics All of these factors have played a role in changing views on the applicability of international law and human rights ideas to state organized violence which in turn have been largely driven by transnational responses to German state crimes Here Annette Weinke gives a groundbreaking long term history of the political legal and academic debates concerning German state and mass violence in the First World War during the National Socialist era and the Holocaust and under the GDR

A Brief History of

International Criminal Law and International Criminal Court Cenap Çakmak, 2017-05-29 This book offers a historical presentation of how international criminal law has evolved from a national setting to embodying a truly international outlook As a growing part of international law this is an area that has attracted growing attention as a result of the mass atrocities and heinous crimes committed in different parts of the world Çakmak pays particular attention to how the first permanent international criminal court was created and goes on to show how solutions developed to address international crimes have remained inadequate and failed to restore justice Calling for a truly global approach as the only real solution to dealing with the most severe international crimes this text will be of great interest to scholars of criminal justice political science and international relations

A Dialogue Between Law and History Baosheng Zhang, Thomas Yunlong Man, Jing Lin, 2020-12-14 This book builds on the success of the First International Conference on Facts and Evidence A Dialogue between Law and Philosophy Shanghai China May 2016 which was co hosted by the Collaborative Innovation Center of Judicial Civilization CICJC and East China Normal University The Second International Conference on Facts and Evidence A Dialogue between Law and History was jointly organized by the CICJC the Institute of Evidence Law and Forensic Science ELFS at China University of Political Science and Law CUPL and Peking University School of Transnational Law STL in Shenzhen China on November 16 17 2019 Historians legal scholars and legal practitioners share the same interest in ascertaining the truth in their respective professional endeavors It is generally recognized that any historical study without truthful narration of historical events is fiction and that any judicial trial without accurate fact finding is a miscarriage of justice In both historical research and the judicial process practitioners are invariably called upon before making any arguments to prove the underlying facts using evidence regardless of how the concept is defined or employed in different academic or practical contexts Thus historians and legal professionals have respectively developed theories and methodological tools to inform and explain the process of gathering evidentiary proof When lawyers and judges reconsider the facts of cases questions of law are actually a subset of questions of fact and thus the legal interpretation process also involves questions of historical fact The book brings together more than twenty leading history and legal scholars from around the world to explore a range of issues concerning the role of facts as evidence in both disciplines As such the book is of enduring value to historians legal scholars and everyone interested in truth seeking

An Introduction to International Criminal Law and Procedure Robert Cryer, Håkan Friman, Darryl Robinson, Elizabeth Wilmschurst, 2007-06-14 International criminal law has developed considerably in the last decade and a half resulting in a complex and re invigorated discipline This has impacted directly on the popularity of the study of the subject particularly on postgraduate law degrees This textbook serves these courses by providing an introduction to the principles of international criminal law and processes Written by four international lawyers with experience of teaching international criminal law it is accessible yet sophisticated in its approach It covers substantive international criminal law the institutions designed to enforce it and their procedures and the international law applicable to domestic prosecutions of international crimes It will be essential reading for students and teachers of international criminal law In addition practitioners and researchers in the field and in related fields such as criminal law students of international law and international relations will find this introduction invaluable The New Histories of International Criminal Law Immi Tallgren, Thomas Skouteris, 2019-03-21 The language of international criminal law has considerable traction in global politics and much of its legitimacy is embedded in apparently axiomatic historical truths This innovative edited collection brings together some of the world's leading international lawyers with a very clear mandate in mind to re-evaluate the dominant historiographical tradition in the field of international criminal law Carefully curated and with contributions by leading scholars The New Histories of International Criminal Law pursues three research objectives to bring to the fore the structure and function of contemporary histories of international criminal law to take issue with the consequences of these histories and to call for their demystification The essays discern several registers on which the received historiographical tradition must be retried tropology inclusions exclusions gender race representations of the victim and the perpetrator history and memory ideology and master narratives international criminal law and hegemonic theories and more This book intervenes critically in the fields of international criminal law and international legal history by bringing in new voices and fresh approaches Taken as a whole it provides a rich account of the dilemmas conundrums and possibilities entailed in writing histories of international criminal law beyond against or in the shadow of the master narrative Reeves' History of the English Law: From the reign of Edward IV to the reign of Elizabeth John Reeves, William Francis Finlason, 1869 The Documentary History of the Supreme Court of the United States, 1789-1800 Maeva Marcus, 1992 Volume 4 assembles a selection of documents illustrating the statutory development of the federal judiciary from 1789-1800 Beginning with a narrative essay on the background of Article III of the Constitution the volume tracks from the First through the Sixth Congresses all the major and minor legislation relevant to the establishment of the American judicial system As the decade unfolded experience revealed problems with the system as it was initially structured and efforts were made to change it Dissatisfaction with circuit riding with the method of juror selection and with judges undertaking duties not strictly judicial for example led to various legislative attempts at reform A Catalogue of the Collection of Birds Formed by the Late Hugh

Edwin Strickland Osbert Salvin, Hugh Edwin Strickland, 1882 History and International Law Annalisa Ciampi, 2019 This incisive book unveils and illuminates the relationship between international law and history providing examples from a wide range of domains of global governance With particular reference to international human rights humanitarian and criminal law leading scholars and practitioners in international law history and diplomacy offer original analysis and innovative paradigms of cross interdisciplinary research in the field Memory and History Joan Tumblety, 2013-07-15 How does the historian approach memory and how do historians use different sources to analyze how history and memory interact and impact on each other Memory and History explores the different aspects of the study of this field Taking examples from Europe Australia the USA and Japan and treating periods beyond living memory as well as the recent past the volume highlights the contours of the current vogue for memory among historians while demonstrating the diversity and imagination of the field Each chapter looks at a set of key historical and historiographical questions through research based case studies How does engaging with memory as either source or subject help to illuminate the past What are the theoretical ethical and or methodological challenges that are encountered by historians engaging with memory in this way and how might they be managed How can the reading of a particular set of sources illuminate both of these questions The chapters cover a diverse range of approaches and subjects including oral history memorialization and commemoration visual cultures and photography autobiographical fiction material culture ethnic relations the individual and collective memories of war veterans The chapters collectively address a wide range of primary source material beyond oral testimony photography monuments memoir and autobiographical writing fiction art and woodcuttings everyday and exotic cultural artefacts journalism political polemic the law and witness testimony This book will be essential reading for students of history and memory providing an accessible guide to the historical study of memory through a focus on varied source materials
