Imitations Of Life:

Imitations of Life Marcia Landy, 1991 On melodrama Imitations of Life Louise McReynolds, Joan Neuberger, 2002-03-29 Uses the under studied genre of melodrama as a critical prism for understanding Russian Soviet history politics and culture in particular the uses to which popular culture was put in the Soviet period Imitations of Life Abe C. Ravitz, 2009-03-10 In the early 1920s Fannie Hurst's enormous popularity made her the highest paid writer in America She conquered the literary scene at the same time the silent movie industry began to emerge as a tremendously profitable and popular form of entertainment Abe C Ravitz parallels Hurst's growing acclaim with the evolution of silent films from which she borrowed ideas and techniques that furthered her career Ravitz notes that Hurst was amazingly adept at anticipating what the public wanted Sensing that the national interest was shifting from rural to urban subjects Hurst set her immigrant tales and her working girl tales in urban America In her early stories she tried to bridge the gap between Old World and New World citizens each somewhat fearful and suspicious of the other She wrote of love and ethnicity bringing the Jewish Mother to prominence of race relations and prejudice of the woman alone in her quest for selfhood Ravitz argues in fact that her socially oriented tales and her portraits of women in the city clearly identify her as a forerunner of contemporary feminism Ravitz brings to life the popular culture from 1910 through the 1920s tracing the meteoric rise of Hurst and depicting the colorful cast of characters surrounding her He reproduces for the first time the Hurst correspondence with Theodore Dreiser Charles and Kathleen Norris and Gertrude Atherton Fellow writers Rex Beach and Vachel Lindsay also play important roles in Ravitz's portrait of Hurst as does Zora Neale Hurston who awakened Hurst's interest in the Harlem Renaissance and in race relations as shown in Hurst's novel Imitation of Life Imitation of Life Douglas Sirk, 1991 Douglas Sirk Claus Detler Sierck was born in Hamburg Germany in 1900 He made nine films before fleeing Nazi Germany eventually coming to America His best known films made during the 1950s all of them melodramas were Magnificent Obsession All That Heaven Allows The Tarnished Angels Written on the Wind and Imitation of Life made in 1958 released in 1959 This volume includes the complete continuity script of the film critical commentary and published reviews interviews with the director and a filmography and bibliography It also includes an excellent introduction by Lucy Fischer Imitation of Life Fannie Hurst, 2004-12-07 A reprint of the 1933 classic novel the basis for two film versions with a new introduction Motherhood in Black and White Ruth Feldstein, 2000 The women have a big part to play citizenship motherhood and race in New Deal liberalism Racism as an American psychology masculinity and maternal failure in the 1940s Politics in an age of anxiety Cold War liberalism and dangers to Americans I wanted the whole world to see constructions of motherhood in the death of Emmett Till Imitation reconsidered consuming images in the late 1950s Pathologies and mystiques revising motherhood and liberalism in the 1960s Mortal Imitations of Divine Life Eli Diamond, 2015-05-31 In Mortal Imitations of Divine Life Diamond offers an interpretation of De Anima which explains how and why Aristotle places souls in a hierarchy of value Aristotle's central intention in De Anima is to discover the nature and essence of soul the principle of living beings He does so by identifying the common structures underlying every living activity whether it be eating perceiving thinking or moving through space As Diamond demonstrates through close readings of De Anima the nature of the soul is most clearly seen in its divine life while the embodied soul's other activities are progressively clear approximations of this principle This interpretation shows how Aristotle's psychology and biology cannot be properly understood apart from his theological conception of God as life and offers a new explanation of De Anima's unity of purpose and structure

Aristotle: New Light on His Life and On Some of His Lost Works, Volume 2 Anton-Hermann Chroust, 2015-08-14 Originally published in 1973 Aristotle's early works probably belong to the formative era of his philosophic thought and as such contribute vitally to the understanding and evaluation of the development of his philosophy This book shows that the philosophy propagated in these lost works indicates an undeniable Platonism and thus seems to conflict with the basic doctrines in the traditional treatises collected in the Corpus Aristotelicum Was the author of the lost early works and the later preserved treatises one and the same person or were some of these treatises written by members of the Early Peripatus This the second of two volumes discusses in detail certain decisive aspects of Aristotle's early works Fascinating hypotheses and conjectures put forward here provoke discussion and further investigation in the Aristotelian Problem
